381. Les officiers et les soldats qui rencontrent un drapeau porté dans sa gaine, doivent toujours le saluer.

382. Les drapeaux d'infanterie sont en soie, de 3 pieds et 9 pouces de battant, de 3 pieds de haut à la hampe y compris la frange, qui est d'environ deux pouces de largeur. La longueur de la hampe, y compris la couronne royale est de 8 pieds 7½ pouces ; les cordonnets et les glands sont rouges mélangés d'or. L'insigne du Roi, dans chaque régiment, est le Grand Union, portant dans un cercle rouge au centre le numéro et les distinctions du régiment, le tout surmonté de la couronne impériale. Les couleurs régimentaires sont les mêmes que les couleurs des parements du régiment, excepté dans les régiments où les parements sont blancs, dans lesquels la deuxième couleur est la croix rouge de Saint-Georges sur fond blanc, avec la désignation ou tout autre titre indiqué dans la couleur première ou royale, à l'intérieur d'une guirlande de feuilles d'érables, avec la couronne impériale. Le drapeau du régiment doit porter les insignes, les devises, les distinctions, ou les emblèmes qui lui ont été accordés par l'autorité constituée.

383. Les fanions des camps sont de 18 pouces carrés, les hampes de 7 pieds 6 pouces. Le fanion employé pour les saluts est un fanion ordinaire de camp, coupé d'une croix bleue.

384. Les sergents de couleurs sont chargés du service des drapeaux en campagne, mais cette distinction ne doit en rien intervenir avec leur service ordinaire au régiment ou dans les compagnies.

385. Les officiers commandants ne confient cette distinction honorifique qu'à des sergents de valeur et de bonne conduite éprouvées, qui se sont ainsi rendus dignes d'une telle faveur.

386. Le drapeau régimentaire ou second drapeau des Gardes à pied du Gouverneur général est bleu, avec le drapeau national dans le champ de dextre ; il porte une étoile à six branches, l'extrémité de chaque branche ayant l'initiale d'une ou de plusieurs provinces du Dominion, avec le chiffre royal au centre, entouré de la guirlande de l'Union ; le titre du régiment au-dessous sur une banderole, surmontée d'un castor et d'une guirlande de feuilles d'érables, avec la devise :—“ Civitas et princeps cura nostra ”.

387. Les drapeaux d'infanterie, en règle générale, sont portés par deux lieutenants choisis parmi les moins anciens.

GARDES ET SENTINELLES.

388. Les honneurs à rendre et les devoirs des gardes et des sentinelles sont prescrits dans les Règlements du Roi et dans les Ordres de l'Armée.

ARSENAUX ET BATIMENTS D'EXERCICE.

389. Les officiers en charge des arsenaux, des bâtiments d'exercice ou de toute autre propriété de l'Etat employés à des fins militaires ne doivent pas oublier que l'Acte de la Milice et le Code criminel contiennent des clauses indiquant les peines à prononcer contre toute personne qui se rend coupable, illégalement et avec malveillance, de dommages à ces propriétés.

390. Les bâtiments d'exercice ne doivent servir qu'à des fins militaires, à moins d'autorisation des quartiers généraux.

391. Quand un bâtiment d'exercices cesse d'être utile pour des fins militaires, on doit immédiatement en rendre compte aux quartiers généraux, afin d'en disposer selon les prescriptions de l'Acte de la Milice.

392. En cas de destruction d'un arsenal par le feu ou autrement et des pertes de propriété publique qui s'en suivent, le plus ancien officier de l'endroit fait immédiatement une enquête sur les causes, la nature et l'étendue des pertes et en rend compte sans délai au commandant du district.

393. Un état détaillé, certifié par le commandant de l'endroit, de tous les effets d'équipement militaire, avariés ou perdus, doit accompagner le rapport.

394. Ensuite, le commandant du district fait lui-même une enquête et en rend compte aux quartiers généraux.

395. Si la nouvelle de pareil accident arrive au commandant du district par une autre voie, il ne doit pas attendre le rapport du commandant de l'endroit, mais il procède immédiatement à une enquête personnelle et en rend compte de suite à qui de droit, avec tous les détails possibles.

GARDIENS DES ARSENAUX PUBLICS.

396. Les gardiens des arsenaux publics, payés par le département de la Milice et de la Défense sont sous les ordres et la direction des commandants de district, qui veillent à ce qu'ils remplissent bien leurs devoirs, soient sobres et laborieux. Si l'un d'eux manque à son service, ou s'adonne à l'usage des spiritueux, le commandant du district doit le suspendre immédiatement de ses fonctions et en rendre compte aux quartiers généraux.

SOIN DES ARMES, DE L'ACCOUTREMENT ET DE L'EQUIPEMENT.

397. Les devis pour les besoins probables d'équipement pour l'année suivante, doivent être transmis aux quartiers généraux, le 1er décembre au plus tard de chaque année, par les officiers suivants:—

Pour la cavalerie et l'infanterie, par le commandant du district.

Pour l'artillerie, par l'inspecteur d'artillerie.

Pour le génie, par l'inspecteur du génie.

398. En cas de dégradation à un fusil Lee-Metford, ou à tout autre fusil .303, ou quand une bourre de nettoyage (pull-through) reste fixée dans le canon d'un fusil, le commandant du district envoie ce fusil à l'armurier de l'Etat le plus rapproché, pour le faire réparer ou en extraire la bourre. Il est formellement défendu à toute autre personne qu'à un armurier de l'Etat de réparer un fusil et d'essayer d'en extraire la bourre de nettoyage.

399. Il est défendu aux hommes de la milice de jouer avec leurs armes ou de les endommager. Quand des chantiers ou des réparations sont nécessaires, ils sont faits par un armurier ou un mécanicien compétent.

400. Au moment de la réception de tentes et de couvertures, le quartier-maître du régiment doit s'assurer que leur nombre correspond aux quantités portées sur l'état de distribution provenant des quartiers généraux du district. Après cette vérification, il obtient le reçu de son commandant, qu'il transmet à l'officier distributeur. Pour toute distribution d'effets faite aux compagnies ou à d'autres groupes, il exige des reçus qu'il garde par-devers lui jusqu'à ce que ces effets lui soient retournés.

401. Pendant la première semaine, le commandant d'un camp choisit un jour et accompagné par un officier d'état-major, il fait une inspection des tentes et des couvertures distribuées aux différents corps, pour s'assurer que le nombre de ces effets en service correspond aux états de distribution. Le quartier-maître de chaque régiment est toujours présent à ces inspections.

402. Avant de quitter le camp, les commandants des corps de troupes s'assurent que tous les effets de campement distribués à leurs corps sont versés à l'officier chargé de les recevoir.

403. Tous les effets de campement, distribués pour le service, qui sont perdus ou endommagés au delà des limites permises, sont susceptibles d'être remboursés au montant de leur valeur par les compagnies qui s'en sont servis, au moyen de retenues sur leurs états de solde.

404. Il est défendu aux hommes de milice de défigurer les tentes en y faisant des inscriptions, des dessins, etc.— Les commandants sont responsables de telles détériorations, et doivent soigneusement faire comprendre à leurs hommes l'inconvenance de pareilles pratiques.

405. Quand des retenues sont faites pour dommages ou pertes, un état en est établi et transmis au commandant du district, pour être envoyé aux quartiers généraux.

406. Quand un corps quitte ses quartiers permanents, pour aller prendre un service actif, si les hommes possèdent des sacs (valises) les commandants ne doivent pas leur permettre de prendre avec eux d'autre bagage que leurs sacs. La nourriture, les souliers et les munitions sont de première nécessité pour tout soldat en campagne, en admettant bien entendu qu'il possède en outre un équipement complet.

407. Les chaussures doivent être mises à l'épreuve de l'humidité, avant que les hommes quittent leurs foyers. S'il est impossible de se procurer du cirage à l'épreuve de l'eau les chaussures sont graissées.

408. Quand un corps est relevé, le commandant fait verser tous les effets en magasin et en fournit un état au commandant du district. Cet état comprend trois colonnes, la première contient les effets reçus, la deuxième, les effets existant et la troisième, les pertes, s'il y en a.

MEDAILLES ET DECORATIONS.

409. Aucun officier, sous-officier ou soldat, en uniforme, ne peut porter de médailles ou de décorations sans y être autorisé.

410. Les médailles et les décorations militaires sont portées au-dessus de l'écharpe et sous le baudrier de giberne, sur le côté gauche de la poitrine, sur le vêtement, qui forme la grande tenue de l'unité ou de l'individu. Elles sont portées sur une ligne horizontale, attachées à une simple barrette (dont la boucle est invisible), ou cousues au vêtement et placées entre le premier et le deuxième bouton, au-dessous du col de l'uniforme ; dans les régiments de hussards, immédiatement au-dessous de la tresse du haut, sur le côté gauche de la tunique, quand ce vêtement est porté. Le ruban ne doit pas être plus d'un pouce de largeur, à moins que le nombre d'agrafes exige qu'il soit plus long. Les boucles attachées au ruban de la troisième classe des Ordres du Bain et de Saint-Michel et de Saint-Georges doivent être vues. Quand les décorations et les médailles, à cause de leur nombre, ne peuvent être suspendues à la barrette de manière à être complètement vues elles sont placées les unes sur les autres. La largeur du ruban d'une médaille militaire est de $1\frac{1}{4}$ pouce. Les médailles militaires sont portées dans l'ordre de dates des campagnes où elles ont été conférées : la première reçue étant placée près du milieu de la poitrine.

411. Les médailles de sauvetage accordées par la Société Royale d'Humanité et celles gagnées aux concours de tir à la cible, sont portées sur le côté droit de la poitrine, quand l'autorisation en a été accordée. Les médailles, prix de tir, ne sont portées qu'en tenue, lorsque le possesseur assiste aux concours de tir ou aux assemblées des associations de tir.

412. Les rubans seuls des médailles et des décorations sont attachés à la petite tenue, à l'uniforme de khaki, ou à celui d'étoffe blanche, excepté quand ce dernier est porté comme tenue de revue. Ces rubans ont $\frac{1}{2}$ pouce de lon-gueur et sont cousus sur l'étoffe du veston ou de la vareuse, mais quand l'uniforme est blanc ou de khaki, ils sont portés sur une barrette sans intervalles. Ils ne doivent pas se recouvrir, et quand il n'y a pas assez d'espace pour mettre les rubans sur une rangée, on en forme une deuxième immédiatement au-dessous de la première.

413. Les médailles et les décorations de petites dimensions (miniature) ne sont portées que sur la tenue de mess.

414. Les étoiles d'ordres, les médailles et les décorations, de petite dimension, sont portées sur l'habit de service ou de gala, en présence des membres de la Famille Royale, des Vice-rois et des Gouverneurs généraux, dans les cérémonies publiques et officielles.

415. Les décorations portées en cravate ne doivent jamais être de petite dimension.

416. Ces règlements s'appliquent aux officiers en retraite, pourvu que ces officiers soient autorisés à porter l'uniforme.

417. Les décorations, les médailles de guerre et les rubans, qui y sont attachés, sont portés dans l'ordre suivant :—

- L'Ordre de la Jarretière.
- L'Ordre du Chardon.
- L'Ordre de Saint-Patrice.
- L'Ordre du Bain.
- L'Etoile de l'Inde.
- L'Ordre de Saint-Michel et de Saint-Georges.
- L'Ordre de l'Empire Indien.
- L'Ordre Royal de Victoria.
- La Croix Victoria.
- L'Ordre du Service Distingué.
- L'Ordre du Service Impérial.
- La Médaille du Souvenir du Jubilé de la Reine.
- La médaille du Couronnement du Roi.
- La Médaille Albert.
- Les Médailles des Guerres Britanniques.
- Les Médailles pour Conduite Distinguée en campagne.
- L'Ordre de Saint-Jean de Jérusalem.
- La Médaille pour Service Méritoire.
- La Médaille pour Long Service et Bonne Conduite.
- La Décoration des Officiers de Volontaires.
- La Décoration des Officiers des Forces Auxiliaires.
- Les Décorations Etrangères.
- Les Médailles des Guerres Etrangères.
- Les Décorations pour long service des Officiers des Forces Auxiliaires.
- Les Médailles pour long service des Forces Auxiliaires.

420. Les insignes donnés par l'Association de tir du Dominion du Canada peuvent être portés sur le bras gauche.

421. Les commandants de corps doivent s'assurer que les hommes qui portent des médailles y ont droit et qu'elles leur appartiennent.

422. Les soldats à qui on a décerné la médaille du Service Méritoire ou celle de Long Service et de Bonne conduite auront droit à l'avenir de les porter toutes les deux.

423. Quand un homme, qui possède des médailles, ne peut les produire sur demande, une commission, composée d'un capitaine et de deux officiers subalternes, doit faire une enquête sur les causes de cette perte. Si cette commission émet l'opinion que cet homme s'est volontairement rendu coupable de leur disparition, il peut être traduit en cour martiale. Si l'homme est reconnu coupable devant la cour martiale, il peut être recommandé à l'adjudant général, après cinq ans de bons services, pour l'obtention d'une nouvelle médaille en payant lui-même la valeur.

(1) S'il est prouvé que la perte d'une médaille est due à la négligence, la commission peut recommander que l'homme soit pourvu d'une autre médaille à ses frais, après deux ans de bons services, à dater du jour de la réunion de cette commission.

(2) La commission doit invariablement consulter un officier sur le caractère des hommes qui perdent leurs médailles, et quand il n'existe aucun autre témoignage que celui du soldat qui a fait la perte, la commission, excepté dans des circonstances exceptionnelles qui doivent être inscrites au procès-verbal, doit considérer le cas comme prouvé que la perte a eu lieu à la suite de négligence.

424. Quand la commission recommande que les médailles perdues soient immédiatement remplacées, les procès-verbaux originaux des délibérations sont transmis sous forme de lettre, avec le modèle réglementaire de rapport donnant une description des médailles et des agrafes, s'il y en a. Dans chaque cas, les délibérations sont inscrites sur une feuille à part, à moins que les circonstances, qui ont accompagné les pertes, soient les mêmes dans tous les cas. Quand les agrafes ne sont pas perdues, elles sont envoyées à l'adjudant général, pour être attachées aux nouvelles médailles.

425. Quand la commission ne recommande pas de remplacer de suite une médaille perdue, le procès-verbal des délibérations n'est adressé aux quartiers généraux qu'à l'époque fixée pour la demande de remplacement, tel que prescrit à l'article 423.

426. Quand les soldats libérés perdent leurs médailles, il leur faut faire une demande pour en obtenir de nouvelles à leur frais, cette demande devant être accompagnée d'une déclaration légale, expliquant les circonstances de la perte et démontrant que cette perte a été inévitable et aucune-ment causée par la négligence des requérants.

427. Tout soldat coupable devant une cour martiale des crimes suivants :—désertion, crimes tombant sous les sections 17 et 18 de l'Acte de l'Armée, et tout soldat condamné par une cour martiale, aux travaux forcés, ou à être chassé ignominieusement du service militaire, perd toutes ses médailles et ses décorations (excepté la Croix Victoria, qui est régie par des règlements particuliers), qu'il possède ou auxquelles il peut avoir droit, ainsi que les gratuités ou les annuités qui y sont attachées.

Tout soldat qui :—

(1) Est passible de cour martiale pour désertion avouée par lui-même et dont le procès n'a pas eu lieu ;

(2) Est chassé de l'armée comme incorrigible et indigne ; ou pour mauvaise conduite habituelle ; ou à la suite d'une condamnation par les cours civiles ; ou condamné aux travaux forcés ; ou pour s'être parjuré ;

(3) Est trouvé coupable devant une cour civile d'un crime, qui tomberait sous le coup des sections 17 et 18 de l'Acte de l'Armée, si le procès avait lieu devant une cour martiale ; ou qui est condamné par une cour civile à une peine dépassant six mois d'emprisonnement, perd toutes les médailles (excepté la Croix Victoria, qui est régie par des règlements particuliers) qui lui ont été accordées ultérieurement au Warrant Royal du 25 juin 1881, avec les annuités ou les gratuités qui pourraient y être attachées.

(4) Une cour martiale générale ou de district peut en sus d'une peine ou sans autre peine, condamner un coupable à perdre ses médailles ou ses décorations (excepté la Croix Victoria, qui est régie par des règlements particuliers) avec les annuités et les gratuités qui pourraient y être attachées ; mais une telle sentence ne doit pas être prononcée par la cour martiale, quand le crime est tel qu'il entraîne de lui-même ces déchéances, tel qu'indiqué à la section 427 ci-dessus.

(5) Les médailles confisquées sont envoyées à l'adjudant général, qui en dispose, le cas échéant. On agit de même pour les médailles retournées quand un soldat est reconnu coupable de s'en être défait volontairement. Quand les médailles sont envoyées à l'adjudant général par lettres, ces lettres doivent être enregistrées.

PAIEMENTS POUR MÉDAILLES REMPLACÉES, ETC.

428. Quand une médaille ou une agrafe, donnée par le Canada, doit être remplacée aux frais du possesseur, la valeur de la médaille est de $1.83 et de l'agrafe, 36 cents. La somme pour un tel paiement doit être déposée de la manière usuelle, dans une banque locale autorisée, au crédit du percepteur-général, et le reçu doit accompagner la demande aux quartiers généraux. Le ruban d'une médaille coûte 5 cents.

429. Quand une médaille, donnée par le gouvernement Impérial, doit être remplacée aux frais du possesseur, le montant à payer est de 7s. 6d. sterling pour la médaille et

1s. 6d. sterling pour chaque agrafe. Ces sommes doivent être transmises aux Bureau de la Guerre (War Office) en Angleterre, par mandats-poste.

ORGANISATIONS DE CADETS—FORMATION ET DIRECTION.

430. Les organisations de cadets sont de trois catégories :—

(a) Celles composées d'élèves des collèges et des écoles, qui sont sous le contrôle des gouvernements des provinces, où ils sont situés :

(b) Celles composées d'élèves des collèges et des écoles, qui ne sont pas sous le contrôle du gouvernement ; et

(c) Celles composées de jeunes garçons, avec la permission de leurs parents ou tuteurs, qui préfèrent joindre une organisation n'ayant aucune relation avec un établissement d'éducation.

431. Les cadets ne doivent pas dépasser l'âge de 18 ans.

432. La demande d'autorisation de former un corps de cadets doit être faite sur modèle "A", dit modèle cadet. Si la demande est pour former un corps de cadets de la classe (a), elle doit être signée par le principal ou le premier maître du collège ou de l'école, où appartiennent les futurs cadets, et accompagnée par un consentement par écrit du ministre ou des chefs du département de l'éducation de la province où sont ces établissements ;

Si la demande est faite pour former un corps de la classe (b), cela doit être signée tel qu'indiqué par la classe (a) et accompagnée d'une autorisation par écrit du président de la commission scolaire, dont dépendent les établissements d'éducation en question ; et

Si la demande est pour former un corps de la classe (c) elle doit être signée par une personne responsable recommandée par le maire de la cité, de la ville, de la paroisse ou du township, où le corps doit se former ; et, le maire, en outre, doit également recommander la demande.

433. La demande, ayant été signée et sanctionnée, tel que prescrit à l'article 432, est transmise au commandant du district où le corps doit être formé. Cet officier s'assure de l'exactitude des faits contenus dans la demande et l'expédie aux quartiers généraux, avec sa recommandation favorable, ou autrement.

434. Dans son enquête, l'attention du commandant du district est tout particulièrement appelée sur les points suivants :—

(1) Le corps, dont l'organisation est proposée, peut-il raisonnablement espérer de réussir au point de faire honneur au service des cadets du Canada ?

(2) Les dispositions prises pour l'emmagasinage et l'entretien des armes sont-elles suffisantes ?

(3) L'instructeur proposé est-il compétent ?

(4) L'uniforme est-il convenable au point de vue militaire et de la bourse des cadets ?

Aucun uniforme étranger, ou imitation, n'est autorisé.

(5) Et quand la demande a lieu pour l'organisation d'un corps de la classe (c) le commandant du district doit aussi s'assurer si le requérant a les moyens nécessaires pour être tenu responsable de la garde, de l'entretien et de la remise en bon ordre des armes, de l'équipement et d'autre matériel, qui auraient pu lui être prêtés par le département de la Milice.

435. L'autorisation de former un corps de cadets est accordée par le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense.

436. Un corps de cadets peut être licencié, pour certaines raisons, à une époque quelconque, et les armes et l'équipement, mis à sa disposition, retirés par ordre du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense.

437. Les officiers des corps de cadets seront désignés sous les titres de lieutenant de cadets, de capitaine de cadets et de major de cadets. Les cadres et les effectifs des corps de cadets seront fixés de temps à autre, dans les ordres de la milice.

Les armes.

438. Le département de la Milice, autant que possible, distribue, à titre de prêt, aux corps de cadets, les armes et l'équipement qui leur sont nécessaires.

439. Aussitôt que possible après la formation d'un corps de cadets, une demande (modèle Cadet C) d'armes et d'équipement nécessaires à son instruction doit être faite, signée par la personne qui a reçu l'autorisation d'organiser ce corps, et transmis à l'officier du service de l'artillerie du district où ce corps est formé.

440. Les munitions sont fournies par les magasins de la milice, aux corps des cadets, contre remboursement, au même prix que pour la milice.

Instruction.

441. Aucune allocation de fonds publics n'est faite pour l'instruction militaire ou autres fins, aux corps de cadets; mais des instructeurs, provenant des forces permanentes, peuvent être détachés auprès de ces corps, quand la chose est possible.

442. Un cadet instructeur, dûment autorisé par l'adjudant général, qu'il appartienne ou non au personnel enseignant de l'école ou du collège dont fait partie son corps, peut, sur la recommandation du commandant du district, être autorisé à suivre les cours d'une école d'infanterie et de l'Ecole canadienne de Tir, ou de toutes les deux, pour obtenir ses certificats d'aptitude. Alors, il a droit aux allocations et mêmes frais de transport accordés aux officiers de la milice qui sont dans le même cas.

443. Pendant la période où il suit le cours d'une école militaire, un cadet instructeur est considéré comme stagiaire et obéit aux règlements de l'école et aux ordres de son commandant. Il peut alors porter l'uniforme de son corps, ou celui du service de la milice sans insignes de grade, ou encore, s'il appartient à un corps de la milice, l'uniforme de ce corps.

444. Après qu'un cadet instructeur a obtenu ses certificats d'aptitude comme instructeur d'exercice et de tir, il reçoit le grade de lieutenant de la milice, et il lui est permis de retenir ce grade aussi longtemps qu'il reste instructeur ou que son corps continue à se maintenir comme corps constitué. Le temps pendant lequel il possède un grade dans la milice est compté comme service pour l'obtention des médailles coloniales des officiers des forces auxiliaires, et de long service dans les forces coloniales auxiliaires.

445. Les cadets instructeurs, quel que soit leur grade dans la milice, marchent toujours par l'ancienneté, à la parade, avant les officiers de cadets.

446. Un cadet instructeur peut, à toute époque, être privé de sa position, sur la recommandation du commandant du district.

447. Le système d'instruction et d'exercice à être suivi dans les corps de cadets est fixé, de temps à autre, dans les ordres de la milice.

448. L'autorisation d'organiser les corps de cadets, leur licenciement, la nomination et le renvoi des instructeurs et des officiers de cadets sont publiés dans les ordres de la milice, au fur et à mesure que l'occasion s'en présente.

449. Les commandants de districts font une inspection annuelle des corps de cadets de leurs districts et en adressent le rapport à l'adjudant général.

450. Des copies des présents règlements, des modèles de demandes et d'états, etc., sont distribuées, sur demande, par le commandant du district.

BLESSURES OU MALADIES.

Pertes.

451. Les cas d'incapacités permanentes, provenant de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées dans le service, font immédiatement l'objet d'un rapport d'une commission de médecins militaires, et des secours sont accordés d'après les règlements établis à certaines époques par le Gouverneur en conseil.

452. Tout médecin qui signe un faux certificat médical est passible d'une amende de quatre cents dollars.

Blessure ou maladie.

453. Les officiers et les hommes qui reçoivent des blessures ou contractent des maladies pendant le service, (desquelles, quoique d'une nature temporaire, peuvent nécessiter l'abandon du service) sont envoyés à l'hôpital ou aux quartiers généraux de leurs corps, selon les circonstances, et sur les ordres du commandant de la place ou de la station. S'ils sont envoyés aux chefs-lieux de leur corps, ils ne reçoivent pas l'allocation spécifiée à l'article 455 ci-dessous, mais ils sont soumis, à leur arrivée, aux règlements qui régissent leur corps, au quartier général de ce corps.

454. Si l'incapacité d'un sous-officier ou d'un soldat s'étend au delà de la période de son engagement, il sera libéré du service et aura droit, pendant sa maladie, aux secours spécifiés à l'article 455 ci-dessous, ou à d'autres faveurs rendus nécessaires par les circonstances.

455. Si un officier ou un homme reçoit une blessure ou contracte une maladie dans le service, (lesquelles, quoique temporaires, peuvent nécessiter l'abandon du service), il est envoyé dans un hôpital civil ou militaire, et, à sa libération de l'hôpital, il est expédié chez lui aux frais de l'Etat. Pendant son séjour à l'hôpital, il a droit à la solde brute de son grade, mais, s'il est envoyé chez lui, il a droit à cette solde, avec, en outre, une allocation de un dollar par jour, s'il est officier, et cinquante cents, s'il est sous-officier ou soldat. Ces allocations sont valables pendant la période de l'incapacité, certifiée par deux médecins, qui constatent que l'intéressé a été, pendant ce temps, incapable de vaquer à ses occupations ordinaires; dans pareil cas, aucune allocation n'est faite pour visites du médecin.

456. Qu'un homme soit traité à l'hôpital, ou chez lui, ou dans un logement quelconque, un médecin militaire doit surveiller son cas, en rendre compte toutes les semaines au commandant du district et indiquer, autant que possible, l'époque à laquelle on peut raisonnablement s'attendre à une guérison.

457. Quand un officier ou un homme est en traitement dans un hôpital civil, il doit être prévenu qu'à sa sortie, il lui faut se procurer un certificat des autorités médicales de cet hôpital et d'un médecin militaire également, donnant des détails sur sa maladie et indiquant la période pendant laquelle il a dû être retenu à l'hôpital pour traitement. Ces certificats sont nécessaires pour établir ses droits à des compensations pendant la durée de son incapacité.

458. Si la maladie est contractée pendant la période de dressage annuel au camp, le secours spécifié est limité à une durée ne dépassant pas soixante jours; mais, si l'individu en cause est incapable de suivre ses occupations civiles ordinaires, après l'expiration de cette période de soixante jours, le commandant du district peut convoquer une commission médicale, qui fait un rapport détaillé pour être soumis à la décision des quartiers généraux.

Réclamations.

459. Les demandes de secours pour blessures ou pour perte de temps causée par la maladie doivent toujours être accompagnées d'un certificat du commandant et du médecin militaire du corps ou du détachement du requérant, indiquant l'époque et l'endroit où furent reçues les blessures ou contractées les maladies. Les demandes de pension, à la suite du décès d'un homme de la milice, doivent indiquer, (en outre de ce qui est dit ci-dessus), à l'époque du décès, les circonstances pécuniaires, le nombre, les noms écrits en entier, l'âge, le sexe et le degré de parenté des personnes dont il était le soutien.

460. Quand un bourgeois (civilian), employé ou non, est tué ou blessé, dans le service, par la faute ou la négligence des autorités militaires ou de détachements de la milice en service, ou au tir à la cible, et qu'une réclamation est faite à ce sujet au département de la Milice, un rapport en doit être fait aussitôt que possible par une commission d'officiers. Si la réclamation est reconnue raisonnable, les cas en question sont traités d'après les règlements énoncés aux articles 451, 452, 453, 454 et 455, qui s'appliquent aux cas des hommes de la milice.

461. Les commandants de corps doivent signaler aux commandants de districts les cas de leurs officiers ou de leurs hommes qui pourraient avoir droit à des secours, à des gratuités ou à des pensions. Ces officiers donneront toute l'aide possible pour obtenir les informations nécessaires à établir le bien-fondé de ces réclamations.

462. Ceux qui souffrent d'incapacité temporaire et qui ont droit à des secours, d'après l'article 455, peuvent demander un paiement en à compte, si c'est nécessaire, pendant la durée de leur incapacité. Dans ces cas-là, la nature et la cause de l'incapacité doivent être établies, la date et le montant de paiements antérieurs indiqués, et le certificat de deux médecins doit être joint à la demande, pour démontrer que l'incapacité existe réellement et que le requérant est dans l'impossibilité de vaquer à ses occupations ordinaires.

463. Les réclamations doivent être examinées séparément, et tout rapport d'une commission, ou certificat d'un médecin ou d'autres officiers, s'y rapportant, est limité à un seul sujet. Les officiers d'état-major ou autres doivent s'assurer que les documents et les correspondances, dans chaque cas, sont complets et ne traitent que d'un cas seulement.

Officiers ou hommes invalides.

465. Les officiers ou les hommes qui sont envoyés comme invalides dans les hôpitaux, reçoivent la solde de leur grade jusqu'au jour inclus de leur libération de l'hôpital, pourvu que leur corps demeure en service pendant cette période. Dans tous les cas, les paiements cessent à la date où cesse également le service de leur corps. Si les officiers ou les hommes restent à l'hôpital après l'expiration du service de leur corps, leur solde est réglée d'après les instructions du ministre. Si les officiers ou les hommes sont transférés dans un hôpital d'un autre district, les officiers payeurs intéressés établissent un état en double du dernier paiement de solde, dont une copie est adressée au commandant du district où est envoyé le patient, et l'autre remise au patient lui-même. En pareils cas, la solde des officiers et des hommes n'est pas comprise sur les états de solde de leur corps, pendant la durée de leur séjour à l'hôpital.

466. Si les officiers ou les hommes, à leur sortie de l'hôpital, sont envoyés dans leurs foyers pour y continuer à suivre un traitement, au lieu de rejoindre leur corps, quand il est de service, la solde leur est payée pendant toute la période où il leur est impossible de vaquer à leurs occupations ordinaires—et cela sur la recommandation du commandant du district, appuyée du certificat de maladie de deux médecins autorisés.

467. Les cas spécifiés ci-dessous s'appliquent aux commissions qu'on peut être convoquées pour s'enquérir de blessures reçues dans le service, de maladies contractées au service, ou de maladies provenant de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées dans le service. Ces cas se divisent en deux classes:

(1) Cas des hommes de la milice qui ont reçu des blessures ou contracté des maladies, dans le service, d'une gravité telle qu'ils sont pour toujours totalement incapables de vaquer aux occupations ordinaires de leur métier ou de leur profession.

(2) Cas des hommes de la milice qui ont reçu des blessures ou contracté des maladies, dans le service, dont la gravité les a rendus incapables de vaquer à leurs occupations ordinaires, pour une période déterminée seulement.

468. Les commissions prennent tous les témoignages possibles pour s'assurer si le requérant est ou d'une absolue incapacité ou d'une impuissance temporaire de travailler; les commissions joignent leur opinion aux témoignages recueillis. Si l'incapacité est temporaire, la commission indique, autant que possible, la durée et de cette incapacité et le montant de l'indemnité auquel le requérant peut avoir droit, au moment de l'enquête. Il est bien entendu que l'opinion de la commission est basée sur témoignages recueillis dans la cause.

Une copie en double du certificat doit être adressée à l'adjutant général, aux quartiers généraux, par la voie du commandant du district.

* Enoncer ici si l'homme a été tué à l'ennemi, s'il a été blessé, ou est mort de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées dans le service, ou bien s'il est encore souffrant de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées dans le service.

† Enoncer ici si l'homme a été blessé au feu ou autrement, étant en service actif.

‡ Donner ici une description détaillée de la blessure ou de la maladie.

472. Aucune indemnité ne sera payée, à moins qu'il ne soit clairement établi que l'accident arrivé, soit à un homme, soit à un cheval, était absolument inévitable et que toute précaution prise n'a pu l'éviter ou le prévenir. Le commandant du district, avant de transmettre ces rapports aux quartiers généraux, doit s'assurer par lui-même du bien-fondé des allégations qui y sont contenues, et y joindre une opinion personnelle.

473. Afin d'empêcher toute réclamation de dommage pour blessures à des chevaux de grande valeur, l'évaluation originale du prix d'un cheval, blessé à l'exercice, ne doit pas dépasser la somme de $150, et $100 pour toute autre bête. Ces montants sont indiqués par la commission d'enquête.

474. Si un cheval est complètement mis hors de service, le maximum d'évaluation fixé plus haut sera remboursé à son propriétaire. Si l'animal n'est rendu indisponible, à cause de blessure ou de maladie, que pour une durée temporaire, l'indemnité sera la solde brute de $1 par jour payée pendant une période ne dépassant pas soixante jours, pourvu que ce montant ne soit pas plus élevé que la valeur réelle de l'animal. Aucune autre indemnité ne sera payée en sus de cela.

475. Les demandes d'indemnités pour chevaux blessés, à l'embarquement et au débarquement en chemins de fer, doivent démontrer que toutes les prescriptions des règlements concernant l'embarquement et le débarquement ont été strictement exécutées.

476. Quand la commission se réunit pour procéder à l'enquête, le procès-verbal des délibérations doit commencer comme suit:—

“Délibérations d'une commission d'officiers, réunie à ...le...19...par ordre...dans le but de... ”

Président...
Membres...

La commission, s'étant réunie, conformément aux ordres ci-dessus, commence son enquête, etc., etc.”

NOTE.—Chaque officier qui fait partie de la commission, doit signer son nom à la fin du rapport et des délibérations.

477. Le certificat de l'officier commandant, modèle n° 37, et celui du médecin militaire, modèle C. 15, sont joints au rapport et aux délibérations de la commission.

478. Si l'incapacité du sujet s'étend au delà de la période d'exercice de son corps, les certificats spécifiés dans l'article 477 doivent également être envoyés avec la demande d'indemnité, spéciale à ces cas. Les modèles A, B, C et D, employés à l'appui des demandes d'indemnité faites dans le service actif, ne s'appliquent pas aux maladies ou blessures qui pourraient se présenter dans les camps d'exercices annuels.

479. Aucune demande d'indemnité pour maladie ou blessure ne peut être faite pour les jours où la solde d'exercice a été perçue, ni pour maladie ou blessure provenant de toutes autres causes que celles se rapportant au service militaire.

GRATUITES ET PENSIONS.

480. Le tarif ci-dessous des gratuités et des pensions s'applique aux hommes de la milice blessés ou rendus impropres au service, ou qui, dans l'avenir, pourraient être rendus impropres au service ou blessés, en service actif, et aux veuves et aux enfants de ceux qui ont été tués, ou qui sont morts à la suite de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées en service actif.

Blessures reçues sur le champ de bataille.

481. Quand il est certifié qu'un officier a reçu au feu une blessure entraînant la perte d'un œil ou d'un membre, ou de l'usage d'un membre, ou une incapacité corporelle équivalente à la perte d'un membre, cet officier reçoit en premier lieu une gratuité d'une année de solde entière du grade auquel il appartenait à l'époque où il reçut sa blessure.

482. A l'expiration d'une année après la date de sa blessure, l'officier intéressé, désigné dans l'article ci-dessus, peut recevoir une pension, d'après le tarif suivant:—

Grade de l'officier.	Pension annuelle.
Colonel.. . . .	$1,500
Lieutenant-colonel.. . . .	1,200
Major.. . . .	800
Capitaine.. . . .	600
Lieutenant.. . . .	400

483. Aucune demande de pension ou de gratuité ne sera valable à moins d'être faite par l'officier intéressé, dans les cinq ans qui suivent la date où il reçut sa blessure.

484. Aucune pension n'est accordée pour la perte d'un œil, provenant d'une blessure au feu, à moins que la perte de la vue n'arrive dans les cinq ans qui suivent la date de la blessure, et que cette perte soit absolument attribuée à cette cause.

485. Une pension est accordée, en se basant, pour le montant, sur le grade de l'officier à l'époque de sa blessure.

Pensions des soldats.

486. Des pensions peuvent être accordées aux hommes de la milice, libérés comme impropres au service à la suite de blessures reçues sur le champ de bataille.

Pensions accordées aux veuves et aux enfants des officiers et des soldats, quand ils sont dans le besoin ou l'indigence.

487. Si l'officier ou le soldat décédé a été tué à l'ennemi, ou est mort de blessures reçues au feu, dans les douze mois qui ont suivi la date de ces blessures:—

(a) Une pension annuelle, égale à la moitié de la solde journalière pendant douze mois de l'officier ou soldat, et en sus, pour la première année, une gratuité égale à une année de solde, sont accordées à la veuve.

(b) Une allocation annuelle, dite de compassion, au taux de un dixième de la solde de l'officier ou du soldat, et, en sus, pour la première année, une gratuité égale à la solde de quatre mois, sont accordées à chaque enfant.

488. Si l'officier ou le soldat décédé est mort de maladie, (qui peut être directement attribuée à la fatigue et aux privations inhérents aux opérations actives, en campagne) dans les six mois qui suivirent sa libération comme impropre au service; ou si l'officier ou le soldat a perdu la vie à la suite de blessures reçues dans le service ailleurs que sur le champ de bataille:—

(a) Une pension annuelle, égale au trois huitièmes de la solde journalière, pendant douze mois, de l'officier ou du soldat, est accordée à la veuve.

(b) Une allocation, dite de compassion, au taux de un treizième de la solde de l'officier ou du soldat, est accordée à chaque enfant.

489. Une pension ne sera accordée à la veuve ou à un autre parent d'un officier ou d'un soldat décédé, que comme récompense pour bravoure, fidélité et bonne conduite dans le service, mais elle ne peut être considérée comme un droit. Cette pension n'est pas accordée, si l'auteur de la demande possède des moyens pécuniaires suffisants, ou s'il est déjà titulaire d'une pension ou d'une allocation provenant du trésor public.

490. La pension d'une veuve date, en règle générale, du jour qui suit la mort du mari, et elle peut être supprimée, par ordre du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, si la veuve s'en rend indigne ou si elle devient riche.

491. La pension d'une veuve, qui se remarie, est suspendue à la date de son mariage, mais, si elle devient veuve une deuxième fois, sa pension peut lui être servie de nouveau, si elle prouve qu'elle en est encore digne et qu'elle n'est pas riche.

492. Des allocations, dites de compassion, tel qu'indiqué à l'article 487, et sujettes aux conditions qui s'appliquent aux pensions des veuves, peuvent être accordées aux enfants des officiers ou des soldats décédés. Elles ne sont pas accordées à un fils âgé de dix-huit ans, ou à une fille de vingt et un ans, hormis de cas spéciaux où il est prouvé que les fils et les filles ont contracté, durant la vie de l'officier ou du soldat, des affections mentales ou corporelles qui les ont rendus dépendants de leurs parents ou incapables du moindre effort pour s'assurer leur existence; en outre, que ces affections ont été contractées avant d'avoir atteint les limites d'âge indiquées ci-dessus, et que ces enfants sont dans l'indigence.

493. Les allocations accordées, d'après l'article 488, aux fils d'officiers ou de soldats leur sont servies jusqu'à ce qu'ils aient atteint l'âge de dix-huit ans, ou qu'ils aient été autrement secourus avant d'avoir atteint cet âge; et celles accordées aux filles leur sont également servies jusqu'à leur mariage ou jusqu'à l'âge de vingt et un ans, et doivent cesser immédiatement au premier de ces cas qui se présente, et cela définitivement, excepté dans les cas spéciaux où il est prouvé que ces enfants sont affligés d'affections mentales ou corporelles qui les rendent totalement incapables de s'assurer leur existence, et qu'ils sont dans l'indigence.

494. Quand un officier ou un soldat est tué à l'ennemi, ou meurt de blessures reçues au feu, dans les douze mois qui suivent la date de ces blessures, et qu'il ne laisse pas de veuve, mais une fille ou des filles, une allocation annuelle, égale à la moitié de la pension de veuve, peut, sous certaines circonstances approuvées par le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, être accordée, au lieu des allocations, dites de compassion, décrites à l'article 487, à cette fille, ou à ces filles collectivement. Cette allocation continue à être servie à la fille ou à la dernière survivante d'entre elles, s'il y en a plusieurs, jusqu'à ce qu'elle y perde ses droits à la suite d'un mariage ou autrement.

495. Une allocation, dite de compassion, est payée en bloc, à dater de la mort de l'officier ou du soldat jusqu'à la date du 30 juin suivant. Tous les paiements ultérieurs sont faits une année d'avance, à dater du 1er juillet de chaque année.

496. Une allocation annuelle, basée sur le grade de l'officier ou du soldat, et au taux de la moitié de la pension d'une veuve, peut être accordée à la mère d'un officier ou d'un soldat tué à l'ennemi, ou mort de blessures reçues au feu, dans les douze mois qui suivent la date de ces blessures, sans laisser de veuve ni d'enfant légitime, cette mère étant veuve elle-même, dans l'indigence et ayant été, pour vivre, sous la dépendance de l'officier ou du soldat décédé; mais, si cette mère reçoit déjà une pension de veuve d'officier ou de soldat, ou tout autre secours provenant du trésor public, elle n'a aucun droit à une allocation à cause de son fils, à moins qu'elle n'abandonne tout autre secours ou pension. Quand cette allocation vient à cesser, à la suite de décès ou de mariage, elle ne peut être transférée à ses filles.

498. Dans les cas spéciaux, où les règlements sont muets concernant les allocations à faire, on peut en référer à la décision de Son Excellence le Gouverneur général en conseil.

499. Dans les calculs à faire pour établir le montant des pensions, le tarif de la solde d'un lieutenant ne doit pas être moins de $2 par jour.

500. Les pensions sont payées d'avance pour une année entière. Si une pension est accordée pendant l'année financière, le premier paiement est fait jusqu'au 30 juin suivant, et ensuite à partir du 1er juillet de chaque année.

501. Les demandes de paiement de pension doivent être adressées au commandant du district où le pensionnaire réside.

Incapacite permanente.

REGLEMENTS POUR ETABLIR LES RECLAMATIONS.

503. Les règlements qui suivent s'appliquent à l'établissement de réclamations ou de demandes de pensions ou de gratuités à la suite de décès ou de blessures des officiers ou des hommes, ou d'incapacité provenant de maladies contractées en service actif.

504. Une commission, composée d'un officier supérieur et de deux capitaines de la milice active, est convoquée par ordre, à telle époque et à tel endroit, pour prendre connaissance et rendre compte des diverses réclamations qui pourraient lui être soumises.

505. A moins d'ordres contraires des quartiers généraux, les commissions d'officiers, dans les différents districts militaires, sont composées du commandant du district (ou de l'officier, qui le remplace temporairement) et de deux capitaines, résidant dans son district et désignés par lui.

506. Les capitaines, s'ils ne touchent pas de solde ailleurs, reçoivent la solde de leur grade pendant la période où ils siègent comme membres d'une commission, et ce, sur certificat du président.

507. Les différentes commissions examinent les cas des requérants, qui résident dans leur district. Le commandant du district se rend familier avec les questions à soumettre à la commission et fait tout en son pouvoir pour aider à établir les faits exacts, de manière que ceux qui ont droit à des secours, à des gratuités ou à des pensions, puissent voir leur cause soumise le plus tôt possible à la décision du département.

508. La commission se réunit au jour et à la date, qui, dans son opinion, sont les plus favorables pour l'examen des cas, qui lui sont soumis par le commandant du district. Tout membre d'une commission, qui ne touche pas de solde ailleurs, a droit à la solde de présence de son grade, pendant le temps que siège la commission. Le président certifie ces demandes de solde.

509. On examine chaque cas séparément. Les délibérations et les décisions, dans chaque cas, doivent être immédiatement adressées au commandant du district afin d'être produites comme évidence en témoignages devant la commission des officiers.

510. Quand les réclamations ont lieu pour causes d'incapacité, la date et l'endroit où l'accident s'est produit, la cause, la gravité et la durée probable d'une telle incapacité doivent être établis sur témoignages pris devant une commission médicale. Le rapport de cette dernière commission forme partie de l'évidence nécessaire à être soumise à l'examen de la commission d'officiers, mentionnée plus haut. Ces réclamations sont divisées en trois classes.

511. Réclamations des parents de soldats de milice tués à l'ennemi ou qui sont morts à la suite de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées, en service actif.

(1) L'évidence nécessaire, à soumettre à la commission à l'appui des réclamations de cette classe, dans le cas d'un soldat de la milice tué à l'ennemi, c'est le certificat du commandant de son corps, constatant qu'il a été tué à l'ennemi, ou en service actif. (Modèle "A".)

(2) Dans le cas d'un soldat de la milice qui est décédé à la suite de blessures reçues en service actif, un certificat du médecin qui le premier l'a vu après sa blessure (et contresigné par le commandant du corps), constatant la nature de la blessure, qui a causé la mort; aussi un certificat du médecin qui l'a assisté à son décès, indiquant la cause et la date de la mort (modèle "B"). Le tout doit, autant que possible, être corroboré par tous les renseignements qu'on peut se procurer.

512. Pour les réclamations des hommes de la milice, qui ont reçu des blessures ou qui ont contracté, au service, des maladies, qui les rendent absolument incapables de vaquer dans la suite à leur métier ou à leur profession, l'évidence, à recueillir, est indiquée ci-dessous:—

Un rapport d'une commission médicale tel qu'indiqué à la section 510 (modèle "D"); s'assurer de la situation

pécuniaire du requérant; le montant du revenu qu'il touchait, s'il y en avait, au moment de son entrée au service —si ce revenu dépendait en partie ou en totalité de son travail; et quelle partie, de ce revenu, s'il y en avait, était indépendante de son travail; aussi l'âge, le sexe et le degré de parenté de ses parents, qui comptaient sur lui pour leur existence; aussi, le service médical qu'il a reçu entre l'époque de sa libération du service et la date de l'examen de la réclamation, avec le nom et la résidence des médecins qui l'ont assisté pendant cette période. (Modèle "C.")

Dans le cas d'un soldat de la milice, qui est mort des suites de maladies contractées en service actif, fournir un certificat du médecin, qui l'a assisté le premier, aussitôt qu'il fût tombé malade (certificat contresigné par le commandant du corps), indiquant la nature de la maladie et que cette maladie a été contractée en service actif (modèle "B"); aussi un certificat du médecin, qui l'assistait lors de son décès, donnant la cause et la date de la mort (modèle "B").

Dans les cas décrits ci-dessus, les témoignages doivent prouver dans quelles circonstances pécuniaires se trouvait le défunt, lors de son décès, le montant du revenu qu'il touchait, s'il en avait, à l'époque de son entrée au service; si ce revenu cessa à sa mort, en partie ou en totalité, indiquant quelle partie de ce revenu, s'il y en avait, était indépendante de son travail; aussi le nombre, les noms au complet, l'âge, le sexe et le degré de parenté des parents, qui comptaient sur lui pour leur existence (en supposant qu'il soit mort de blessures ou de maladie) entre l'époque de sa libération du service actif et la date de son décès, avec le nom et la résidence des médecins, qui l'ont assisté pendant cette période (modèle "C").

513. Pour les cas de soldats de la milice, qui ont reçu des blessures ou contracté des maladies, en service actif, au point de les rendre incapables temporairement de vaquer à leur profession ou à leur métier, les témoignages à prendre sont les suivants :—Rapport de la commission médicale, tel qu'indiqué à la section 510, pour établir le montant des réclamations et la durée probable de l'incapacité (modèle "D"); aussi tous les renseignements, tel que prescrit, pour les requérants de la 2e classe.

La commission, ayant pris tous les témoignages nécessaires, établit son rapport en fixant le montant des pensions ou des gratuités à accorder, en se basant pour cela sur les prescriptions des règlements faits à ce sujet, et en agissant avec la plus grande équité possible. Le rapport de la commission est établi seulement sur les témoignages recueillis et inscrits dans les procès-verbaux des délibérations.

ACHATS ET VENTE DE CHEVAUX.

514. Quand l'achat de chevaux pour la cavalerie ou l'artillerie est autorisé, l'officier acheteur doit s'assurer s'ils ont la taille réglementaire, l'apparence voulue, la force et l'action nécessaires. Ces chevaux doivent avoir moins de six ans. Avant l'achat définitif, un vétérinaire diplômé, l'officier acheteur excepté, doit s'assurer s'ils sont sains et bien portants, et il établit un certificat en ce sens pour l'acquisition de chaque cheval, séparément.

515. Dans les districts d'achat, où il y a un vétérinaire militaire attaché aux troupes permanentes, cet officier agit d'office comme vétérinaire inspecteur, cela faisant partie de son service ordinaire et ne donnant droit à aucune solde supplémentaire.

516. Quand il n'y a pas d'officier de cette catégorie présents, l'officier acheteur peut se procurer, pour cette inspection, les services d'un vétérinaire militaire quelconque ou d'un vétérinaire civil, dont la rémunération est fixée au taux suivant :—$1 par jour pour chaque cheval examiné, à moins qu'il n'en ait plus de trois, dans lequel cas la somme de 50 cents lui est accordée pour chaque cheval au-dessus de ce chiffre.

517. Un état des chevaux examinés, certifié par l'officier acheteur, doit accompagner les demandes de paiement par les vétérinaires inspecteurs.

518. Les bourgeois, employés comme membres des commissions d'achat de chevaux, seront payés $1 de l'heure, pour le temps de leur travail, jusqu'à concurrence de la somme de $5, qui ne doit pas être dépassée.

519. Aucune autre réclamation de paiement, en sus de la rémunération indiquée ci-dessus, ne sera acceptée par le département.

520. Les vétérinaires, qui examinent les chevaux lors de l'achat, sont responsables de leur condition et peuvent même être appelés à rembourser le département de ses frais, si, dans les quinze jours, qui suivent la date de l'examen des chevaux, au moment de l'achat, une commission d'officiers rejette, comme impropre au service, un animal qui a des défauts d'une nature tellement flagrante, qu'il était impossible de ne pas s'en apercevoir lors de l'examen.

521. Les chevaux, achetés dans les conditions indiquées ci-dessus, ne peuvent être rejetés que par autorisation de l'adjudant général ; cette autorisation s'obtient sur demande accompagnée du rapport de la commission d'officiers et d'un certificat d'un vétérinaire diplômé.

522. Quand on rejette des chevaux, on les fait vendre, sans garantie, à l'encan public, sur la place du marché ou ailleurs, par un encanteur autorisé. Le commandant délègue un officier pour assister à la vente et pour veiller à ce qu'il n'y ait pas d'entente pour empêcher la hausse des prix. Cet officier peut remettre la vente à plus tard, ou autrement, selon l'avis qu'il en reçoit de l'encanteur.

523. Aucun officier ou soldat, appartenant au corps où ces chevaux sont en vente, ne peut en acheter, directement ou indirectement.

524. Le commandant du corps, aussitôt que possible, après la vente, adresse à l'adjudant général un état de vente, signé et certifié par l'encanteur et l'officier surveillant, indiquant le prix obtenu pour chaque cheval, et le nom de son acheteur.

525. Les sommes provenant de ces ventes sont immédiatement versées par l'encanteur, dans une banque autorisée, au crédit du percepteur général.

526. Le certificat de dépôt, ou le certificat et la traite, selon le cas, tels que reçus de la banque, avec comptes certifiés pour tous frais incidentels, tels que honoraires de l'encanteur, annonces, etc., sont remis par l'encanteur au commandant du corps, qui certifie sur ces documents, que toutes les prescriptions des présents règlements ont été observées et qui les transmet ensuite aux quartiers généraux, avec toutes les pièces à l'appui de la transaction.

527. Les chevaux à queues longues conviennent mieux au service de l'armée. Les chevaux d'officiers, de troupe et de trait doivent avoir la queue d'au moins 21 pouces de long. Les officiers inspecteurs s'assureront que ces instructions sont observées.

SOIN DES CHEVAUX.

528. Tous les officiers des troupes à cheval doivent être bien pénétrés de l'importance capitale de prendre grand soin des chevaux.

529. Le degré de valeur militaire d'une troupe en temps de guerre est basé sur le dressage convenable des individus en temps de paix, et tous les officiers des troupes à cheval doivent bien se pénétrer que le soin des chevaux doit être considéré comme un des plus importants de leurs devoirs régimentaires.

530. Les instructions suivantes doivent être gravées dans l'esprit de tous et exécutées, chaque fois que cela est possible :—

(1) Les hommes ne devraient jamais être maintenus à cheval pour faire un service qu'ils peuvent aussi facilement faire à pied, et quand les officiers habituent leurs hommes à démontrer, ceux-ci le font d'instinct et d'habitude, quand ils sont détachés isolément pour un service quelconque. Démontrer, même dans les haltes de quelques minutes seulement, soulage à la fois l'homme et le cheval.

(2) En toutes circonstances, les vedettes veillent mieux à pied qu'à cheval, sont moins visibles à l'ennemi et soulagent ainsi leur chevaux.

(3) En marche, quand le mouvement se fait au pas, les hommes doivent fréquemment mettre pied à terre et conduire leurs chevaux.

(4) Quand le terrain le permet, les troupes doivent marcher sur un front étendu, et les files, ouvertes, pour éviter la poussière et permettre la circulation de l'air entre les rangs.

(5) Les commandants de colonnes doivent régler l'allure de marche sur le cheval le plus lent, ou sur l'arme la plus lente de la colonne et étudier le terrain propice à chaque groupe. Sur une route dure, de niveau ou dans la descente de pentes, les chevaux de trait se fatiguent moins que les chevaux de cavalerie, tandis que sur une surface molle, surtout sablonneuse, ou dans les longues montées, les chevaux de trait souffrent beaucoup plus que ceux de cavalerie. Si les chevaux sont continuellement tenus à une trop grande allure, il est impossible, en cas d'urgence, de les pousser à un temps de galop, quand une plus grande vitesse est nécessaire.

(6) L'importance de faire fréquemment boire et manger les chevaux, doit toujours être présente à l'esprit de tous. L'estomac du cheval est de petite dimension et ne peut digérer une grande quantité de nourriture à la fois. Quand un cheval est inévitablement privé de nourriture pendant longtemps, la première portion doit être petite, et une plus grande quantité de nourriture lui est ensuite servie, après un repos de deux heures.

COLLEGE MILITAIRE ROYAL DU CANADA.

531. Les personnes qui désirent entrer au collège militaire royal du Canada, en font la demande au commandant du district où elles résident et celui-ci leur fournit toutes les informations nécessaires.

EFFETS MILITAIRES EXEMPTS DES DROITS DE DOUANE.

532. Les tailleurs militaires ou autres, qui importent des effets d'habillement militaires, ou des étoffes, pour en fabriquer, ainsi que des armes, des effets d'équipement, etc., pour l'usage de la milice du Canada ou de corps de cadets dûment organisés, reçoivent ces objets exempts de frais de douane. Ceci est accordé par le ministre des Douanes, qui agit avec l'autorisation du Gouverneur en conseil. Cette exemption de droits de douanes n'est admise que sur production de documents, donnant des détails, sur les objets importés, le montant de droits qui devraient être payés, avec, à l'appui, un certificat du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, ou du sous-ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, spécifiant que l'effet ou les effets, manufacturés ou non, ont été directement achetés par l'importateur et vendus au dit département, ou à un officier de la milice, pour l'usage exclusif de cet officier ou de la milice canadienne, et que cet effet ou ces effets, ainsi achetés et reçus, sont impropres à tout autre usage que celui indiqué ci-dessus.

533. Un officier de la milice, qui importe, pour son propre usage et pour l'usage de son corps, des effets ainsi que décrits plus haut, peut obtenir l'autorisation de les recevoir exempts des droits de douane, pourvu que le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense ou le sous-ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, certifie que ces effets sont importés pour l'usage exclusif de cet officier ou de son corps et qu'ils sont impropres à tout autre usage que celui indiqué ci-dessus.

534. Un officier de la milice, qui importe pour l'usage de son corps, des instruments de musique, peut les recevoir exempts des droits de douane, pourvu que le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, ou le sous-ministre de la Milice et de la Défense certifie que ces instruments appartiennent réellement à ce corps, et non à des membres de ce corps.

535. Les officiers, ou autres personnes, désirant obtenir l'exemption des droits de douane pour des effets militaires, doivent écrire au dos de la facture ou de tout autre document analogue un certificat conforme à l'ordre en conseil mentionné plus haut (article 532) afin que le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense ou le sous-ministre de la Milice et de la Défense puisse prendre les dispositions nécessaires pour faire accorder cette exemption.

536. Cette demande est transmise aux quartiers généraux par la voie hiérarchique ordinaire.

538. La solde d'état-major d'un officier nommé à l'état-major date du jour où cet officier prend le service de son emploi.

539. Le taux de la solde d'état-major est basé sur l'emploi rempli à l'état-major et non sur le grade de l'officier qui remplit cet emploi.

540. Les officiers permanents d'état-major ou des troupes permanentes, occupant des emplois temporaires d'état-major donnant droit à une solde plus élevée, touchent la solde de leur emploi permanent et on y ajoute la différence entre la solde de leur emploi permanent et celle de leur emploi temporaire, à l'état-major.

541. Les officiers, attachés aux troupes permanentes, pour les services, reçoivent la solde du grade qu'ils possèdent temporairement dans l'unité permanente où ils servent, sans tenir compte de leur grade dans la milice. Le temps de service passé dans les unités de la milice active ne compte pas comme donnant droit à une augmentation de solde du grade correspondant dans les forces permanentes, quand les intéressés ont accompli une certaine période de service.

542. Les grades honoraires ou par brevet ne donnent aucun droit à la solde, aux allocations et au choix de logement, de plus que les droits qui leur sont acquis par leur réel grade réglementaire.

Il doit être clairement compris que la solde supplémentaire pour bons service et aptitude est en sus du tarif ci-dessus.

Solde de commandement.

544. Aucun officier n'a droit à toucher plus d'une seule solde de commandement.

Indemnités pour chevaux.

545. Les officiers montés, les hommes des troupes à cheval, les officiers montés des autres corps et les officiers montés d'état-major, s'ils fournissent leurs propres chevaux, sont payés $1 par jour, pour chaque cheval, pendant une période ne dépassant pas 60 jours et reçoivent en sus le fourrage gratuit. Si le service dure plus de 60 jours, l'indemnité n'est plus que de 50 cents par jour, pour les jours qui suivent. Un officier ou un homme ne touche l'indemnité de son cheval que lorsqu'il est absolument requis d'être monté dans son service, et sur certificat usuel qu'il était pourvu d'un cheval pendant la période pour laquelle il réclame cette indemnité et que ce cheval était sa propriété particulière. Si l'on n'a pas besoin de paille, son équivalent en foin ou en avoine peut être distribué sur demande.

546. Dans un régiment d'infanterie, les indemnités pour chevaux, sont touchées par le commandant, par un officier supérieur du régiment, par l'adjutant et le médecin, si celui-ci possède un certificat d'équitation.

547. Aucun officier monté ne peut toucher d'indemnité pour plus d'un cheval, employé à son usage personnel.

548. L'indemnité pour chevaux comprend tous les frais de ferrage pendant les périodes de manœuvres.

549. Quand un officier ou un homme monté est absent du camp, il n'a droit ni à l'indemnité, ni aux rations pour son cheval, pendant la journée ou les jours de son absence.

550. Avant de payer les indemnités, le commandant doit certifier de sa propre écriture, à la fin de l'état de paiement de ces indemnités, que chaque officier, sous-officier ou soldat, pour qui ces paiements sont demandés, était présent à son corps et a fait le nombre de jours de dressage, indiqué vis-à-vis de son nom.

553. Les corps organisés qui ont droit à ces indemnités sont ceux approuvés par le Gouverneur en conseil. On ne doit, en aucun cas, dépasser le nombre de corps fixés sur les états d'organisation (establishments). Les hommes désignés comme simples soldats doivent être présents comme tels dans les rangs et accomplir ainsi la période entière d'exercice. On ne doit pas compter comme simples soldats les musiciens surnuméraires, les clairons et les tambours, à moins qu'ils ne soient dans le rang, et n'aient prouvé qu'ils sont capables de remplir efficacement les devoirs de l'arme à laquelle ils appartiennent.

556. Les instructeurs des corps de cadets, qui assistent aux cours d'instruction dans les écoles, ont droit aux mêmes indemnités de monture, de transport et de subsistance que les officiers de la milice.

557. Les officiers et les sous-officiers, ayant le grade de sergents, attachés aux écoles royales d'instruction pour un cours spécial d'au moins 7 jours, ou pour un cours d'équitation pour officiers des corps à pied, ne dépassant pas 28 jours, on droit, s'ils passent l'examen requis, à une indemnité de $1 par jour, pour les officiers, et 50 cents, pour les sous-officiers.

558. Les sous-officiers brevetés, les sous-officiers et les hommes de la milice active, à l'exception des troupes permanentes, touchent la solde d'efficacité, aux conditions et aux tarifs indiqués ci-dessous :—

1. Tarif de solde.

1re année.	2ème année.	3ème année et après.
$0.20	$0.40	$0.50

2. Conditions.

(a) Etre dûment engagés dans un corps de la milice, excepté dans les troupes permanentes.

(b) Avoir exécuté, à chaque dressage annuel, le nombre de jours d'exercices prescrits pour le corps auquel ils appartiennent.

(c) S'être mis à la suite de ces exercices annuels, passablement au courant des devoirs du corps auquel ils appartiennent, et de l'usage de l'arme avec laquelle ils sont armés.

(d) Ne pas avoir subi de punition plus forte qu'une réprimande pour un sous-officier, et qu'un avertissement, pour un soldat.

3. Si, à la fin des exercices annuels, un sous-officier breveté, un sous-officier ou un homme, n'a pas rempli toutes les conditions indiquées ci-dessus, il perd ses droits à la solde d'efficacité pour l'année courante, et ne touche que la solde brute de son grade.

559. Les demandes des officiers, des sous-officiers et des hommes pour transporter leur solde à leur femme et à leur famille doivent porter la signature de la personne qui désire faire le transfert, le nombre de jours de solde à transporter, le nom et l'adresse en toutes lettres de la personne en faveur de laquelle le transfert est fait, ainsi que le nom et l'adresse du parent le plus rapproché.

561. Ces états de solde transférés sont transmis par le commandant du corps en quatre expéditions, comme suit : une copie à l'officier payeur principal et d'approvisionnement, une copie à l'officier payeur de brigade ou de division des troupes de campagne auxquelles les corps sont attachés, une copie au ministre de la Milice et de la Défense (section de la comptabilité), aux quartiers généraux, et une copie au commandant du district auquel appartient le corps.

562. Chaque capitaine de compagnie garde une copie de l'état de solde transférée, et chaque officier payeur de régiment garde, dans les archives de son bureau, les états régimentaires de cette solde.

563. Les états de solde mensuels de régiment portent le nom de chaque officier et de chaque homme, avec la solde qui leur est due pour chaque jour qu'ils ont servi pendant le mois, et dans la colonne de retenues est inscrit le montant de la "solde transférée" à être déduit; et dans la colonne de remarques, on doit indiquer le nombre de jours de solde transférée à déduire.

564. Les états de solde mensuels sont établis par lettre alphabétique, avec le numéro régimentaire des sous-officiers et des hommes.

565. Les demandes de solde faites par les officiers payeurs de régiment, de brigade ou de division, ou par d'autres payeurs, doivent porter le montant total de la solde de leur corps ou de leur commandement, pour la période pour laquelle cette solde est requise, et le montant de la solde transférée doit être déduit de la manière suivante:—

Montant total de la demande... ..$
Moins déduction pour solde transférée..$

Montant net requis... ..$

566. Les officiers payeurs de brigade ou de division peuvent faire des avances de solde, sur demande des officiers payeurs de régiment, et transmettre le montant de la solde transférée à l'officier payeur du district, ou à d'autres payeurs qui ont mission de payer cette solde transférée à qui de droit.

Solde générale.

567. La solde pour les emplois d'état-major et de régiment ne doit être accordée qu'à une seule personne pour la même période.

568. Aucun officier ou homme n'a droit de toucher la solde pour plus d'un emploi.

569. Il est bien compris que le tarif de solde établi pour l'état-major et les régiments comprend toute la solde et que les officiers ou les hommes qui touchent leur solde conformément à ce tarif, cessent d'avoir droit à tout autre solde provenant des fonds de la milice.

570. Un officier de régiment d'un certain grade, qui remplit temporairement les fonctions d'un grade supérieur, ne reçoit que la solde de son grade réel, mais il peut recevoir les allocations de campagne attribuées au grade supérieur, dont il remplit les fonctions.

571. Un officier, détaché à l'état-major où ailleurs, qui touche une solde plus élevée que celle comprise dans le tarif de solde pour le service actif, continue à recevoir la solde de son emploi du moment, avec les indemnités de monture et de campagne autorisées pour le service en campagne, quand il est temporairement détaché pour le service avec une troupe en campagne. En pareil cas, pendant la période de son absence en détachement au service actif, il touche sa solde sur les fonds appropriés au paiement de ce service. La solde et les allocations de l'emploi auquel il est attaché, cessent pendant la période de son absence, en service actif, à moins que le ministre de la Milice n'en autorise le paiement à un autre officier pour l'accomplissement temporaire du service pour lequel cette solde a été autorisée.

572. Aucune somme d'argent n'est payée à moins d'être comprise dans une partie quelconque du budget approuvé par le Parlement.

573. Les paiements pour les exercices ne sont faits que sur preuves que ces exercices ont été exécutés conformément aux règlements, et que le corps intéressé a fait les progrès exigés par les ordres de Sa Majesté. Un officier ou un homme absent de l'exercice n'a pas droit à la solde qui y est attribuée.

Officiers vétérinaires—Solde supplémentaire.

575. Il est accordé deux jours de solde supplémentaire aux officiers vétérinaires des régiments de cavalerie et des brigades d'artillerie de campagne pour l'inspection des chevaux avant les manœuvres annuelles, et un jour aux vétérinaires des unités de carabine et d'artillerie de moindre importance, pour le même service.

Certificats d'états de solde.

576. Les certificats suivants sont joints aux états de solde, savoir:—

1° Certificat du commandant de l'escadron, de la batterie ou de la compagnie.

Commandant.

2° Certificat de l'officier payeur du camp.

"Je certifie que chaque officier, sous-officier ou homme, pour lequel on touche la solde sur cet état, était présent et a répondu à son nom à la revue d'effectif faite par moi à.....le.....et que le montant de solde touché dans chaque cas est conforme au tableau fixé par les règlements."

3° Certificat du commandant du district.

"J'ai comparé les noms contenus dans l'état de solde ci-haut avec les états d'effectifs de....(mettre ici l'escadron, la batterie ou la compagnie)....et je certifie que les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes qui y sont inscrits, ont droit à la solde, d'après*.....

(Signé).....

Commandant du district

Les officiers qui signent ces certificats doivent bien se pénétrer des prescriptions contenues dans l'Acte de la Milice, concernant le service de la solde.

* Insérer ici le paragraphe des règlements ou de tout autre document officiel qui autorise cette solde.

Un duplicata de l'état de revue d'effectifs devrait aussi être joint à l'état de solde.

Allocations.

577. Le tableau suivant des allocations de subsistance dans les camps d'instruction est autorisé:—

	Par jour.
Commandant du camp.....	$5 00
Officiers employés à l'état-major par ordre des quartiers généraux.....	2 50
Officiers de la milice active, attachés pour le service aux unités des troupes permanentes.....	2 50
Officiers des troupes permanentes et officiers qui devancent leur corps pour une période ne dépassant pas deux jours... ..	1 50
Sous-officiers et hommes qui devancent leur corps pour une période ne dépassant pas deux jours... ..	50

Quand on touche ces allocations, on n'a pas droit aux rations en nature.

578. Tout sous-officier, faisant partie de l'effectif autorisé de l'état-major d'un camp, reçoit une allocation de 50 cents par jour en sus de la solde de son grade, en remplacement de rations.

579. Les corps de la milice active qui font l'exercice au camp ou à leur chef-lieu, et qui fournissent des voitures, reçoivent 50 cents par jour pour chaque voiture, pendant le nombre de jours autorisés.

580. Le député assistant quartier-maître général, et le sous-officier ou soldat qui l'aide, reçoivent la solde et les allocations pour les jours pendant lesquels les groupes qui ont devancé leur corps, sont au camp.

Les détachements qui précèdent leur corps au camp, ainsi que ceux qui sont désignées, en cas de mauvais temps, pour rester au camp après le départ des troupes, pour lever le camp, etc., ont droit à la solde et aux allocations.

581. Comme il n'est pas distribué de rations aux instructeurs qui font leur service loin de leur corps, ils reçoivent une allocation de $1 par jour, pour défrayer le coût de leur subsistance, et cette allocation est comprise sur l'état du solde du régiment. Quand ils sont détachés pour le service dans un corps de la milice active, qui reçoit une allocation pour l'instruction de l'exercice, leurs frais de subsistance sont supportés par les corps qui requièrent leurs services. Les instructeurs, dans les camps, ne reçoivent pas l'allocation indiquée ci-dessus, mais ils sont attachés à d'autres corps, pour percevoir leurs rations.

Allocation de campagne—Service actif.

582. Cette allocation est accordée pour aider les officiers à défrayer les frais qu'ils sont généralement exposés à encourir à leur entrée en service actif.

583. Le tarif de l'allocation de campagne, qui est basé sur le grade régimentaire de chaque officier de régiment, et, dans le cas d'un officier d'état-major ou d'un officier départemental sur le grade de l'emploi qu'il peut avoir, est fixé comme suit:—

Officier supérieur.....	$1 00
Capitaine.....	75
Lieutenant.....	60

584. Les officiers, de service avec des troupes engagées en des opérations militaires en campagne, en temps de guerre ou d'insurrection, existant réellement ou prévues seulement, reçoivent (sujette aux restrictions contenues dans l'article suivant) une allocation de 30, 60 ou 90 jours d'avance, selon l'importance des opérations auxquelles ces troupes sont employées. L'allocation date du jour où l'ordre est donné aux troupes de se mettre en campagne. La période pour laquelle cette avance est faite est fixée par le ministre de la Milice.

585. Une nouvelle avance d'allocation ne sera pas faite pour le même service, ni pour un service différent, dans les douze mois qui suivent. Si le service actif en campagne se continue au delà de la période pour laquelle la première avance a été faite, et que les officiers restent sous la tente, l'allocation pour une plus longue période est accordée, sous titre d'allocation journalière arriérée.

586. Un officier, appartenant aux troupes en activité, et qui n'a pas antérieurement reçu l'allocation de campagne, touche l'avance autorisée, en recevant l'ordre de rejoindre les troupes en campagne. La période pour laquelle cette avance est autorisée, compte de la date de son départ de sa station pour rejoindre les troupes.

587. Quand un officier, qui a reçu une avance d'allocation de campagne au taux de l'état-major régimentaire, ou de la position d'officier départemental qu'il occupe, vient à avoir droit à la suite d'une promotion ou d'une nomination, (qui a lieu pendant la période pour laquelle l'avance a été touchée par lui), à une allocation de campagne plus élevée, il n'aura pas droit à une avance additionnelle, mais il recevra, pendant cette période, la différence entre l'ancienne et la nouvelle allocation, pour les journées pendant lesquelles il sera réellement sous la tente. Cette différence, cependant, ne sera accordée que du jour de la date de l'ordre général qui la promulgue, et aucune avance de cette différence d'allocation ne sera faite à l'officier intéressé.

588. Un officier qui a reçu une avance d'allocation de campagne, mais qui quitte les troupes avec lesquelles il sert, à la suite de maladie ou de blessures, ou sur ordre d'aller faire le service ailleurs, ne sera pas susceptible de rembourser à l'Etat aucune fraction de cette somme. S'il quitte les troupes pour toute autre cause, il doit rembourser la fraction de l'avance pour la période qui suit son abandon des troupes en campagne.

589. Un capitaine qui prend temporairement le commandement de son régiment a droit à l'allocation d'un officier supérieur. Un lieutenant qui prend temporairement le commandement d'une compagnie a droit à l'allocation d'une capitaine, et une copie de l'ordre du régiment qui lui donne le commandement d'une compagnie, est jointe à sa demande pour une allocation plus élevée. Les lieutenants qui commandent des détachements de compagnies n'ont droit qu'à l'allocation de leur grade.

590. Un officier, en aucune circonstance, ne doit toucher plus d'une seule allocation de campagne.

591. Quand un officier qui a reçu une avance d'allocation de campagne, vient, par hasard, pendant le temps pour lequel cette avance a été perçue, à occuper un logement en caserne ou en ville, il n'est forcé de rembourser aucune fraction de l'avance d'allocation de campagne qu'il a touchée antérieurement.

592. S'il est porté sur l'état de logement, au moment de son départ pour le camp, le fait qu'il continue à toucher une allocation de logement pour une période quelconque, ne lui enlève pas ses droits à l'allocation de campagne.

593. L'allocation de campagne n'est pas accordée (quand la période d'avance est expirée) pour les jours pendant lesquels on touche les allocations de voyage au complet.

594. Les demandes d'allocation de campagne doivent invariablement avoir à l'appui les pièces suivantes:—

(1) Une copie de l'ordre qui commande aux troupes d'aller sous la tente.

(2) Un certificat (excepté pour une demande d'avance) prouvant que les requérants étaient réellement présents sous la tente pendant les jours pour lesquels l'allocation est demandée.

(3) Un certificat (excepté pour une demande d'avance) démontrant que les requérants ne reçoivent pas les allocations de voyage au complet pour aucun des jours pour lesquels l'allocation de campagne est demandée.

(4) Un certificat (excepté pour une demande d'avance) prouvant que les requérants n'occupaient pas de logement ou ne touchaient ni allocation de logement ou d'écurie (excepté dans le cas prévu aux articles 591 et 592, ci-dessus).

595. Les officiers qui se déplacent, par ordre des autorités compétentes, pour aller accomplir un devoir public, ont droit aux remboursement de leurs dépenses réelles de transport par chemin de fer ou autrement, au tarif réglementaire, à condition que ce déplacement se soit fait dans des conditions raisonnables et de manière à accomplir les ordres donnés, sans délai inutile. Si le déplacement se fait par chemin de fer ou par bateau, on doit obtenir une réquisition de transport. (Voir les règlements concernant les transports.)

596. Une allocation pour rencontrer toutes les dépenses de voyage, excepté le transport, est accordée aux officiers qui marchent à pied ou sont transportés en chemin de fer avec leurs troupes, au taux de $2.50 par jour, pour chaque jour du voyage, y compris le jour du départ et celui de l'arrivée.

Cette allocation n'est pas accordée aux officiers qui marchent avec des colonnes volantes, quand ils touchent des rations en marche, ou quand le voyage se fait par eau, si les repas de la cabine sont compris dans le prix du passage.

597. Le tarif de l'allocation accordée aux officiers appartenant aux quartiers généraux et aux états-majors des districts, est fixée de temps en temps par les quartiers généraux.

598. Les officiers qui voyagent pour le service, ont droit au remboursement de leurs frais légitimes de subsistance. Les demandes pour les frais de voyage et de subsistance sont faites en détail et transmises aux quartiers généraux par la voie hiérarchique ordinaire.

599. Il doit être rendu compte de toute avance faite d'après le tarif réglementaire, dans le mois qui suit la fin du voyage. On doit se servir des modèles C 52 pour le transport, et C 53 pour les frais de subsistance.

600. Les sous-officiers et les hommes qui voyagent pour le service de l'Etat, reçoivent une allocation de subsistance, comme suit:—

	Par jour.
Sous-officiers d'un grade supérieur à celui de caporal	$1 00
Autres grades	60

601. Les sous-officiers brevetés sont traités sur le même pied que les officiers pour les allocations de voyage et de subsistance.

Solde de commandement (command pay) et d'exercice.

602. Les commandants d'escadrons, de batteries de campagne, de compagnies d'artillerie de forteresse, d'unités du génie, de compagnies d'infanterie, de compagnies du service de train des équipages militaires (army corps) et de compagnies de brancardiers ou des ambulances de campagne, reçoivent $1 pour chaque sous-officier et soldat présents aux exercices annuels, à titre de solde de commandement, d'instruction d'exercices et de timbres.

603. En ce qui concerne les corps ruraux de cavalerie, d'artillerie de forteresse, des régiments d'infanterie ou de chasseurs à pied (rifles), de pas moins de deux escadrons ou de quatre compagnies, chaque commandant (en sus des allocations accordées aux officiers indiqués ci-après) reçoit, à titre de solde de commandement et d'instruction d'exercice, 60 cents pour chaque sous-officier et chaque homme, de chaque escadron ou compagnie.

604. Les corps qui ne reçoivent pas l'ordre de faire leur exercices annuels, pendant une année quelconque, n'ont droit, pour cette année, qu'à une somme égale à la moitié de celle payée pour le dressage de l'année précédente, comme solde de commandement et d'instruction d'exercices.

605. Les indemnités indiquées aux articles 602 et 603 sont payables à la fin des exercices annuels et à la fin de l'année budgétaire pour les corps qui n'ont pas fait d'exercices annuels.

Ustensiles de campement.

606. Chaque corps qui reçoit l'ordre de prendre du service ou d'aller camper pour le dressage annuel, reçoit l'indemnité suivante pour ustensiles de cuisine et de campement, sur certificat du député assistant quartier-maître général, indiquant que ces ustensiles ont été utiles.

Pour toute escadron de cavalerie ou de chasseurs à cheval (infanterie montée), toute batterie de campagne, compagnie d'artillerie de forteresse et du génie (de l'effectif le plus élevé) et du train des équipages	$10 00
Pour toute compagnie d'artillerie de garnison, de chasseurs à cheval (de l'effectif le moins élevé), d'infanterie ou de chasseurs à pied, de brancardiers, d'ambulances de campagnes	$ 6 00

Indemnités pour cibles, etc.

607. Une batterie d'artillerie de campagne, ou une compagnie d'artillerie de forteresse, qui fait son tir annuel au canon, pendant la durée du camp, a droit à dix dollars pour l'achat de cibles, etc.

Marqueurs.

608. Une solde de travail de 25 cents par jour est accordée aux hommes qui sont employés comme marqueurs et signaleurs ou comme groupes de tirailleurs aux champs de tir de l'artillerie, ou marqueurs au tir d'infanterie.

Ces demandes de solde sont établies et certifiées par l'officier qui surveille ces tirs, et transmises sur un état de solde à part.

609. Aucune solde n'est accordée aux hommes, détachés comme marqueurs, qui sont ensuite renvoyés comme impropres à ce service.

Cours et commissions médicales.

610. Quand une cour martiale ou une cour d'enquête est convoquée, la solde et l'indemnité des membres sont les mêmes que pour le service actif, selon le grade de chacun; mais les officiers qui touchent déjà leur solde entière ailleurs, à l'époque de la réunion de ces cours, y servent comme membres, sans avoir droit à aucune rémunération supplémentaire.

Indemnité de recrutement.

611. Il est accordé une indemnité de $1 pour chaque homme enrôlé et quand il a été définitivement acceptée comme bon pour le service par les troupes permanentes.

Cette indemnité est payée aux sous-officiers et soldats des troupes permanentes, pour toute recrue dûment acceptée et assermentée. Un reçu en double est transmis par les officiers commandants comme pièces à l'appui de cette dépense.

Indemnités pour l'arrestation de déserteurs.

612. Une récompense de dix dollars est accordée à toute personne pour l'arrestation d'un sous-officier ou d'un homme des troupes permanentes, ou d'un sous-officier ou d'un homme attaché à ces troupes, qui a été déclaré déserteur par une cour d'enquête, ou qui, étant arrêté en absence illégale, est, dans la suite, condamné par une cour martiale pour désertion ou tentative de désertion.

Transport.

613. On peut exécuter les transports de trois manières: 1° par eau; 2° par chemin de fer; 3° par voitures à roues l'été, et par sleighs l'hiver. Le transport par eau, quand il peut se faire pour tout le trajet et qu'on en a le temps, est le plus commode et le meilleur marché pour le gros matériel, mais, quand ce transport est interrompu par des transbordements dans le trajet, cette dernière dépense doit être soupesée, avant de choisir le transport par eau pour un déplacement quelconque.

614. Le transport des objets de campement, du bagage léger et des munitions de chaque corps, en marche, doit se faire au moyen des voitures réglementaires.

615. Les commandants de corps se procurent les moyens de transport pour les effets de campements, à raison d'un fourgon ou d'un sleigh double, l'hiver, pour vingt-six tentes complètes, et pour le bagage léger des officiers, d'un fourgon ou d'un sleigh double, en hiver, pour un régiment de huit compagnies. En tous cas, les commandants sont responsables des frais supplémentaires, s'ils se procurent plus de moyens de transport qu'il n'en faut.

616. Quand un corps rural reçoit l'ordre de s'embarquer sur un train, son commandant doit s'assurer que le chef de gare est parfaitement au courant du jour, de l'heure et du train que le régiment doit prendre.

617. Les commandants de corps doivent prendre toutes leurs dispositions pour que leur troupes soient en gare à temps, c'est-à-dire environ une demi-heure avant l'heure fixée pour le départ de leur train, pour que ce train n'éprouve aucun retard.

618. Les commandants des corps ruraux doivent faire savoir à leur commandant de district la gare où il leur est plus facile de faire embarquer les officiers montés et leurs chevaux, afin que tous montent ensemble à bord du train, avec le moins de délai possible.

619. Quand les escadrons de cavalerie, les batteries d'artillerie de campagne et les unités du génie reçoivent l'ordre de se rendre au camp, pour le dressage annuel, ou de prendre du service actif, leurs commandants doivent faire, d'avance, une demande de sacs à avoine, s'ils sont nécessaires pour nourrir les chevaux en route.

620. Les canons, les caissons et les fourgons sont généralement transportés sur des wagons plats, et ils doivent être solidement attachés pour les empêcher de tomber du wagon, à la suite des secousses du train dans les pentes et les courbes, ou ailleurs.

621. Quand les hommes voyagent en bateau ou en chemin de fer, ils doivent avoir chacun un siège dans les voitures ou un espace suffisant à bord du bateau. Les commandants veillent à cela et placent des postes sur le train ou sur le bateau. Il n'est pas permis aux hommes de monter à bord d'un train et d'y demeurer, avec la baïonnette fixée au but du canon.

622. Le commandant doit s'assurer que le train est pourvu d'eau potable, que les spiritueux qui pourraient être en la possession des hommes, sont confisqués, et à bord du bateau, que les hommes ne vont pas trop au bar. On doit aussi prévenir les hommes que tous les dommages faits au train ou au bateau seront payés sur leur solde.

623. Les officiers doivent fréquemment visiter leurs hommes, pendant le voyage, pour veiller à leurs besoins et assurer le bon ordre. Pendant la nuit, un officier par compagnie, en sus de l'officier de service, doit aussi fréquemment visiter les hommes. Les hommes ne doivent pas quitter le train ou le bateau pendant le voyage, sans une permission spéciale de qui de droit.

624. Les troupes ne doivent pas être déplacées d'un district à un autre sans autorité des quartiers généraux.

625. Sauf en cas d'urgence, les réquisitions de transport des officiers et des hommes, au frais de l'Etat, sont établies par le plus ancien officier d'état-major présent, de service, dans le district où ces moyens de transport sont nécessaires. La même règle s'applique aux réquisitions de transport d'articles d'équipement qui doivent être mis au magasin.

626. Les réquisitions de transport par chemin de fer sont établies pour le nombre d'officiers, d'hommes, de chevaux et pour le poids du matériel, et non pour le nombre de wagons nécessaires. Les compagnies de chemin de fer, de leur côté, veillent à ce que le nombre de voitures soit suffisant, qu'il y a de l'eau, tout le confort voulu et l'espace nécessaire pour les bagages personnels, qui sont transportés gratuitement.

627. Les trains spéciaux, ou les wagons spéciaux pour chevaux, pour lesquels les compagnies de chemin de fer font payer un prix de location plus élevé, ne peuvent être réquisitionnés sans l'autorité des quartiers généraux.

628. Aucun moyen de transport n'est accordé à un individu quelconque, à moins qu'il ne voyage réellement pour le service et qu'il produise l'ordre lui donnant droit au transport pour lui et pour ce qu'il lui faut prendre avec lui. Les officiers qui voyagent en permission ou en congé, n'ont pas droit aux moyens de transport aux frais de l'Etat. Les mots suivants sont imprimés ou écrits, à l'encre rouge, à travers le recto de toute réquisition pour transport de voyageurs:—“ Cette réquisition doit être échangée à la gare, avant de prendre le train, car elle ne sera pas acceptée en paiement de passage par le conducteur du train.” L'officier qui donne une réquisition doit prévenir le porteur de l'échange contre un billet régulier à la gare de départ.

629. Les officiers qui voyagent pour le service doivent toujours se procurer les réquisitions nécessaires de transport, chaque fois que cela est possible, d'un officier qui est autorisé à en accorder.

630. Un reçu provisoire du nombre d'officiers, de sous-officiers, d'hommes et de chevaux de toute unité transportée de son chef-lieu au camp, est remis par son commandant au chemin de fer ou au bateau, en partant pour le camp; et dans l'intervalle entre la formation et la levée du camp, une réquisition régulière, pour le trajet, aller et retour, est fournie par le commandant du camp. Cette réquisition est établie en se basant sur les chiffres des états de solde et des états d'effectifs de chaque unité, chiffres fournis par l'officier payeur du camp. Si, par hasard, il est prouvé que le reçu provisoire porte plus de monde qu'il en existait réellement au départ pour le camp, l'officier payeur du camp retient à l'officier qui a commis l'erreur, une somme suffisante pour parer à toute éventualité, en attendant le règlement du litige. Quand des hommes sont renvoyés dans leurs foyers, pendant la période du camp, une note explicative de la chose est jointe à la réquisition pour le voyage, aller et retour.

631. Une indemnité est accordée, au tarif indiqué ci-dessous, pour le transport des bagages régimentaires au camp, aller et retour:—

Officier	50 cents.
Sous-officier ou homme	10 cents.

Cette indemnité doit faire face aux frais de transport des bagages, du chef-lieu de l'unité à la gare de chemin de fer, ou au quai du bateau, et des terminus au camp, et pour le retour au chef-lieu. Les demandes pour cette allocation sont établies sur le modèle C 58 de la milice et transmises au commandant du camp.

632. Les moyens de transport ne sont accordés qu'aux officiers et aux hommes, dont les noms figurent sur les états de solde d'un corps qui a reçu l'ordre d'aller camper, ou à ceux dont l'emploi à l'état-major a été autorisé aux quartiers généraux.

633. Les corps de troupes qui reçoivent l'indemnité de marche n'ont pas droit aux allocations ci-haut.

634. Les compagnies d'infanterie et les unités à pied du génie, dont les chefs-lieux sont à plus de six milles de la gare ou du quai d'où ils doivent recevoir les moyens de transport, ont droit à six cents par officier et à quatre cents par homme, par mille, pour le trajet nécessaire à la gare ou au quai, pour l'aller et le retour. Une indemnité semblable est accordée aux compagnies dont les chefs-lieux sont à plus de six milles du camp, quand le trajet ne peut se faire que par voiture, à cause de l'absence de bateaux ou de voies ferrées. L'indemnité de quatre cents est accordée aux hommes à pied de tous les corps.

635. Les batteries de campagne et les escadrons de cavalerie marcheront au camp, si la distance ne dépasse pas six milles. Si la distance est plus de six milles et moins de vingt-cinq, une indemnité de quatre cents par mille est accordée pour tous les hommes qui ne peuvent être transportés à cheval, sur les caissons ou les fourgons de la batterie.

636. Les frais de transport du chef-lieu des corps au camp, aller et retour, pour les sous-officiers et les hommes reconnus impropres au service, sont retenus aux officiers d'escadron, de batterie et de compagnie qui les ont amenés.

637. Quand la milice, en service actif, est en marche ou cantonnée à un endroit quelconque du Dominion du Canada, tout juge de paix, sur une réquisition par écrit du commandant, disant qu'il a besoin de tant de voitures ou sleighs, doit se conformer à cette demande et ordonner aux personnes qui possèdent ces véhicules dans l'étendue de sa juridiction, de les réunir le plus tôt possible à un endroit indiqué. Quand une personne refuse de se rendre à cette injonction, on lui prend ses voitures, etc., de force, mais les voitures, les chevaux, les bœufs, etc., ainsi réquisitionnés, ne doivent être forcés d'aller plus de trente milles de leur point de départ, à moins de ne pouvoir être remplacés immédiatement. Les véhicules et les bêtes ainsi réquisitionnés sont payés à raison de $1 par jour pour chaque animal, et 50 cents pour chaque charrette, fourgon ou sleigh.

638. La réquisition par force de véhicules pour le transport des bagages ne doit avoir lieu que dans les cas suivants:—

- (1) En cas d'urgence, quand le louage entraînerait du délai.
- (2) Quand il est impossible de louer des véhicules.
- (3) Quand les prix de louage demandés sont excessifs.

639. Dans les cas d'urgence, quand il est nécessaire de se procurer des moyens rapides et immédiats de transport par eau ou voie ferrée, pour la milice, en service actif, ainsi que les munitions, le matériel, les approvisionnements et les bagages, le juge de paix de l'endroit, sur réception d'une demande par écrit du commandant des troupes pour les wagons, locomotives, bateaux, etc., nécessaires au transport de ses troupes, ses munitions, etc., ordonne aux personnes qui sont propriétaires des véhicules indiqués ci-dessus, de les mettre immédiatement à la disposition des troupes. Le tarif de louage, qui ne doit pas dépasser le tarif réglementaire, est fixé par le juge de paix lui-même. Si les possesseurs des moyens de transport indiqués ci-dessus refusent de se rendre à l'injonction du juge de paix, leur propriété est réquisitionnée de force. Mais rien dans le présent article ne doit diminuer l'effet de toute action forçant une compagnie de chemin de fer à transporter ces troupes ou les objets indiqués ci-dessus, en ce qui concerne les termes ou conditions de cette action, enfin rien ici n'est susceptible d'exonérer une compagnie de chemin de fer d'une obligation ou d'une amende qui aurait pu lui être imposée à la suite de son refus d'obéir aux injonctions du juge de paix.

640. Dans les cas d'urgence, quand des moyens de transport immédiats sont nécessaires pour la milice, en service actif, et que la réquisition voulue ne peut être obtenue à temps du plus ancien officier d'état-major du district, le commandant du corps établit la demande ordinaire, spécifiant le corps, le nom de l'endroit pour lequel on de-mande le transport, aller et retour, le nombre d'officiers et d'hommes, la description du matériel à transporter, et en même temps il joint à cette demande l'ordre qui commande à son corps de se déplacer.

641. Le tableau du tarif suivant, le même que celui en vigueur en Grande-Bretagne, est, par les présents, adopté et établi pour le transport des troupes et du matériel militaire, par voie ferrée, savoir:—

Les troupes, à partir de l'individu isolé, jusqu'aux groupes de 125, sont transportées aux taux pour chaque homme de deux tiers du prix payé par un voyageur particulier, pour le même trajet et la même classe de voitures.

Les corps de troupes dépassant 125 en nombre sont transportés à deux tiers de place pour les premiers 125, et à demi-place pour le reste.

Les corps de troupes dépassant 125 en nombre, et qui doivent faire le trajet de retour dans les trois mois qui suivent, ne paient qu'un passage simple ordinaire, pour le voyage, aller et retour.

Quand on délivre des billets à tarif spécial ou à bon marché, inférieur à celui indiqué plus haut, les troupes doivent en profiter.

Pour le transport du matériel, un taux spécial est débattu, mais il ne doit pas être plus élevé que celui que paie le public.

642. Quand les officiers d'état-major voyagent, pour le service, sur une voie ferrée qui distribue des billets, aller et retour, à prix réduits, et que la mission de ces officiers leur commande de retourner par la même voie ferrée, ils doivent se procurer des demandes de transport pour leur voyage, aller et retour, aux prix réduits spécifiés.

643. Excepté pour les voyages de nuit en chemin de fer, les passages de première classe ne comprennent pas l'usage d'une voiture pour laquelle on fait payer un supplément. Quand un officier voyage de nuit, il peut se faire rembourser le prix qu'il a payé, pour un lit simple, dans la voiture-dortoir attachée au train qui le transporte.

644. Les officiers qui voyagent pour le service et qui ne sont pas forcés de prendre avec eux un très lourd bagage, n'ont droit qu'à 150 livres, qui sont transportées gratuitement sur les chemins de fer et par toutes les autres compagnies de transport.

645. Quand on établit des réquisitions de transport pour les sous-officiers et les hommes, l'officier qui délivre l'autorisation, doit indiquer sur le recto de la demande que les passages ne sont bons que pour la "2ième classe" et qu'ils seront payés comme tels.

646. Les commandants de district et des écoles royales d'instruction sont autorisés à accorder des moyens de transport aux sous-officiers et aux hommes, pour l'arrestation et l'escorte des déserteurs. Quand une pareille autorisation est accordée, un rapport est établi et transmis à l'adjudant général, après l'accomplissement de ce service. Des rations de conserve sont parfois distribuées, si cela est nécessaire, aux sous-officiers et aux hommes désignés pour ce service, et le montant en est porté aux fonds de cantine du corps.

647. Les officiers qui accordent les moyens de transport, doivent choisir la route la plus rapide et la moins dispendieuse, quand cela est laissé à leur discrétion.

648. Quand le voyage se fait par différentes compagnies, de chemins de fer ou autres, des réquisitions séparées sont établies pour chaque compagnie indépendante. Ceci est nécessaire pour éviter la confusion dans les règlements de compte avec chaque compagnie.

649. Que la réquisition soit pour voyageurs ou matériel, elle doit toujours clairement indiquer au recto la nature du service pour lequel elle a été accordée. Les réquisitions pour transport "de voyageur", pour "cabine", pour "cheval", pour "matériel" ne sont pas établies sur le même modèle, mais sur un modèle à part pour chacune.

650. Les demandes de transport pour la première distribution de matériel ou d'équipement provenant des magasins du district, sont signées, quand elles ne proviennent pas des quartiers-généraux, à Ottawa, par l'officier du service de l'artillerie, présent pour le service à l'endroit où seront distribués les effets en question.

651. Quand des réquisitions sont accordées pour le transport de matériel, les objets sont pesés avant leur expédition, et le poids en est correctement inscrit au recto de la réquisition.

652. Le matériel ne doit pas être expédié par express, à moins d'urgence particulière ou de meilleur marché de ce mode de transport. Les officiers qui se font adresser par express, pour convenance personnelle, du matériel de l'Etat, doivent eux-mêmes supporter les frais de transport.

653. Aussitôt qu'une compagnie ou un individu qui a été chargé de fournir des moyens de transport à l'Etat, a accompli son œuvre, l'officier ou le sous-officier responsable, quand le transport touche aux officiers et aux hommes, et l'officier ou la personne intéressée, quand le transport a trait au matériel ou à l'équipement, doivent certifier, sur le recto de la réquisition, que le service commandé a été complètement exécuté.

654. Les comptes pour moyens de transport sont établis en double et transmis au département, avec la réquisition initiale en exécution de laquelle le transport a été fourni.

Transport de mobilisation sur roues.

655. Les règlements spécifiés ci-dessous pour les transports des hommes en temps de mobilisation de la milice, ainsi que pour le transport des munitions, des bagages, des couvertures, des rations et des objets de campement, seront strictement exécutés par les commandants de district.

1° Un conducteur ou charretier reçoit 50 cents par cheval, pour le nombre de jours qu'on l'emploie.

2° La somme de $1 par jour est allouée pour chaque cheval, pour le nombre de jours qu'on l'emploie.

3° La somme de 50 cents par jour est payée pour une voiture, ou un fourgon, y compris le harnais, pour le nombre de jours qu'on l'emploie.

5° Il est permis à un propriétaire de donner en louage plusieurs chevaux, fourgons ou harnais doubles.

6° En hiver, les propriétaires remplacent les fourgons par des sleighs.

7° Il est entendu que le département de la Milice et de la Défense se réserve le droit d'acheter, au prix du marché, tous les chevaux, les fourgons, les prolonges et les harnais de louage, dont la valeur est fixée par un comité nommé par le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, et par un estimateur de l'endroit, qui fait aussi partie de ce comité.

8° Quand un cheval, un fourgon et un harnais de louage sont vendus, transférés, perdus ou détruits par le feu, avis en est immédiatement donné au commandant du district.

9° Quand le propriétaire d'un cheval, d'un fourgon et d'un harnais de louage néglige de prévenir le commandant du district (tel qu'indiqué au paragraphe 8 ci-dessus) de la vente, du transfert, de la perte ou de la destruction par le feu de sa propriété, dans la semaine qui suit l'accident, il est passible d'une amende de $5 pour chaque contravention.

10° Quand le propriétaire d'un cheval, d'un fourgon et d'un harnais de louage manque, néglige ou refuse de les fournir, après en être légalement requis, il est passible d'une amende de $5 pour chaque contravention à part.

12° Les fourgons et les charrettes de louage doivent être en bon état et capables de porter 3,000 livres, pour un fourgon, et 1,500, pour une charrette. Les harnais doivent être en état de pouvoir résister aux efforts de tirage des mauvais chemins.

Réclamations pour dépenses de voyage.

657. Les réclamations sont établies séparément, en double, sur modèles imprimés fournis par les commandants de district.

658. Les réclamations des officiers d'état-major de district ne sont pas autorisées, à moins d'être accompagnées d'un certificat du commandant de district, démontrant clairement que les dépenses de voyage en question ont été absolument nécessaires pour permettre à ces officiers d'ac-complir leur mission, loin des quartiers généraux du district.

659. Toutes les réclamations pour dépenses de voyage doivent être accompagnées du document officiel qui les autorise, porter la date de ce document, le nom des endroits où l'officier s'est transporté, la date de son retour, les dates et la nature du service accompli, et elles sont transmises à qui de droit par la voie hiérarchique ordinaire.

660. Quand un officier d'état-major est transféré à une autre station, il a droit, à son arrivée à cette station pour prendre son service, à ses frais personnels réels de voyage et d'hôtel pour le trajet de son ancien à son nouveau poste, ainsi qu'à une indemnité pour le transport de ses bagages nécessaires, ne dépassant pas le poids de 1,000 livres, et, en outre, à une somme d'argent égale à deux mois de solde pour le dédommager définitivement de tout autre frais qu'il aurait pu encourir à la suite de son déplacement.

ALLOCATIONS POUR LES TROMPETTES.

661. Une allocation annuelle est accordée à tous les régiments et aux escadrons indépendants de cavalerie, aux batteries d'artillerie de campagne et aux unités du génie et du train des équipages (army service corps). Cette allocation est calculée d'après le tableau suivant:—

Pour chaque trompette détenteur d'un certificat de première classe.	$12 00
Pour chaque trompette détenteur d'un certificat de deuxième classe.	8 00
Pour chaque trompette détenteur d'un certificat de troisième classe.	4 00

Les demandes pour obtenir ces allocations sont établies sur le modèle de la milice C 78.

ALLOCATIONS POUR LE MARQUAGE DES ARMES, ETC.

662. Les allocations suivantes pour le marquage des armes et de l'équipement des unités d'infanterie seront payées par le département, sur demandes en double, certifiées de la manière ordinaire par le commandant de l'unité.

Aux unités dont l'effectif ne comprend pas plus de 42 sous-officiers et hommes, 10 cents pour un fusil et un équipement complet.

Aux unités dont l'effectif comprend plus de 42 sous-officiers et hommes, 8 cents pour un fusil et un équipement complet.

663. L'allocation pour marquer l'équipement complet, comprenant la carabine, le sabre, le fourreau, le ceinturon et la boucle, est de 5 cents, dans les unités de cavalerie, et de 15 cents pour une sellerie complète.

Forme de certificat.

664. Je certifie que. fusils et. équipements, que possède en ce moment le corps que je commande, ont été complètement marqués, d'après les instructions prescrites pour le marquage "des armes et de l'équipement", et que. a droit aux allocations réglementaires, pour avoir fait ce travail.

Daté à. ce. jour de 19.

Commandant.

665. Les comptes pour le marquage des armes et de l'équipement doivent être invariablement transmis par l'entremise du commandant du corps, qui les adresse au commandant du district.

Les montants ci-dessus sont payés aux commandants d'escadrons, de batteries et de compagnies, quand leurs armes et leur matériel ne sont pas gardés dans les magasins régimentaires.

667. Quand les armes sont tenues dans les magasins régimentaires, sous les soins d'un gardien, payé par le ministère de la Milice et de la Défense, la fraction des montants ci-dessus, à être payés aux commandants des unités intéressées, est fixée par les autorités à Ottawa.

668. On ne doit faire aucun paiement à moins qu'un certificat ou un reçu ne soit présenté, indiquant que les frais de soin et d'entretien des armes ont été réglés, qu'il n'y a aucun déficit d'armes ou de matériel pour lesquels l'officier responsable demande l'indemnité, et que, s'il y a déficit, il en a été rendu compte d'une manière satisfaisante.

670. A la suite de décès, d'absence, de démission ou de promotion d'un commandant de corps, si deux ou un plus grand nombre d'officiers ont droit à une part de ces indemnités annuelles, soit pour l'instruction de l'exercice ou pour le soin des armes, le commandant du district fixe la proportion de ces indemnités due à chaque officier intéressé.

INDEMNITES DE FUNERAILLES.

671. Quand un homme meurt au service ou pendant les exercices annuels, les frais de ses funérailles ne doivent pas dépasser vingt dollars, quand on peut aisément se procurer un affût de canon, et vingt-cinq dollars dans les autres cas, sommes à être portées au compte du trésor public. Le commandant du corps certifie que ces dépenses ont été nécessaires.

INDEMNITES DE REGISTRES, DE TIMBRES ET DE PAPETERIE.

672. Le commandant d'un régiment de cavalerie, d'artillerie de forteresse, d'infanterie ou de carabiniers de ville a droit à:—

$5 par année par escadron ou compagnie de l'effectif le moins élevé.

$7.50 par année par escadron ou compagnie de l'effectif le plus élevé.

Le commandant d'un régiment de cavalerie, d'artillerie de forteresse, d'infanterie ou de carabiniers de la campagne a droit à:—

Le commandant d'une brigade ou d'une division d'artillerie de campagne a droit à $15 par année.

Le commandant d'une compagnie de brancardiers ou des ambulances de campagne a droit à $3 par année.

Les montants ci-dessus sont payés aux commandants de ces unités, à la fin de l'année budgétaire, sur certificat ordinaire du commandant du district.

673. Les régiments recrutés en partie dans les villes et en partie dans la campagne, sont considérés comme corps de la campagne.

674. Le 1^{er} division du 1^{er} régiment d'artillerie canadienne est considérée comme corps de ville.

REPARATIONS AUX HARNACHEMENTS.

675. En service ou au camp, le sellier ou l'ouvrier charbon en roues, d'une batterie d'artillerie de campagne peuvent, en fournissant leurs propres outils, faire les réparations urgentes à l'équipement de la batterie, selon les ordres du commandant. Les matériaux nécessaires à ces réparations sont payés par l'Etat, et une somme de 75 cents par jour, solde de travail, est allouée à l'ouvrier qui exécute une somme convenable de ce travail supplémentaire.

INDEMNITES DE NETTOYAGE DE L'EQUIPEMENT DE L'ARTILLERIE DE CAMPAGNE.

676. Dans les occasions spéciales, en dehors du travail de dressage annuel, quand les batteries d'artillerie de campagne reçoivent l'ordre de tirer des saluts, on accorde à leur commandant les indemnités suivantes pour nettoyage, etc.:—

Pour quatre selleries complètes, $1.50

Pour quatre harnachements simples complets, $1.50.

Pour un canon, un affût et un fourgon, $1.50.

Pour des selleries et des harnachements impairs, les paiements sont en proportion, savoir: deux complets, 75 cents.

Ces indemnités ne sont accordées que dans le cas où il n'y a pas de gardien de batterie payé par le gouvernement.

INDEMNITES DE RATIONS—SPECIALES.

677. Les indemnités accordées en remplacement de rations ou de fourrage, aux corps de la milice active qui reçoivent l'ordre de prendre du service actif ou d'aller en manœuvres prolongées, sont les suivantes:—

Pour les hommes de tout grade (rations par homme), 25 cents.

Pour les chevaux (fourrage par cheval), 35 cents.

678. La somme de 25 cents est l'indemnité ordinaire, mais, dans les forts isolés ou dans les endroits difficiles d'accès, où il est impossible de passer des contrats avec des fournisseurs, ou enfin dans tout autre cas particulier, le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense peut augmenter cette somme, selon qu'il le juge raisonnable et juste.

679. Quand l'indemnité est accordée, en remplacement de rations, le commandant des troupes joint à sa demande un certificat mentionnant les circonstances qui ont rendu nécessaire le remplacement des rations par une indemnité en deniers.

Note.—Les officiers qui ont droit à ces indemnités les perçoivent à compte de la date de leur nomination parue dans la "Gazette du Canada," jusqu'à la date de l'expiration de leur mission, qui aussi est publiée dans la "Gazette du Canada."

SUBSISTANCE, APPROVISIONNEMENTS, FOURRAGE, ETC.

680. Quand un corps de la milice active est appelé en service, des officiers sont spécialement désignés par les autorités à Ottawa, en vue de passer des marchés pour la fourniture des vivres, du fourrage, du chauffage et de l'éclairage; cependant, en cas d'urgence, quand ces corps sont soudainement appelés en service et avant que les officiers nommés par les autorités à Ottawa aient rejoint l'endroit où les approvisionnements sont requis, les commandants de ces corps sont autorisés à prendre des dispositions temporaires, sur place, pour assurer, au jour le jour, la subsistance de leur troupe.

681. Les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes, en outre de leur solde, ont droit aux rations et aux logements gratuits; les officiers montés et les hommes des corps à cheval, les officiers montés des autres corps et les officiers d'état-major reçoivent, en sus, le fourrage gratuit pour leurs chevaux, ou, en remplacement, une indemnité de 35 cents par jour et par cheval.

SUBSISTANCE.

682. En service actif ou dans les camps d'instructions, les officiers et les hommes ont droit chaque jour aux rations suivantes:—

1½ lb. de farine ou 1 lb. de biscuit.

3 oz. de bacon.

1 lb. de pommes de terre.

2 oz. de farine ou 2 oz. de haricots.

3 oz. de confitures ou 3 oz. de pommes sèches.

2 oz. de beurre ou 2 oz. de fromage.

1 oz. de pois fendus

2 oz. de sucre blanc.

½ oz. de sel.

¼ oz. de café.

¼ oz. de thé.

1-36 oz. de poivre.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. de légumes comprimés.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. d'oignons.
 Du fourrage pour les chevaux.
 Du combustible—du bois.

683. La ration de viande est portée à $1\frac{1}{2}$ lb. les jours que les hommes marchent ou exécutent des travaux pénibles.

684. Quand il est impossible de se procurer de la viande fraîche, on la remplace par des viandes salées ou de conserve.

685. Quand il est impossible de se procurer du pain ou du biscuit, on les remplace par leurs poids équivalent en farine, de blé ou en farine d'avoine ou de maïs.

686. Voici plus bas la liste des seuls hommes de service avec leurs corps, qui sont exempts de toucher leurs rations en nature:—

(1) Les hommes employés comme domestiques ou garçons de table au mess des officiers.

(2) Les officiers, sous-officiers et les hommes dont l'emploi est de telle sorte que toucher leurs rations en nature leur cause beaucoup d'inconvénients. Ces officiers et ces hommes peuvent être rayés du mess, par ordre du plus ancien officier en charge du mess, et recevoir l'indemnité en deniers.

687. On perçoit seulement les rations pour les officiers et les hommes de chaque corps présents à l'endroit le jour où ces rations sont dues.

688. Personne n'a droit à plus d'une ration par jour et pour un emploi seulement.

689. L'officier distributeur adresse à l'entrepreneur une réquisition, selon le modèle ci-dessous, pour les quantités de vivres nécessaires pour les troupes:—

Endroit. date. 19 .

Officier d'approvisionnements.

690. Quand des hommes sont déplacés d'un poste à un autre, isolément ou en petits détachements, en escorte ou pour tout autre service détaché, une indemnité de marche est accordée à chaque homme pour le nombre de jours qu'il est ainsi de service. Quand un homme de milice est détaché pour le service, aux casernes ou au camp, il est pris en subsistance par un des corps de troupes présents. Autrement, il continue à recevoir l'indemnité de marche, au moyen de laquelle il doit se procurer la nourriture et le logement pendant son séjour à ces endroits.

691. Les rations journalières auxquelles les corps ont droit, leur sont distribuées en bloc par les officiers d'approvisionnement, et le quartier-maître de chaque corps en fait la distribution en détail à chaque compagnie.

693. Les commandants de corps qui acceptent d'individus ou de maisons de commerce des vivres qui ne sont pas tout à fait conformes à ceux exigés par l'Etat, le font sous leur propre responsabilité.

694. Quand les approvisionnements de l'Etat ne font pas défaut, les commandants de corps ne doivent pas en percevoir d'autres, excepté à titre de présent ou sous leur propre responsabilité.

695. Le ministre, dans aucune circonstance, n'acceptera de réclamations d'individus ou de maisons de commerce pour approvisionnements de toutes sortes fournis à des corps de la milice active, à moins d'être accompagnées d'un reçu ou d'une réquisition pour ces dits approvisionnements, signé par un officier responsable.

696. Quand un corps reçoit l'ordre de se rendre dans une localité où il n'est guère certain de pouvoir se procurer les approvisionnements nécessaires, il doit apporter avec lui tout ce qu'il faut pour assurer sa subsistance, son confort et sa valeur pour le service.

697. Quand des officiers et des hommes sont détachés en campagne, le quartier-maître leur donne un certificat indiquant le jour, inclus, pour lequel ils ont reçu les vivres, afin que ces officiers et ces hommes puissent, sans difficulté, obtenir leurs rations à l'endroit où ils se rendent. Le quartier-maître du corps qui leur fournit leurs rations, doit garder par-devers lui le dernier certificat de rations et leur en donner un nouveau à leur départ.

698. Quand un corps reçoit à l'improviste l'ordre de se rendre dans une localité où il n'est pas certain de pouvoir se procurer des vivres, son commandant veille à ce que ses hommes prennent avec eux une ration de pain et de viande cuite dans leurs sacs ou leur gamelle, et, en sus, du pain et de la viande au moins pour un jour de plus. Le quartier-maître doit invariablement devancer la colonne d'un jour, si cela est possible, afin de prendre ses dispositions pour assurer à son corps un approvisionnement régulier de pain et de viande, dans la localité où il se rend.

699. Quand on a besoin d'approvisionnements pour les camps annuels d'exercices, ou pour les casernes, des soumissions séparées sont demandées, à tant la livre pour chaque denrée, tels que pain, viande, pommes de terre et épiceries.

700. Les soumissions sont adressées, cachetées, directement au ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, à Ottawa, marquées "Soumissions" dans le coin supérieur de gauche de l'enveloppe qui contient ces soumissions.

701. Une copie de l'annonce insérée par l'officier qui a demandé les soumissions doit être adressée à part directement au ministre de la Milice et de la Défense. Les soumissions acceptées sont retournées à l'officier intéressé. Les duplicatas sont retenus au ministère.

702. Chaque soumission doit être accompagnée d'un chèque accepté, représentant cinq pour cent du montant du contrat, payable à l'ordre du ministre de la Milice. Quand le contrat est rempli, selon les conditions requises, le chèque est renvoyé à son signataire, mais, si l'entrepreneur manque aux engagements spécifiés dans la soumission, le montant du chèque est confisqué par l'Etat. Quand une soumission n'est pas acceptée, le chèque qui l'accompagne est retourné à son propriétaire.

703. Quand il est nécessaire de faire des achats en dehors de la concurrence publique, des soumissions sont reçues par écrit et la plus basse est approuvée par l'officier le plus ancien, commandant dans la localité. Un tableau de ces soumissions et un rapport sur l'action prise sur chacune d'elles sont adressés aux autorités à Ottawa.

704. Les rations doivent être inspectées, tous les matins, par l'officier du jour ou de semaine, qui rend compte, s'il y a lieu, au commandant, que les fournitures ou partie de ces fournitures ne sont pas conformes aux clauses du contrat. Le commandant peut alors convoquer une commission, avec pouvoir de refuser, en tout ou en partie, les vivres en question, et d'en acheter, sur le marché, une quantité équivalente, à être mise au compte du fournisseur. On insère une clause à cet effet dans tous les contrats passés dans la localité.

705. Quand on refuse de recevoir du pain et de la viande du fournisseur, à cause de leur mauvaise qualité, on achète d'autres provisions, dont on alloue la dépense, pourvu que le montant total ne dépasse pas celui de la ration réglementaire, le fournisseur payant la différence, s'il y en a une. Mais si, dans ces occasions, on achète des vivres qui ne sont pas comprises dans les rations réglementaires, les frais ne doivent pas dépasser le montant des fournitures rejetées, selon le tarif du contrat.

706. La valeur des approvisionnements fournis par contrat est payée par le ministère de la Milice et de la Défense. Les comptes sont établis en double sur modèle réglementaire, et les reçus de l'officier qui reçoit les vivres sont joints à ces comptes comme pièces à l'appui.

707. Les paiements ne sont faits aux fournisseurs que pour la quantité réelle de rations servies aux corps autorisés à les recevoir.

708. Les fournisseurs livrent, à leurs frais, les rations requises aux magasins désignés pour les recevoir, sur l'ordre donné et aux heures fixées par l'officier d'approvisionnement ou par tout autre officier autorisé.

709. Quand une troupe doit rester au camp pour une période prolongée, ou se met en marche pour se rendre à une localité où il est impossible de se procurer économiquement du pain convenable, des dispositions doivent être prises d'avance pour assurer le pain à cette troupe, indépendamment des fournisseurs.

CHAUFFAGE ET ECLAIRAGE.

710. Au camp, la ration de bois-combustible est d'un pouce, mesure courante. Les mess d'officiers, comprenant 8 membres et plus, ont droit à 12 rations par jour. Les mess d'officiers, ayant moins de 8 membres, $1\frac{1}{2}$ ration chacun, par jour. L'allocation de cuisine pour les sous-officiers et les hommes est de $\frac{1}{4}$ de ration, ou une ration pour quatre hommes.

711. Le fournisseur doit livrer le bois à l'heure et à l'endroit indiqués, et l'empiler de la hauteur d'une corde, pour permettre de le mesurer et de l'inspecter.

CHARBON.

712. Une ration de charbon—12 livres du meilleur charbon dur, ou 15 livres de charbon mou—doit être livrée et déposée par le fournisseur, en quantités requises, dans la boîte ou à l'endroit désigné par l'officier qui doit le recevoir.

ECLAIRAGE DES CASERNES.

713. Une lampe à pétrole est allouée à chaque groupe de dix hommes, avec la fourniture de mèche et d'huile absolument nécessaire. L'allocation d'huile est laissée à la discrétion du commandant, qui veille à ce que cette huile soit employée par les sous-officiers et les soldats seulement, et en quantité absolument nécessaire. Chaque corps de garde a aussi droit à une lampe à pétrole. Les frais de première fourniture de lampes à pétrole sont supportés par l'Etat, mais toutes les dépenses qui suivent sont à la charge du corps.

FOURRAGE.

714. Le fourrage en nature (ou l'indemnité en deniers) n'est pas distribué aux personnes qui ne sont pas requises d'entretenir un cheval pour le service, ni aux officiers en congé ou en service qui ne les oblige pas à être montés, à moins que les chevaux de ces officiers ne soient employés pour le service seulement par les officiers qui les remplacent pendant leur absence.

715. Les officiers qui acceptent un emploi civil qui entraîne leur radiation du service militaire ordinaire, n'ont pas droit au fourrage.

716. Quand on reçoit le fourrage en nature, on n'a pas droit à l'indemnité en deniers, et réciproquement, quand on touche l'indemnité en argent, on n'a pas droit au fourrage en nature.

717. L'indemnité en deniers, au lieu du fourrage en nature, n'est pas accordée à moins de circonstances particulières aux localités où se trouvent les ayants-droit. Ceci est ordonné temporairement par le commandant local, qui en rend compte immédiatement au ministre de la Milice, lequel décide s'il y a lieu ou non de continuer à servir l'indemnité en deniers.

718. La ration de fourrage compte du pansage de midi du jour pour lequel elle est distribuée, et, par conséquent, comprend aussi le repas du lendemain matin.

719. La ration en nature de fourrage est composée comme suit:—pour chaque cheval (autres que les chevaux de trait et d'artillerie), en caserne ou au camp, 10 livres d'avoine, 12 livres de foin et 8 livres de paille; en marche, 12 livres d'avoine, 15 livres de foin et 8 livres de paille. La ration journalière d'un cheval d'artillerie ou d'un cheval de trait est composée comme suit:—en caserne ou au camp, 10 livres d'avoine, 15 livres de foin et 8 livres de paille; en marche, 12 livres d'avoine, 18 de foin et 8 de paille. Quand on ne veut pas de paille, on peut la remplacer par 4 livres de foin.

720. Le fourrage doit être de la meilleure qualité, bon, frais, sec et propre; l'avoine ne doit pas peser moins de 34 livres le boisseau; le foin doit être frais et propre et débarrassé des fausses herbes et des chardons.

721. Le fournisseur délivre le fourrage, à ses frais, au magasin au fourrage, à l'heure fixée par l'officier d'approvisionnements, et y maintient toujours une réserve égale aux besoins d'une semaine. Il installe aussi un agent à ce magasin, pour distribuer le fourrage nécessaire, sur l'ordre de l'officier d'approvisionnements ou de tout autre officier désigné pour ce service.

722. Quand on a besoin de fourrage supplémentaire, en sus des rations ordinaires, la quantité en est calculée par 100 livres. Chaque ration de foin, si cela est demandé, est liée en un paquet séparé, avant la distribution par le fournisseur.

723. Sur demande, l'entrepreneur fournit du son, au lieu d'avoine, dans la proportion de 14 livres de son pour une ration d'avoine, mais pas plus d'une ration par semaine et par cheval, excepté pour les chevaux malades, auxquels sont données tous les jours des rations de son, fournies par l'entrepreneur, quand cela est nécessaire.

724. La distribution de paille pour les hommes sous la tente est laissée à la discrétion du commandant et du médecin principal, certifiant que cette paille est nécessaire.

725. La paille doit être de la paille d'avoine, propre, sèche et débarrassée des fausses herbes et des chardons, et être livrée en bottes de 12 livres, au camp ou au magasin au fourrage, en quantités et aux époques requises par les autorités.

726. Quand la paille est nécessaire, elle est distribuée comme suit, et cette quantité ne doit pas être dépassée:— 12 livres par homme pour 16 jour, soit sous forme de paille détachée, ou sous forme de paillason.

BILLETS DE LOGEMENT ET CANTONNEMENT DES TROUPES.

727. Dans les cas d'urgence, quand la milice active, un corps ou un détachement de cette milice active sont en marche et cantonnés dans une partie quelconque du territoire du Dominion, tout juge de paix, en recevant une réquisition par écrit du commandant des troupes, loge ces troupes chez les différents habitants de la localité sous sa juridiction; et chaque habitant reçoit les hommes qu'on lui indique de loger, et leur fournit l'abri chez lui, le feu et les ustensiles de cuisine, la chandelle ou autres lumières.

728. Le chef de maison, qui loge ainsi sur billets les troupes de la milice, reçoit dix cents par jour pour un soldat à pied, et trente cents pour un homme monté, dont le cheval a droit au fourrage et à l'écurie.

729. Le chef de maison fournit aussi les lits et les couvertures, pour lesquels il reçoit cinq cents par homme et par jour; et, si la chose est requise, il fournit également aux hommes la ration réglementaire, en fait faire la cuisine, et il reçoit pour chaque ration journalière la somme de vingt cents.

730. Quand les officiers, les hommes et les chevaux, en billets de logement, reçoivent la nourriture de l'habitant, ils n'ont aucun droit aux rations de l'Etat, pendant la période qu'ils sont ainsi logés et nourris.

731. Quand un corps ou un détachement reçoit l'ordre de se rendre à un poste éloigné de son chef-lieu, il doit invariablement être devancé par un officier d'expérience, accompagné du quartier-maître, d'un sous-officier de confiance et d'un homme par compagnie, pour prendre des dispositions afin d'abriter leur hommes, quand ils n'ont pas de tentes, et aussi pour se procurer tous les vivres et les approvisionnements nécessaires.

732. En règle générale, les hommes ne sont logés chez l'habitant qu'en autant qu'il n'y a pas d'autres abris disponibles. Ceci est laissé à la discrétion du commandant.

733. Quand les troupes sont logées chez l'habitant, l'officier qui distribue les billets doit veiller, autant que possible, à ce que les hommes d'une section ou d'une compagnie soient groupés ensemble, et que leurs officiers soient aussi logés près d'eux. Un poste d'alarme ou un lieu de rassemblement pour les différentes unités des troupes est choisi et indiqué aux hommes, tous les jours, avant de faire rompre les rangs.

734. La distribution des logements doit être préparée avant l'arrivée de la troupe, afin que les hommes ne soient pas forcés d'attendre. L'homme de chaque compagnie, arrivé d'avance, a en mains les billets de sa compagnie et les distribue, quand elle se présente. L'officier chargé de préparer les billets de logements, doit, dans tous les cas, se présenter d'abord chez le premier magistrat de la localité et s'adjoindre ensuite quelques-uns des citoyens les plus influents, pour l'aider dans son travail. Un capitaine doit avoir en sa possession un état des billets de logement de sa compagnie, afin qu'il n'y ait aucun retard dans les paiements au cas où il recevrait l'ordre de partir à l'improviste. Quand il est nécessaire de se procurer les billets de logement par contrainte, l'officier chargé de ce service présente une réquisition, conforme au modèle ci-dessous, au premier magistrat et à un juge de paix de la localité, pour le nombre de billets requis pour ses hommes:—

Des billets de logement sont requis pour.....officiers et..... sous-officiers et hommes de la milice, et places à l'écurie et fourrage pour.....chevaux, appartenant à ces troupes.

A.Ecr,

à.

735. Si un habitant se croit lésé parce qu'il loge un plus grand nombre d'hommes qu'il devait le faire, en proportion avec ses voisins, il peut s'en plaindre à deux ou à un plus grand nombre de juges de paix, qui, s'ils reconnaissent le bien-fondé de la plainte, prennent de chez cet habitant le nombre d'hommes qu'ils jugent convenable, et les logent chez d'autres personnes, qui doivent les recevoir et se soumettre à la décision de ces juges.

736. Un juge de paix qui possède un emploi ou une commission dans la milice, n'a aucun droit, directement ou indirectement, de s'occuper des logements des sous-officiers et des hommes du corps ou du détachement qu'il commande.

738. Les commandants de troupes doivent s'assurer que les soldats, en petits groupes ou individuellement, détachés pour un service quelconque, sont pourvus des fonds nécessaires pour payer ces frais de logement et de subsistance, pour eux-mêmes et pour des prisonniers qui pourraient voyager sous leur escorte. Les sous-officiers, chefs de ces petits détachements, ou les soldats individuellement, sont responsables, d'après l'Acte de l'Armée, du paiement de leur logement avant de le quitter. A leur arrivée dans une garnison, les sous-officiers et les soldats de tous les corps sont pris sur les contrôles des troupes de cette garnison pour les rations et le logement.

MOUVEMENTS DES TROUPES.

Marches.

739. On se rend absolument compte que tous les ordres publiés pour l'instruction et la conduite de la milice ne peuvent être tous exécutés à la lettre dans le dressage des troupes, mais, en se conformant aux principes, sinon à la lettre, de ces instructions, on peut grandement améliorer le système de marches, tel que pratiqué jusqu'à ce jour. La connaissance de ces principes contribuera aussi grandement à aider les corps, appelés d'urgence, à faire de longues marches.

740. Un régiment doit être rassemblé pas plus d'un quart d'heure avant de se mettre en marche, et quand les troupes s'exercent aux marches de brigade, les unités ne doivent pas s'assembler toutes ensemble à la même heure, mais à des heures différentes et à des endroits fixés, où elles doivent entrer dans la colonne, sans retard, sans à-coups et sans attente.

741. Les avant-gardes et les arrière-gardes sont invariablement formées d'après les principes exposés dans les exercices d'infanterie. L'arrière-garde recueille tous les hommes en retard, ou qui ont quitté la colonne pour une cause quelconque.

742. Les haltes ont lieu après une demi-heure de marche forcée et ensuite, toutes les heures, avec un repos de cinq minutes. Quand la durée de la marche doit probablement dépasser six heures, il est bon de faire une grande halte pour prendre un repas, mais, en règle générale, les hommes doivent prendre leur repas à leur arrivée à l'étape. Les officiers doivent veiller à ce que les haltes n'aient pas lieu aux endroits où les hommes seraient exposés à prendre des refroidissements.

743. Les chefs de corps et les commandants de compagnie doivent apporter la plus grande attention à la chaussure des hommes, qui doit être bien brisée au pied et tenue en bon état. On doit veiller avec soin à ce que les jeunes garçons, qui grandissent, ne portent pas de chaussure trop étroite. Les officiers généraux ou autres doivent, de temps à autre, quitter la tête de la colonne, en surveiller le défilé, noter toutes les déficiences de la marche et surtout faire prendre les noms des hommes qui marchent avec difficulté et dont la chaussure est en mauvais état. A moins d'ordres contraires, les troupes en marche rectifient la position la première fois seulement qu'elles défilent devant leur commandant.

744. L'heure du départ est fixée en se basant sur le but à atteindre, le climat, la saison de l'année et la longueur de la marche. En règle générale, les hommes prennent le déjeuner avant de se mettre en route, et le départ doit avoir lieu environ une heure après la pointe du jour. Les corps à cheval ne doivent pas se mettre en route plus tôt, à cause du passage des chevaux et des difficultés à ajuster convenablement les selles et les harnais pendant la nuit. Cependant, dans certaines circonstances, le départ peut avoir lieu plus tôt, et même les marches se faire la nuit.

745. Les premiers devoirs des soldats après une marche sont de prendre soin de leurs armes, de leur habillement, de leur équipement et de leurs chevaux, et il ne leur est pas permis de sortir du camp ou de leurs quartiers avant que tous ces services soient soigneusement exécutés. Dans l'infanterie, on doit faire un appel du soir pour l'inspection des pieds des hommes, chaque fois que la chose est possible.

746. Quand un médecin est temporairement attaché à une troupe à cheval pour faire le service pendant la marche, le commandant lui fait livrer un cheval de troupe. Il a droit à un billet de logement, comme tous les autres officiers du régiment.

747. L'exemption des troupes, d'après la section 143 de l'Acte de l'Armée, du paiement des barrières ne s'applique qu'aux barrières établies par acte du parlement et ne les dispense pas des péages exigés par les propriétaires particuliers pour les droits de passages sur leur pont ou leur terre. Les commandants peuvent toujours s'assurer si un péage est autorisé par acte du parlement, en référant au tableau placé près de la barrière.

Déplacements par chemin de fer.

748. Quand les troupes reçoivent l'ordre de se déplacer par chemin de fer, un état des officiers, des hommes, des familles, des chevaux, des canons, etc., et du poids des bagages doit être fourni par un officier d'état-major, s'il y en a un présent, sinon par le commandant des troupes, au chef de gare, un jour avant la date du départ.

749. Quand un train spécial, portant des troupes, arrive à une gare ou la quitte, le commandant doit aider les fonctionnaires du chemin de fer à maintenir les quais libres de toutes les personnes qui ne font pas partie des troupes.

750. Les commandants d'unités prennent eux-mêmes leurs dispositions pour le transport des bagages. Les commandants de districts doivent s'assurer que le tarif réglementaire pour le transport des bagages par voies ferrées n'est pas dépassé et prendre connaissance de toutes les clauses des contrats passés dans leurs districts pour le transport du matériel.

752. Quand les hommes montent dans les voitures, les sièges sont occupés dans l'ordre, et chacun, prenant sa place, met sa capote, son manteau ou son sac, etc., sous son siège. Les hommes tiennent leurs armes à la main, à moins que les commandants pensent qu'il soit possible de les placer sur la capote ou le sac. On ne doit jamais poser les armes sur le plancher des wagons.

753. Pour les longs trajets, des dispositions sont prises d'avance pour assurer le repas aux hommes, soit à une gare quelconque ou en emportant des rations cuites et du fourrage pour les chevaux. Cependant, quand ces dispositions n'ont pas été prises, un officier, accompagné d'un ou de plusieurs sous-officiers, si cela est possible, devancent les troupes pour aller à la gare d'arrêt et y faire des arrangements, conformes aux instructions du commandant, pour le repas des hommes et pour préparer un approvisionnement d'eau et des cuves pour les chevaux.

754. Quand le train est prêt à partir, on sonne le "Garde à vous" (ou "En avant" pour les troupes à cheval). Alors, le silence doit être général jusqu'à ce que le train soit en marche; on ne doit pas crier, ni mettre la tête hors des portières, ni quitter sa voiture sans permission, ou descendre du train, avant d'en avoir reçu l'ordre des officiers, ou sur l'invitation des fonctionnaires du chemin de fer.

rejoignent leur poste. Enfin, les officiers montent eux-mêmes à bord du train, et le commandant donne l'ordre du départ.

Débarquement des trains.

759. Les instructions concernant les points de rassemblement et l'ordre de marche sont, en règle générale, données par un officier d'état-major, qui se trouve d'avance à la gare de débarquement. En cas d'absence de cet officier, le commandant de la troupe agit à sa discrétion, après s'être consulté avec les fonctionnaires du chemin de fer.

760. En marche, les unités gardent leurs propres bagages et en sont responsables. L'officier qui commande cette garde distribue ses hommes près des voitures et leur donne la consigne de n'en laisser rien prendre. Les hommes de garde ne doivent pas mettre leurs armes sur les fourgons, mais ils marchent à côté, la baïonnette au canon. Quand le transport est de louage, l'officier de garde veille à ce que les conducteurs et les chevaux ne soient pas maltraités, et qu'on n'exige d'eux rien de plus que ce qui est requis par acte de parlement et par le marché passé antérieurement. La nuit, quand les bagages ne sont pas déchargés, les voitures sont serrées les unes près des autres, afin d'occuper le moins de place possible, et placées sous la surveillance de sentinelles.

Mouvements de troupes en général.

761. Les commandants de districts sont autorisés à donner des réquisitions de transport pour tous les déplacements de troupes dans leur district respectif, aussi d'individus ou de détachements (n'ayant aucun rapport avec le changement de quartiers des unités) de leur district à un autre.

762. Quand un officier reçoit l'ordre de rejoindre son unité, ou d'aller au loin exécuter un service, il doit immédiatement obéir à ces ordres et se rendre à destination par la voie la plus rapide. Quand se présentent des délais inévitables, qui empêchent cet officier d'arriver à temps à destination (qu'il ait droit ou non aux frais de voyage), son commandant fait immédiatement un rapport détaillé des causes de retard à l'adjutant général.

CAMPEMENTS.

763. Les troupes en campagne, la nuit, sont mises à l'abri, soit dans les camps, les bivouacs ou les cantonnements. Comme le repos des troupes en marche et leur santé dépendent, pour la plus grande partie, des abris qu'ils occupent la nuit, il est donc évident que le commandant et son état-major doivent porter la plus sérieuse attention dans le choix de l'heure et de l'endroit pour le repos de la nuit, et, autant que possible, protéger leurs hommes contre toute attaque et leur permettre ainsi de dormir en toute sécurité.

764. Les conditions essentielles des troupes au repos sont le bien-être, la tranquillité, et la rapidité de rassemblement pour combattre ou se mettre en marche. Ces conditions se contredisent par nature. Un repos complet ne peut être obtenu qu'en mettant les troupes sous la tente au camp ou en les distribuant dans les cantonnements; mais cette dernière méthode, tout en procurant aux hommes un repos réconfortant, a l'inconvénient de les éparpiller, ce qui nécessite un temps plus ou moins long pour les rassembler. La bivouac offre le grand avantage de grouper les troupes sur un espace restreint, près de la ligne de marche, par là même de pouvoir les rassembler promptement; mais coucher en plein air pendant un temps prolongé, par une température plus ou moins mauvaise, est fatal aux hommes et aux chevaux, surtout à ces derniers.

765. Les troupes en campagne doivent être campées de manière à pouvoir être rapidement rassemblées, sur une bonne position, prêtes à recevoir l'ennemi, le cas échéant.

766. On doit aussi tenir compte, dans le choix d'un camp, de la facilité de se procurer de l'eau, du bois, du fourrage et de la paille. L'importance relative de ces quatre sujets est indiquée par l'ordre de leur énumération.

767. Les intervalles entre les unités de même arme ou des autres armes ne sont jamais moindres que dix verges libres entre les piquets des cordes de tente.

768. La formation d'un camp est toujours subordonnée au terrain, et les différentes armes sont campées aux en-droits qui leur conviennent le mieux. Ainsi, l'infanterie peut très bien être placée sur un terrain légèrement en pente, et les corps à cheval sur un terrain plan, à cause des chevaux. On doit éviter les endroits humides, ce qui peut être fait en changeant la formation des corps ou enfin en employant toutes les méthodes suggérées par le bon sens et l'expérience.

769. Les bataillons d'infanterie campent généralement en colonne, et en colonne de doubles compagnies, si le front est restreint.

770. Un intervalle de douze verges, d'un montant de tente à l'autre, doit, autant que possible, être laissé libre entre les compagnies. Ceci donne un passage de six verges de largeur pour faciliter les communications et servir de terrain de parade aux compagnies. Mais l'intervalle de douze verges peut être réduit à sept verges en cas de nécessité, ce qui ne laisse qu'un passage d'une verge de largeur.

771. Les régiments de cavalerie campent en colonne d'escadron ou de demi-escadron.

772. L'artillerie et le génie placent leurs voitures en ligne, avec intervalle, ou à distance entière, ou à distance serrée, ou en masse, selon les ordres, et le camp est formé en arrière de cette ligne. Les timons des voitures de la première ligne sont sur le front de bandière du camp, et ceux de la seconde ligne, à dix-neuf verges en arrière.

773. Il y a un intervalle de neuf verges entre les montants d'une tente à l'autre, et les tentes sont montées de manière que les piquets extérieurs soient sur la ligne marquant les limites du camp, de chaque côté.

774. Les lignes des chevaux sont placées entre les lignes de tentes et parallèles à elles. La distance minimum d'une ligne de piquets au pieu de sabot est de cinq verges, et un passage de cinq verges également doit être laissé libre entre les lignes des chevaux, pour y déposer les harnachements, les selles et le fourrage.

775. Aucune partie d'une tente doit dépasser la ligne limitée d'un camp.

776. Le commandant, selon la direction d'où souffle le vent, peut faire déplacer les cuisines, à discrétion.

777. La position des latrines dépend de l'emplacement des autres corps, de la durée probable du campement, de la direction des vents, et de l'endroit où se fait l'approvisionnement d'eau.

778. Quand les troupes sont campées pour une période de plus de trois jours, les tentes doivent être abattues de temps à autre, si le temps le permet. Toutes les armes, la paille et les couvertures sont enlevées, et l'emplacement des tentes est balayé proprement, soit avec un balai ou avec des branches d'arbres, et laissé à découvert, exposé au soleil et au vent. Les couvertures, l'habillement, etc., sont étendus à l'air, et les tentes sont dressées provisoirement dans les intervalles du camp, avec les cordage lâches et les toiles flottantes, afin de faciliter leur aération. On ne doit jamais dresser des tentes, pour les occuper de façon permanente, dans les espaces libres et les passages du camp.

779. Quand les troupes restent au camp plus d'une nuit, les gardes-poussières et les murailles des tentes sont roulées tous les matins. En temps de pluie, on les relève du côté opposé au vent.

780. Si la direction et la nature du vent le permettent, les portes des tentes des demi-bataillons doivent faire face à l'intérieur. Ceci permet, en cas d'alerte, aux hommes des demi-bataillons de droite de se former plus rapidement sur le terrain de rassemblement de leurs compagnies; mais cette considération ne doit jamais empêcher les portes d'être orientées à l'abri du vent, quand cela est nécessaire. Dans les corps à cheval, les portes des tentes font face à la ligne des chevaux.

781. Comme il ne doit pas y avoir de lumière dans une tente vide, le dernier homme qui la quitte doit éteindre la lumière.

782. La nuit et pendant les pluies, on doit lâcher les cordes de tentes, pour éviter que les piquets soient arrachés ou les montants brisés.

783. On creuse une petite tranchée autour des tentes, pour recevoir les eaux, et un fossé d'égout, pour leur permettre de s'écouler facilement au dehors. Les commandants de compagnies, etc., choisissent le premier jour de pluie, après la formation du camp, pour examiner le terrain sur lequel sont campés leurs hommes, et faire creuser les égouts nécessaires. Une demi-heure de travail, un jour de pluie, quand la pente des eaux se voit facilement, contribue plus à la santé générale des troupes, que ne peut le faire, par un temps sec, une journée entière de travail.

784. La cavalerie, l'artillerie et les unités montées du génie ne devraient jamais être placées sur un flanc, à moins que ce flanc ne soit un point de défense important; dans ce cas, les pièces doivent être protégées par une forte garde d'infanterie, car, à l'alerte, les troupes montées sont plus lentes à se rassembler, et les chevaux sont susceptibles de prendre peur et de semer le désordre dans le camp.

785. L'infanterie est distribuée au camp selon les nécessités militaires. Ainsi, dans le voisinage de l'ennemi, une partie est campée sur les flancs et sur les derrières, prête à faire face à toutes les éventualités.

786. Le site à choisir pour les approvisionnements doit être près d'une bonne route, afin de faciliter leur rapide débarquement, le cas échéant.

787. L'emplacement du service de santé, au camp, est subordonné aux conditions sanitaires et aux facilités de communication, mais, à proximité de l'ennemi, il doit céder le pas devant les considérations militaires.

Délimitations du camp.

788. Quand on doit faire camper des corps de troupes nombreux, il est très à désirer que l'officier chargé de tracer le camp ait en sa possession un levé topographique du terrain à être occupé par chaque corps. De cette façon, il lui est facile de placer les marqueurs de toutes les unités, et, quand les troupes arrivent, elles se dirigent sans hésitation vers les endroits qui leur sont assignés. Pour le détail concernant le tracé des camps, le dressage des tentes, etc., consulter les règlements sur les camps, dernière édition.

Service dans les camps permanents.

789. Le commandant doit prendre les précautions nécessaires pour faire observer toutes les mesures sanitaires réglementaires, et, dans ce but, il visite fréquemment les latrines, les cendriers, etc. A l'arrivée de chaque détachement au camp, il envoie au devant un planton, qui lui désigne l'emplacement de son camp, des abreuvoirs, des latrines, des urinoirs, des fosses aux déchets, etc. Il fait placer des placards pour indiquer les eaux à boire, les eaux pour le blanchissage du linge et celles pour le bain. Il donne les ordres pour défendre de salir ou de gaspiller les eaux, et veille à la stricte exécution de ces prescriptions.

790. Quand il n'y a ni officier du service de l'artillerie, ni sous-assistant quartier-maître général présents au camp, le commandant prend lui-même charge de l'équipement du camp et du matériel, les distribue aux troupes ou en reçoit les versements, selon les cas.

791. Les devoirs des médecins militaires sont prescrits dans les règlements du service de santé, mais, en sus de ces devoirs, les médecins militaires doivent inspecter les pieds des hommes à leur arrivée au camp, et ils demandent au commandant de fixer l'endroit et l'heure de cette inspection.

794. Le capitaine du jour, assisté d'un subalterne du jour, est présent aux parades des hommes de garde du régiment et les visite le jour et la nuit.

Garde du camp et les piquets.

795. Les gardes-montantes, au camp, ont lieu ordinairement à la même heure. Quand un détachement est de piquet, ceux qui doivent le relever le lendemain en sont prévenus vingt-quatre heures d'avance. Si le piquet du jour reçoit l'ordre de quitter le camp, sa relève prend immédiatement sa place et est considérée comme étant de service. On observe, au camp, autant que possible, les règles générales prescrites pour les postes et les gardes.

796. La force numérique des piquets dépend de l'effectif des troupes et du service imposé par les conditions particulières du camp. Les piquets sont généralement assemblés, à la retraite, sur le terrain de rassemblement de la brigade, d'où ils se rendent à leurs postes, qu'ils occupent pendant la nuit. En service actif, les piquets gardent leur équipement et se tiennent toujours prêts à répondre promptement à toute alerte.

Police et propreté.

797. L'officier supérieur du jour du piquet est chargé de la police et de la propreté du camp, et il commande aux capitaines du jour de fournir les corvées nécessaires pour exécuter ces services.

798. Le capitaine du jour, assisté d'un subalterne du jour et du quartier-maître de chaque unité, sont responsables, vis-à-vis de l'officier supérieur du jour, du piquet et à leur propre commandant, de la police et de la propreté du camp.

799. Aucun trafic n'est permis sur le front de bandière du camp ou à travers les tentes. Toutes les charrettes, les fourgons et les chevaux doivent passer dans les intervalles libres, tracés comme chemins, et sur les derrières du camp. Les personnes autorisées à vendre des articles quelconques aux hommes, sont installées sur les derrières du camp. Il leur est défendu de quitter leurs étalages et d'aller dans le camp. Des plantons en armes restent sur ce marché jusqu'à ce qu'il soit terminé. L'officier d'état-major fixe un tarif des prix pour les marchandises ainsi offertes en vente. Ces prix seuls sont permis, et les objets achetés sont toujours payés au comptant.

800. L'accès au camp est strictement défendu aux femmes de mœurs douteuses: elles sont très fréquemment employées comme espionnes.

801. La police du camp fait souvent des rondes, à des heures non fixées d'avance, et opère l'arrestation de toute personne surprise en contravention aux règlements.

Latrines.

802. On creuse des latrines aussitôt l'arrivée des troupes au camp. Une tranchée de 4 pieds de profondeur, d'un pied de largeur au fond et de 2 pieds au sommet (la longueur réelle dépendant du nombre d'hommes présents) et d'une longueur de 18 à 20 pieds, est généralement suffisante pour la nuit et doit invariablement être comblée, le matin.

Cuisson des aliments.

803. Faire bien la cuisine et rapidement est un art assez facile à acquérir et que tout soldat doit apprendre. C'est d'un intérêt supérieur de veiller à ce que la cuisson des aliments des hommes soit faite avec le plus grand soin. Ce service ne doit jamais être laissé aux sous-officiers, mais les officiers eux-mêmes doivent y voir de près.

RÈGLEMENTS POUR LES ÉCOLES ROYALES D'INSTRUCTION MILITAIRE DE LA MILICE ACTIVE DU DOMINION DU CANADA.

804. Des écoles d'instruction militaire ont été créées, chez les corps permanents, pour permettre aux officiers et aux sous-officiers de la milice active d'y suivre un cours d'étude et d'exercice et d'obtenir leur certificat d'aptitude. Les escadrons de cavalerie et d'infanterie montée, les batteries et les compagnies d'artillerie, et les compagnies d'infanterie, tous organisés d'une manière permanente, forment, chaque corps isolément, une école militaire.

805. Les troupes permanentes doivent se maintenir à un haut degré d'instruction, afin de pouvoir aider efficacement les officiers et les sous-officiers qui viennent suivre un cours, et qu'ils ont le devoir de traiter convenablement, selon les règles des écoles militaires.

806. L'école royale de cavalerie est à Toronto, Ont. L'école royale d'artillerie de campagne se trouve à Kingston, Ont., et l'école d'artillerie de forteresse, à Québec, Qué. Des cours de cavalerie, d'infanterie montée et d'infanterie sont donnés par le corps permanent des "Carabiniers montés royaux canadiens", à Winnipeg, Man. Les écoles royales d'infanterie se trouvent à London et à Toronto, Ont., à Saint-Jean et à Québec, Qué., et à Frédéric-ton, N.-B.

807. A moins d'instructions contraires, les candidats qui désirent suivre un cours sont requis de rejoindre l'école de leur arme qui se trouve la plus rapprochée du chef-lieu de leur corps. En sus des cours indiqués ci-dessus, il y aura aussi des cours d'équitation pour les officiers montés des unités à pied, dans les corps suivants:—

un cours tous les mois.

Au régiment "des Carabiniers montés royaux canadiens", à Winnipeg, Man.: un cours tous les mois.

Un cours d'équitation dure 28 jours, mais, aussitôt qu'il est ouvert, un candidat qui se croit compétent, peut demander à subir son examen d'aptitude.

808. Les officiers qui désirent passer leur examen d'équitation, le font devant une commission nommée dans ce but par l'adjudant général. L'examen est restreint à l'équitation et au maniement du sabre, comme officier monté d'infanterie. Les demandes de convocation de commissions, spécifiant la date et l'endroit les plus convenables aux candidats, sont adressées à l'adjudant général, par la voie hiérarchique ordinaire.

Certificats d'aptitude des officiers.

809. On exige les certificats d'aptitude suivants des officiers des différents grades:—

Officiers subalternes—un certificat d'officier subalterne.

Capitaines—un certificat de capitaine.

Officiers supérieurs et adjudants—un certificat d'officier supérieur.

Aussitôt que les dispositions nécessaires seront prises, les officiers supérieurs subiront un examen avant d'être promus au grade de lieutenant-colonel et d'être nommés au commandement d'un régiment. Les différents sujets de cet examen seront publiés de temps en temps dans les "Ordres de la Milice".

Ecoles provisoires d'instruction pour toutes les armes.

810. On peut autoriser, à certaines époques, dans les localités convenables des différents districts militaires, des cours d'instruction spéciaux pour les officiers qui désirent obtenir des certificats d'aptitude sur des sujets particuliers.

811. Le commandant du district, avec sa recommandation favorable à l'établissement de l'une de ces écoles provisoires, doit aussi faire parvenir aux autorités une liste certifiée des officiers qui désirent en suivre les cours.

812. Le commandant du district, ou un officier de l'état-major permanent et d'une unité permanente, agit comme commandant de ces écoles, avec un officier des troupes permanentes comme adjudant, et le nombre de sergents-instructeurs nécessaires.

813. Les heures pour l'exercice et les études, ainsi que le tableau de l'instruction générale, etc., sont fixés par le commandant, qui soumet le tout à l'approbation des autorités à Ottawa.

814. Un examen pour l'obtention de certificats spéciaux est passé à la fin de chaque cours. Le commandant de l'une des écoles royales de l'arme pour laquelle ces cours provisoires ont été établis, surveille lui-même cet examen, assisté par un autre officier des troupes permanentes et par l'adjudant de l'école provisoire, si cela est nécessaire.

815. L'officier qui surveille ces examens établit lui-même les questions à soumettre par écrit aux candidats.

816. Les règlements à suivre pour ces examens sont les mêmes que pour les écoles permanentes.

817. Une solde supplémentaire de $1 par jour pour l'adjudant, et de 25 cents pour les sergents-instructeurs, leur est attribuée, quand une école provisoire est établie aux endroits où ils sont en garnison et que leurs travaux à cette école sont en sus de leur service régimentaire. L'adjudant d'une école provisoire qui n'est pas établie dans l'endroit où son corps est stationné, reçoit $2.50 par jour, comme indemnité de logement et de subsistance.

818. Les officiers qui suivent les cours d'une école provisoire n'ont droit à aucune solde, mais on leur accorde une indemnité de subsistance de $1 par jour, quand ils ont obtenu leur certificat d'aptitude et qu'ils ne résident pas dans la localité, ou près de la localité, où est cette école provisoire. En outre, ces officiers, après avoir obtenu leur certificat, ont également droit aux frais de transport de leur résidence à l'école, aller et retour.

819. Les frais de transport sont accordés, par le commandant de leur dépôt, à l'adjudant et aux sergents-instructeurs détachés dans ces écoles spéciales.

Discipline.

820. Les commandants des écoles sont chargés de l'instruction, des examens et de la discipline de leur école.

821. Les officiers et les sous-officiers détachés pour un cours dans les écoles, seront, pour fins de discipline, appelés de temps à autre en service actif et soumis aux lois et règlements de l' "Acte de Milice" applicables aux officiers et aux sous-officiers qui se trouvent en pareils cas.

822. Les officiers détachés marchent entre eux selon le grade qu'ils possèdent dans la milice active, mais dans le service de l'école, quel que soit leur grade, ils marchent après tous les officiers formant les cadres permanents des écoles.

823. Quand des personnes, sujettes aux lois militaires, sont susceptibles d'être traduites devant une cour martiale de district, la demande de convocation de la cour doit être accompagnée d'un état indiquant le nombre d'officiers présents qui sont qualifiés pour être membres de cette cour. Si un officier détaché est nommé membre d'une telle cour, il a droit à l'ancienneté qui lui donne son grade dans la milice active.

824. Les commandants des écoles peuvent renvoyer dans leurs corps les sous-officiers détachés à leurs écoles qui, par leur conduite, leur caractère ou toute autre cause, se sont rendus indignes d'être retenus au service des écoles. Il est rendu compte aux quartiers généraux de tous les cas de renvoi qui peuvent se produire.

Congés.

825. Les commandants peuvent, dans les cas de nécessité, accorder aux officiers et sous-officiers, qui ont payé leur dettes régimentaires, la permission de quitter l'école avant la fin de leurs cours, mais, en pareil cas, ces permissionnaires n'ont pas droit aux frais de transport du retour.

826. On adresse, tous les mois, aux quartiers généraux, un état de tous les permissionnaires. Le commandant peut accorder un congé temporaire à un officier détaché à son école. Cependant, le droit de rejoindre l'école plus tard est subordonné aux vacances qui peuvent alors exister.

827. Les commandants ne doivent pas accorder de permissions aux officiers de leur corps pendant "un cours", excepté du samedi au lundi matin, ce qui peut se faire quelquefois.

828. Les commandants d'écoles peuvent s'absenter eux-mêmes pendant trois jours, à n'importe quelle époque, mais, comme leur présence à l'école est indispensable, il est à présumer qu'ils ne prendront pas avantage de cette faveur pendant "un cours", excepté dans des circonstances tout à fait exceptionnelles. Ils ne doivent jamais permettre à leur commandant en second de s'absenter en même temps qu'eux-mêmes.

829. De plus longs congés, quand ils sont nécessaires, leur sont accordés, entre les "cours", sur demande faite dans la forme réglementaire.

830. Quand un commandant d'école désire se rendre aux quartiers généraux, il en fait la demande, en indiquant le but.

831. Les commandants des écoles d'artillerie reçoivent de l'adjudant général l'autorisation de s'absenter, quand leur service d'inspection les appelle au dehors.

832. Un commandant d'école militaire qui est en même temps commandant de district, adresse un memorandum aux autorités à Ottawa, quand son service d'inspecteur l'appelle, spécifiant la date de son départ et le jour probable de son retour.

Cours d'instruction.

833. Dix officiers et vingt sous-officiers (recommandés) sont autorisés à rejoindre une école de cavalerie ou d'artillerie, ou d'infanterie, pour un cours de courte durée (short course) de trois mois. A la fin de ce cours, le commandant de l'école peut choisir, parmi ces officiers et ces sous-officiers, un ou plusieurs des plus capables et les recommander pour un cours de longue durée (long course), mais l'effectif réglementaire ne doit pas être dépassé. Le cours de longue durée de cavalerie ou d'infanterie dure six mois, et celui d'artillerie, neuf mois. Les officiers qui suivent les cours de longue durée, passent trois mois au Collège militaire royal.

834. Les officiers qui suivent ces cours doivent avoir des notions élémentaires d'exercice, à leur arrivée, mais ils sont ensuite astreints à des études avancées, pendant leur séjour à l'école.

835. Un officier qui a passé l'examen voulu, ne peut avoir l'autorisation de suivre un cours de longue durée dans une des écoles royales, ou au Collège militaire royal, en vue d'obtenir un certificat d'aptitude pour être nommé à un emploi dans les troupes permanentes, à moins que le commandant de l'école où il a reçu son certificat, ne le recommande comme très capable de faire un excellent officier dans les troupes permanentes.

836. Les officiers et les sergents ne peuvent obtenir des certificats de cours spéciaux que s'ils ont passé l'examen voulu, après être demeurés au moins sept jours dans une école permanente militaire, ou bien, après avoir suivi les cours spéciaux d'une école provisoire.

837. Afin d'assurer toutes les facilités possibles, les commandants des écoles peuvent, sans en référer aux autorités à Ottawa, permettre aux officiers et aux sous-officiers de la milice active qui préfèrent loger chez eux ou ailleurs, de suivre les cours de leurs écoles, à des heures indiquées; mais les personnes qui suivent ainsi les cours et qui ne demeurent pas aux casernes, n'ont droit ni à la solde, ni frais de transports, ni aux rations, ou à toute autre indemnité payables par le trésor public. Le nombre ainsi autorisé à suivre les cours, tout en résidant chez eux ou dans des logements particuliers, peut être en sus des dix officiers et des vingt sous-officiers réglementairement autorisés à être détachés pour l'instruction.

838. Aucun officier ou instructeur des écoles ne doit recevoir de solde supplémentaire ou de rémunération pécuniaire d'un officier détaché ou d'un sous-officier pour leçons données, soit en dehors des heures régulières ou pendant ces heures régulières.

Mess.

840. Les officiers et les sous-officiers détachés aux écoles, excepté ceux qui sont exempts pour des causes particulières, font partie d'office des mess régimentaires.

841. La ration individuelle des membres du mess est distribuée au gérant maître d'hôtel pour le bénéfice du mess.

842. Les comptes encourus au mess sont en tête de liste des dettes des membres, et à la fin d'un cours, le chèque de solde de chaque officier lui parvient par l'entremise du commandant de l'école.

843. Quand un officier, à la fin de son cours et lorsqu'il quitte l'école pour toute autre raison, est en dette au mess, il n'est pas retenu à l'école en attendant le paiement; mais ses frais de transports de retour lui sont supprimés, s'il y a lieu, et le commandant de l'école rend compte immédiatement aux autorités à Ottawa de la somme d'arrérages que doit cet officier.

Règlements pour l'entrée aux écoles.

Officiers qui rejoignent.

844. Les demandes pour suivre un cours doivent être adressées, par la voie hiérarchique, au commandant du district où réside le candidat. Le commandant de district prend là-dessus les dispositions réglementaires, et, si la demande est approuvée, il prévient l'officier de la date qu'il doit rejoindre l'école, et lui envoie en même temps les frais de transport nécessaires. Il en prévient aussi le commandant de l'école.

845. Les officiers et les sous-officiers ne doivent pas rejoindre une école militaire permanente, sans en avoir dûment reçu l'autorisation.

846. Au commencement de chaque cours, le commandant d'une école permanente adresse les états suivants aux commandants de districts intéressés et à l'adjudant général:—

- (a) Des candidats qui ont rejoint.
- (b) Des candidats qui n'ont pas rejoint.

Les commandants de districts, en fournissant les noms de ceux qui sont portés sur l'état (b), y inscrivent les raisons qui ont motivé l'absence de ces officiers à l'ouverture des cours, ainsi que ses propres remarques, pour renseigner l'adjudant général.

847. Quand un militaire fait une demande pour être admis dans une école n'appartenant pas à son arme, ou dans une école non située dans son propre district, il doit fournir toutes les explications possibles à l'appui de sa demande, afin que le commandant de son district puisse en faire part, en toute connaissance de cause, à l'adjudant général.

848. Quand un officier ou un sous-officier demande à suivre un cours dans une école, il doit spécifier s'il a déjà suivi un cours dans une autre école, et s'il en est ainsi, indiquer la date et la nature du cours et l'espèce de certificat qu'il y a obtenu.

849. Les demandes en faveur des "Long Course Officers" qui désirent suivre les cours de l'école royale d'artillerie de Kingston et du Collège militaire royal du Canada, dans le but de terminer leur cours de longue durée, sont établies par les commandants de ces écoles et adressées à l'adjudant général, à Ottawa, pas moins d'un mois avant l'ouverture de ces cours.

850. Tous les officiers des compagnies du génie canadien de campagne doivent obtenir les certificats d'aptitude suivants:—

(1) Certificat d'infanterie (comme pour les officiers d'infanterie du grade correspondant).

(2) Certificat d'équitation (comme pour les officiers montés en général).

(3) Exercice du génie en campagne.

Examen écrit—Chapitre I, II. Chapitre III, sections 26 à 30, incluses. Chapitre IV, partie I, chapitre V, partie I, chapitre VI, partie I, chapitre VII, parties I, II et V (sections 209 et 210), et parties VI, VII, IX, X.

Examen oral et pratique—Chapitre IV, parties II, III et IV, chapitre V, parties II et III. Chapitre VII, partie V, à section 209. Appendices II et III.

(4) Certificat technique (pour tous les grades).

(a) Génie militaire.

Partie I, sections 1 à 15 incluses.

Partie II, sections 1, 3, 7, 8 et 10.

Partie III, sections 1 à 9 incluses, et sections 12, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19 et 20.

Partie IV, sections 1 à 14, incluses, à l'exception de la section 4. Section 8, en général.

Partie V, sections 1 à 10 inclus.

(b) Arpentage et reconnaissances militaires.

Topographie militaire de "Richards", sections 1 à 11, incluses, et sections 13, 16, 22 et 24.

(1) et (2) peuvent être suivis à une école provisoire. Un examen théorique a lieu au chef-lieu du district pour (3) et (4) et à d'autres endroits convenables, et un cours et un examen pratiques, à un camp d'instruction.

Sous-officiers qui rejoignent.

851. Il est entendu que les sous-officiers qui suivent les cours des écoles militaires, doivent être désignés d'une manière équitable parmi tous les régiments de la milice.

852. Les commandants de corps doivent faire un choix raisonné des sous-officiers, qu'ils recommandent pour suivre les cours des écoles militaires. Ces sous-officiers doivent savoir au moins lire et écrire couramment. Ceux qui sont incapables de le faire, ne doivent pas être sous-officiers et, par là même, ne peuvent être envoyés à une école.

Ces écoles enseignent les questions militaires, et non l'art de lire et d'écrire. Le but principal à atteindre est que ceux qui suivent ces écoles doivent, à leur retour dans leur corps, être capables d'enseigner aux autres. Il est donc facile de se rendre compte de l'importance qu'il y a de n'envoyer aux écoles que des sous-officiers susceptibles, au moral comme au physique, d'y suivre les cours avec profit pour eux-mêmes et pour leurs camarades.

853. Quand un sous-officier, admis à une école, est trouvé impropre au service, ou qui ne peut ni lire ni écrire couramment, il est renvoyé à son corps. Le commandant de l'école lui délivre les frais de transport nécessaires à son retour, et cette somme et toute autre encourue du fait de ce sous-officier, sont mises au compte du commandant de la compagnie à laquelle il appartient. Le commandant de l'école, en pareil cas, fait un compte rendu détaillé de l'incident aux autorités à Ottawa.

856. Les commandants d'écoles non seulement veillent à ce que ces règlements soient exécutés, mais, en outre, ils chargent un officier de surveiller tous les sous-officiers-élèves; et, quand certains d'entre eux montrent un manque d'éducation ou d'intelligence qui les empêchera de faire de bons instructeurs plus tard, ils sont renvoyés dans leur corps et un rapport de l'incident est de suite adressé aux autorités à Ottawa.

857. Les commandants de corps ne doivent pas nommer au grade de sous-officier les militaires de leur corps pour leur donner simplement un grade, avant leur départ pour l'école. Ils veillent à ce que tous ceux qui sont à une école militaire aient les uniformes nécessaires

Certificats des capitaines et des chirurgiens.

858. Avant de se mettre en route pour rejoindre une école, un sous-officier doit être possesseur d'un certificat (sur modèle imprimé), certifiant qu'il a toutes les aptitudes physiques exigées par la loi. Ces certificats sont présentés aux commandants des écoles à l'arrivée des candidats. L'examen du médecin doit avoir lieu au moins dix jours avec le départ du candidat pour rejoindre l'école.

859. Le tour de poitrine ne doit pas être moindre de 34 pouces; la taille pour l'artillerie est de 5 pieds 6 pouces, et 5 pieds 5 pouces pour les autres armes.

Indemnités pour examen médical des recrues et des candidats aux cours des écoles militaires.

861. Dans une circonscription de recrutement pour la milice, quand il y a un médecin militaire qui fait le service avec les troupes, tous les hommes demandant à s'engager dans les forces permanentes de la milice, ou pour un service spécial, ou à entrer au Collège militaire royal, sont examinés par ce médecin. L'examen et le certificat sont gratuits.

(a) Quand il n'y a pas de médecin militaire de service, le commandant du district en désigne un; et, en son absence, c'est à l'officier de recrutement qu'incombe ce choix. Ce médecin reçoit, en remplacement de la solde de son grade, un dollar par examen, et, quand il y a plus de trois hommes examinés, il a droit à 50 cents par homme en sus de ce nombre.

(b) Quand il n'y a pas de médecin militaire disponible, le commandant du district, ou, s'il y a lieu, l'officier de recrutement, désigne un médecin civil pour faire les examens prescrits, au taux de rémunération indiqué ci-dessus. Ce médecin civil, avant d'agir, doit se pénétrer des règlements qui régissent le recrutement.

(c) Un modèle de la milice "B" 41 doit être joint au certificat d'examen de chaque individu, et un état nominatif de tous les hommes examinés est attaché, par le médecin, à sa demande pour le paiement de ses honoraires.

(d) Le médecin est responsable de son examen et peut être appelé à rembourser à l'Etat toutes les dépenses encourues de ce chef, si un homme examiné par lui est reconnu plus tard comme impropre au service physiquement et mentalement.

(e) Quand il y a urgence, ou quand plusieurs recrues attendent leur tour d'examen, on peut désigner plusieurs médecins examinateurs.

Frais de transport.

862. Les officiers qui rejoignent une école, pour y suivre un cours "de courte durée" ou un cours "de longue durée", ont droit au transport en première classe. Ils échangent leurs pièces officielles contre un billet de passage à bord d'un bateau ou d'un train, avant de se mettre en route.

863. Les officiers qui rejoignent une école, pour un cours quelconque, ont droit aux frais de transport; mais, s'ils n'obtiennent pas leur certificat, ils remboursent à l'Etat le montant d'un passage de première classe, qu'ils déposent chez le Receveur général.

864. Les frais raisonnables et réels de voyage, à part le transport, sont remboursés aux officiers, quand ils obtiennent à l'école leurs certificats d'aptitude.

865. Les sous-officiers qui rejoignent une école, ou qui reviennent après avoir complété leur cours à l'école, ont droit au transport en deuxième classe, par bateau ou par voie ferrée.

866. Soit à aller à l'école, soit au retour, le commandant de cette école fournit les demandes de transport lui-même.

867. Quand un militaire, autorisé à suivre les cours d'une école, reçoit des moyens de transport et ne rejoint pas l'école dans la suite, ou donne sa réquisition à un autre, qui l'utilise, sans y avoir droit, ce militaire est appelé à rendre compte sévèrement de cette irrégularité.

Solde, rations et indemnités.

868. Les officiers qui suivent un cours de courte durée, $1 par jour de solde; les sous-officiers, dans la même position, 50 cents par jour. Les trompettes et les clairons, âgés de moins de 18 ans, reçoivent 40 cents par jour.

869. L'indemnité de pension et de logement est de $1 par jour pour les officiers, et de 75 cents pour les sous-officiers.

870. Les officiers des forces permanentes qui suivent un cours pour obtenir leur certificat d'aptitude, n'ont pas droit à $1 par jour. Ils continuent à recevoir de leurs corps la solde de leur grade, et l'école leur fournit le logement et les rations.

871. Les officiers et les sous-officiers qui suivent, soit un cours de courte durée, soit un cours de longue durée, reçoivent la même solde dans les deux cas, et pour les jours seulement qu'ils sont réellement présents à l'école.

872. Quand un sous-officier quitte une école, avant d'avoir terminé son cours, il est appelé à payer une contribution de $2 par mois pour le temps de son absence avant la fin de son cours, en diminution du prix de la vareuse de serge qu'il a touché pour son usage à l'école.

Règlements spéciaux pour l'école de tir.

873. On a organisé à Ottawa une école de tir appelée "L'Ecole canadienne de tir".

Etat-major.

874. L'état-major est composé comme suit :—

- 1 commandant instructeur en chef.
- 1 officier instructeur.
- 1 sergent quartier-maître instructeur.
- 2 sergents-instructeurs provenant du Régiment royal canadien.

875. Des cours pour les officiers et les sous-officiers sont ouverts pendant les mois de juillet, d'août, de septembre et d'octobre de chaque année. Ces cours commencent les premiers lundis de juillet et de septembre, respectivement.

876. Chaque cours dure six semaines et comprend les conférences et les travaux suivants:—

- (a) Tir à la cible et appréciation des distances de tir.

- (c) Matériel et administration des champs de tir.
- (d) Choix de champs de tir et les conditions requises.
- (e) Fabrication et essai des munitions S.A.

Certificats.

877. Il y a deux classes de certificats, "l'ordinaire" et "l'extraordinaire".

878. La solde est la même que dans toutes les autres écoles de tir.

879. Les soldats et les brosseurs touchent la même solde que les simples soldats des forces permanentes.

Indemnités.

880. Une indemnité de vivres est accordée au taux de $1 pour les officiers, et de 75 cents pour les sous-officiers et les brosseurs.

881. Les officiers supérieurs ont droit à un brosseur chacun, et les autres officiers, à un pour quatre. Les brosseurs sont présents aux exercices ou aux travaux généraux, quand le commandant le juge à propos.

Logements.

882. Il est établi un camp au champ de tir de Rockliffe, qui dure pendant toute la période des cours. Des tentes à cloche, avec planchers, sont fournies comme suit :—

Une tente pour un officier supérieur.

Une tente pour deux officiers d'un grade inférieur.

Une tente pour trois sous-officiers.

On fournit également aux officiers, aux sous-officiers et aux hommes, à chacun un lit de camp, un matelas, un traversin, une couverture de lit et une imperméable.

Transport.

883. Comme pour les autres écoles.

Demandes d'admission.

884. Les demandes sont faites aux autorités à Ottawa, par l'entremise des commandants de district. Chaque demande est accompagnée d'un certificat du commandant de compagnie du candidat, indiquant qu'il est bon tireur.

885. Seuls, les officiers qui possèdent des certificats de tir, sont susceptibles d'être nommés instructeurs de tir dans leur régiment.

Instructeurs de tir.

886. Les officiers désignés pour être instructeurs de tir et détachés aux états-majors des commandants de camps annuels, ont droit à la solde de leur grade.

Tenue des officiers détachés aux écoles militaires royales.

887. Les officiers des écoles militaires et ceux qui suivent des cours, doivent toujours être en tenue, dans les casernes et au camp, ainsi que dans les rues de la ville près de laquelle se trouve l'école, excepté quand ils assistent aux exercices athlétiques et de canotage, quand ils sont en promenade à cheval ou en voiture, dans la campagne, ou présents à une soirée d'un caractère intime ; alors ils peuvent porter l'habit bourgeois.

888. Les officiers détachés pour un cours de courte durée, doivent être possesseurs de l'uniforme désigné pour leur corps. En sus, ils doivent avoir, en hiver : une capote, une coiffure en fourrure, des gants et des bottes d'hiver. Les commandants des écoles veillent à la stricte exécution de ces règlements dans leurs écoles.

Tenue des sous-officiers détachés aux écoles militaires royales.

889. Les sous-officiers détachés pour un cours de courte durée, doivent être possesseurs de l'uniforme désigné pour leur corps. A leur arrivée à l'école, on ne leur distribue gratuitement qu'une vareuse et un pantalon en serge ou des culottes basanées pour le service à cheval. On leur distribue aussi des capotes à l'école, pour la durée de leur cours, ainsi que des coiffures en fourrure et des moufles pour l'hiver.

Certificats.

890. Des certificats sont accordés et délivrés, selon les instructions publiées dans les ordres généraux.

Examens—dans toutes les écoles militaires.

891. Les examens ont lieu à la fin de chaque cours et sont ouverts aux officiers, aux sous-officiers et aux hommes appartenant aux troupes permanentes, ou aux officiers et sous-officiers détachés pour suivre un cours.

892. Les candidats sont examinés sur le terrain, pour établir leurs connaissances pratiques de l'exercice.

893. Les examens théoriques ont lieu par écrit, pas moins de dix questions doivent être posées sur chaque sujet. On accorde trois heures pour répondre aux questions de chaque sujet.

894. Les questions sont préparées par le commandant de l'école. Elles sont numérotées, et le nombre total de points à obtenir est indiqué vis-à-vis de chaque question. Les réponses des candidats sont lues et corrigées par le commandant, ou par un officier désigné par lui, et les points obtenus par les candidats pour chaque question leur sont accordés et clairement indiqués sur les réponses.

895. La date et l'heure de l'examen et la durée totale du temps accordé pour répondre aux questions sont visiblement indiqués en tête de chaque liste de questions.

896. Tout candidat qui subit un examen écrit a un numéro d'ordre, et son nom ne doit apparaître, sous aucun prétexte, sur la liste des questions à répondre.

897. Tous les diagrammes, les cartes ou autres documents ayant trait à l'examen du moment, doivent être enlevés de la salle d'examen, ainsi que tous les livres, les cahiers de notes et autres choses dont le candidat pourrait se servir.

898. Un officier est désigné pour surveiller l'examen et ne tolère aucune conversation entre les candidats; que personne ne quitte la salle d'examen avant d'avoir remis ses réponses, et qu'aucune information ou communication quelconque ne soit permise entre les concurrents.

899. L'officier désigné pour surveiller l'examen, doit certifier les réponses reçues des candidats de la manière suivante :—" Je, par la présente, certifie qu'ayant été désigné pour surveiller cet examen, j'étais présent pendant toute sa durée, que les questions, je certifie ici ont été répondues par écrit, en ma présence, par le candidat, dont je suis sûr de l'identité, et que l'examen s'est passé conformément à toutes les prescriptions réglementaires.

SERVICES DE SANTE DE L'ARMEE.

900. Le corps de santé militaire est divisé en deux sections:—

- I. Service de santé de l'armée.
- II. Service de santé régimentaire.

I.

901. Le service de santé de l'armée comprend:—

- (1) Etat-major.
- (2) Corps de santé de l'armée.

(1).

902. L'état-major est composé de:—

- (a) Le directeur général du service de santé, avec le grade de colonel;
- (b) un médecin principal pour chaque district;
- (c) d'autres médecins d'état-major, quand cela est nécessaire, mais, en aucun cas, le nombre de ces médecins ne doit dépasser les cadres fixés annuellement par le Gouverneur général en conseil.

903. Tous les médecins principaux, n'appartenant pas au service permanent de santé de la milice active, reçoivent une indemnité de $300 par année. En retour de cette indemnité, en sus de leur service ordinaire et sans autre rémunération du trésor public, ces médecins principaux examinent les recrues des forces permanentes et agissent comme présidents des commissions médicales, convoquées dans leur propre district.

904. Le corps de santé de l'armée comprend:—

(A) Le corps permanent de santé de la milice active, composé comme suit:—

- (a) un directeur général du service de santé (colonel) commandant;
- (b) un commis de première classe pour le directeur général du service de santé (sous-officier breveté);
- (c) des médecins militaires, chefs des hôpitaux de chaque station;
- (d) un chef de salle et un sous-chef de salle pour l'hôpital de chaque station;
- (e) trois infirmiers pour chaque hôpital

(B) Le corps de santé de la milice comprend:—

- (a) des médecins militaires;
- (b) des chirurgien dentistes;
- (c) des sœurs gardes-malades;
- (d) des sous-officiers et des soldats, engagés au corps et répartis, selon les besoins, dans les différentes unités de brancardiers et d'ambulance de campagne.

905. Le nombre des médecins, dentistes, gardes-malades, sous-officiers et soldats qui doivent composer le corps de santé de l'armée est fixé selon les besoins du moment, mais, en aucun cas, le nombre ne doit dépasser les cadres fixés annuellement par le Gouverneur général en conseil.

Grade et autorité.

906. Les officiers de l'état-major du corps de santé et ceux du corps de santé de l'armée, à l'exception des dentistes et des sœurs gardes-malades, sont considérés comme combattants, avec les grade de colonel, lieutenant-colonel, major, capitaine et lieutenant, mais leur autorité ne s'étend pas au delà de leur corps et des patients sous leurs soins.

Les chirurgiens dentistes, à leur nomination, reçoivent le grade relatif de lieutenant, et, après cinq ans, celui de capitaine, (mais leur titre officiel est toujours "chirurgien dentiste"). L'effectif du corps des dentistes ne dépasse pas 18. La solde d'un dentiste est celle de son grade relatif. Il n'est détaché pour le service que par ordre des autorités à Ottawa, et il reçoit la solde et les indemnités pour le nombre de jours de service seulement accomplis en vertu de cet ordre.

Les sœurs gardes-malades ont le grade relatif de lieutenant, c'est-à-dire qu'elles marchent avec les lieutenants dans l'ordre de préséance, mais leur titre officiel est toujours "sœurs gardes-malades", et elles n'ont ni commandement militaire ni autorité. Elles ne sont détachées pour le service que strictement par ordre des autorités à Ottawa, et elles reçoivent la solde et les indemnités pour le nombre de jours de service seulement, accomplis en vertu de cet ordre.

Solde et indemnités.

907. La solde et les indemnités des médecins de l'état-major, des médecins militaires, des chirurgiens dentistes et des sœurs gardes-malades du corps de santé de l'armée, et des médecins militaires des forces permanentes et des régiments sont les mêmes que celles fixées à l'article 543, pour les officiers de régiment de même grade, et à l'article 985, pour les officiers des troupes permanentes de même grade.

Degrés d'aptitude.

908. Les degrés d'aptitude des candidats pour nomination et promotion dans le département de santé sont fixés de temps en temps dans les ordres de la milice, approuvés par le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense.

909. Le nombre de médecins militaires qui sont nommés à diverses époques est fixé aux états d'effectifs annuels approuvés par le Gouverneur en conseil.

910. Les médecins régimentaires ont les grades et les titres de combattants, c'est-à-dire major, capitaine et lieutenant, mais leur commandement militaire est limité à leur propre section de brancardiers, et leur autorité ne s'applique qu'aux patients qui peuvent être sous leurs soins.

911. Les degrés d'aptitude pour nomination et promotion des médecins régimentaires sont fixés de temps en temps dans les ordres de la milice.

912. Le service et les devoirs d'un médecin régimentaire sont strictement limités à son propre corps, et tant qu'il appartient à ce corps, il ne peut être nommé à l'état-major de santé, ni à un emploi dans les services de cet état-major, le but étant de nommer, à l'avenir, à cet état-major des membres du corps de santé de l'armée ou de la réserve des médecins militaires, exclusivement.

III.—Promotion.

913. Pour des fins de promotion, les médecins des troupes permanentes de la milice et les médecins de la milice active sont considérés comme appartenant à deux sections distinctes, et les promotions ont lieu d'après les mêmes principes que dans un régiment ou un corps.

Service régimentaire.

914. Les promotions, sujettes aux degrés d'aptitudes requis, ont lieu comme suit:—

Capitaine, après un an de service comme lieutenant.

Major, après quatre ans de service comme capitaine.

Après dix ans de service comme major, les médecins régimentaires peuvent obtenir le grade honoraire de lieutenant-colonel, avec extension de leur période de service, ou bien être versés dans la réserve des médecins militaires, ou placés à la retraite, selon le cas.

Services vétérinaires.

915. Les officiers vétérinaires, à leur nomination dans un corps de la milice active, reçoivent le grade réel de lieutenant-vétérinaire.

916. Après cinq ans de service, les lieutenants-vétérinaires, sur la proposition de leur commandant, peuvent être promus au grade de capitaine-vétérinaire, et, pareillement, après deux ans de service comme capitaine, ils peuvent aussi obtenir le grade de major-vétérinaire.

917. Les officiers vétérinaires qui ont servi pendant vingt ans, sans interruption, comme vétérinaire dans un corps de la milice, peuvent être mis sur la liste de retraite, avec le grade honoraire de lieutenant-colonel vétérinaire.

918. La solde des vétérinaires est celle fixée à l'article 543 pour les officiers de même grade.

919. Les règlements ci-dessus, concernant les nominations et les promotions, s'appliquent également aux vétérinaires.

rinaires des troupes permanentes, excepté pour leur solde, qui est fixée par l'article 985.

920. Les propositions pour la nomination des vétérinaires militaires sont établies sur le modèle de la milice C 1, dûment rempli.

921. Les vétérinaires, proposés pour une nomination, doivent être possesseurs d'un diplôme ou d'un certificat d'examen final d'un collège vétérinaire légalement autorisé, et ces documents sont certifiés corrects par les commandants de corps.

922. Avant le départ pour le camp annuel, le vétérinaire régimentaire inspecte les chevaux des unités montées. Les chevaux reconnus impropres à ce service ne sont pas amenés au camp.

923. Le commandant du camp prend ses dispositions pour l'inspection et le traitement, s'il y a lieu, par un vétérinaire, des chevaux des corps montés (ou des officiers d'état-major) qui n'ont pas de vétérinaire.

924. Afin d'assurer l'exécution des règlements concernant l'inspection des chevaux, quand un corps monté, qui n'a pas de vétérinaire à son effectif, reçoit l'ordre d'aller à un camp annuel, son commandant rend compte de la chose au commandant du district, en demandant qu'un vétérinaire soit détaché pour accompagner son régiment pendant les exercices annuels.

925. Les vétérinaires font leurs demandes de médicaments, pour la période de dressage annuel, comme le font les médecins militaires, dans les mêmes circonstances.

926. Les commandants des unités montées présentent à l'inspection le registre de la milice C 55—"Etat descriptif des chevaux"—dûment mis à jour.

Cours pour vétérinaires.

927. Des cours de quinze jours sont institués pour les vétérinaires attachés à la cavalerie et à l'artillerie.

928. Les vétérinaires qui suivent ces cours, sont attachés aux Dragons royaux canadiens et à l'Artillerie royale canadienne de campagne. Les indemnités ordinaires leur sont accordées comme dans les écoles de cavalerie et d'infanterie.

929. Les classes pour vétérinaires durent quinze jours.

REGLEMENTS ET ORDONNANCES POUR LES TROUPES PERMANENTES.

Nominations d'officiers dans les troupes permanentes.

933. Un candidat à une nomination dans les troupes permanentes doit remplir les conditions suivantes:—

(a) Ne pas être marié et être âgé d'au moins 18 ans et pas plus de 25, à l'époque de sa candidature.

(b) Etre sujet britannique de naissance ou de naturalisation.

(c) Passer l'examen du médecin, qui le désigne comme étant physiquement propre au service militaire.

(d) Avoir un diplôme du Collège militaire royal du Canada et être recommandé pour cette nomination par le commandant du collège.

(e1) Avoir fait les exercices annuels des camps comme officier d'un corps de la milice active.

(e2) Etre recommandé par son chef de corps et par le commandant de son district comme étant apte à être nommé dans les troupes permanentes.

(e3) Avoir passé avec succès l'examen d'inscription sur les contrôles d'une université ayant une charte du Canada, avoir été admis à l'examen de concours d'entrée au Collège Militaire royal, à Kingston, ou avoir subi les examens littéraires ou autres qui peuvent être requis.

(f) Les officiers nommés, qui n'ont pas de diplômes du Collège militaire royal, doivent dans les 18 mois qui suivent leur nomination, obtenir un certificat d'aptitude de 1re classe de l'arme à laquelle ils appartiennent après un cours de longue durée (certificat A). Leur grade dans les forces permanentes sont provisoires jusqu'à l'obtention de ce certificat, après quoi il devient définitif, en datant de la nomination provisoire.

(g) Un candidat à une nomination dans les troupes permanentes, pour le corps du génie royal canadien, doit avoir un diplôme du Collège Militaire royal du Canada.

934. Les officiers, nommés dans les troupes permanentes, font un stage d'épreuve de trois ans, avant d'être définitivement confirmés dans leur grade. A la fin de chaque année de ce stage, les deux plus anciens officiers du corps font un rapport émettant leurs opinions sur les officiers stagiaires, et s'ils les croient digne d'être retenus au service, dans l'intérêt des corps des forces permanentes. Si un officier est l'objet de deux rapports défavorables, le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense examine le cas avec soin, et s'il trouve que ces rapports sont bien fondés, il recommande de rayer l'officier intéressé des contrôles des forces permanentes.

Degré d'aptitude des officiers d'état-major et des troupes permanentes.

935. Les officiers des unités et des états-majors permanents sont appelés, avant d'être promus à un grade supérieur à subir les mêmes examens que les officiers de l'armée impériale.

(a) Une latitude spéciale est accordée aux officiers qui désirent passer des examens, sur les sujets C.D. et

G., appendice VII., règlements du Roi, et suivre un cours de longue durée au Collège Militaire royal.

(b) Dans le programme décrit dans l'appendice VII (e), on retranchera les sujets concernant l'artillerie à cheval, pour l'artillerie de campagne, et ceux ayant trait à l'artillerie de montagne, pour l'artillerie de forteresse.

936. Les officiers de la milice active, nommés à l'état-major permanent, doivent posséder le même degré d'instruction militaires que les officiers de même grade des troupes permanentes.

937. Les officiers des troupes permanentes, en outre de leur service ordinaire de garnison ou de tout autre devoir, sont aussi des instructeurs pratiques des écoles militaires, pour aider aux officiers et les sous-officiers de la milice, à acquérir les connaissances exigées.

939. Les effectifs des régiments des différents corps des forces permanentes sont fixés tous les ans.

940. Les officiers de la milice, qui sont détachés dans les troupes permanentes pour le service, jouissent des prérogatives de leur grade temporaire dans ces troupes, relativement au commandement et à la position pendant la période qu'ils y sont employés.

Effectif établi des officiers, des sous-officiers et des hommes mariés.

941. (1) Les seuls officiers mariés des troupes permanentes, qui ont droit au logement, ou à l'indemnité de logement, sont les officiers supérieurs et ensuite les capitaines par ordre d'ancienneté. Il est bien compris que le grade par brevet ne donne aucun droit au logement.

(2) Les officiers qui sont actuellement portés sur les contrôles des officiers mariés de leur corps, garderont leur logement ou continueront à en recevoir l'indemnité, au taux du moment.

942. A l'exception des officiers subalternes, qui se sont mariés avant le 1er juillet 1901, les officiers des troupes permanentes, au-dessous du grade de capitaine, abandonneront leur commission, s'ils se marient. Cependant cette règle peut être changée par le ministre, sur recommandation du commandant de l'officier, qui désire se marier, à condition que cet officier ait servi comme lieutenant pendant six années complètes, et qu'il soit prouvé, à la satisfaction des autorités, que le postulant possède des moyens pécuniaires suffisants pour maintenir sa famille dans une situation conforme à la dignité d'un officier.

944. Un soldat, autre qu'un sous-officiers breveté, ne peut être placé sur les contrôles des hommes mariés, à moins d'en avoir obtenu le consentement de son commandant, avant le mariage.

945. Les permissions de mariage, qui ne doivent pas être données en vue d'une vacance à venir, sont accordées par le commandant du régiment ou de la batterie, où appartient le postulant.

946. Les permissions de mariage ne sont accordées que dans les conditions suivantes :—

(a) Quand il y a une vacance.

(b) Quand le commandant est assuré de la bonne conduite de la future.

(c) Quand le soldat, au-dessous du grade de sergent, a :—

1. $25 en banque.

2. Sept ans de service, sans compter le service comme jeune garçon.

3. Deux insignes de bonne conduite.

Le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense peut, sur recommandation du commandant, autoriser un soldat, qui ne remplit pas les conditions de (c), pourvu qu'il existe une vacance et qu'aucun autre postulant qualifié ne soit sur les rangs pour la remplir.

947. Un soldat qui se marie sans le consentement de son commandant ou qui était marié avant son engagement, ne peut être placé sur les contrôles des hommes mariés, sans la permission du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense. Cette permission n'est accordée que si l'homme intéressé remplit toutes les conditions spécifiées à l'article 946 ci-dessus.

948. Là où des logements sont occupés, en sus du nombre autorisé par les règlements ci-dessus, ou quand il y a des logements disponibles, on continuera, comme mesure temporaire, à les laisser en possession des sous-officiers et des hommes mariés avec permission et qui attendent des vacances pour être inscrits sur les contrôles des hommes mariés du corps.

Engagements

949. Les hommes engagés dans les troupes permanentes, doivent être sujets britanniques de naissance ou de naturalisation, entre les âges de 18 à 45 ans (excepté pour les sous-officiers d'état-major et les trompettes), avoir 5 pieds 6 pouces de taille, au moins, pour l'artillerie, et 5 pieds 5 pouces pour les autres corps, et 34 pouces de tour de poitrine ; et le médecin examinateur du corps doit certifier dans chaque cas que l'homme engagé ou rengagé est propre au service de Sa Majesté.

950. Les frais de transport d'un homme qui s'engage loin de la ville où existe l'école, peuvent lui être remboursés, mais la somme ne doit en aucun cas dépasser dix dollars.

951. Quand un homme, qui demeure loin de la ville où existe un corps, se rend à ses frais pour s'engager dans ce corps, on lui remboursera ses frais réels de transport, ne dépassant pas dix dollars, quand il a été régulièrement engagé.

952. Les hommes, qui appartiennent à la réserve de l'armée impériale, ou ceux qui manquent à l'appel de cette réserve, ne doivent pas être engagés.

953. Comme les troupes permanentes forment des écoles militaires pour l'instruction de la milice, elles doivent se montrer des modèles dans le sens le plus large du mot. Les officiers et les hommes de ces corps individuellement ou collectivement, montrent partout le meilleur exemple de discipline, d'attachement au service et de bonne conduite à tous ceux qui suivent les cours des écoles de leur corps.

954. Afin d'éviter les libérations pour causes d'inaptitude physique, et les punitions pour manquements aux lois et aux règlements militaires, on doit prendre grand soin, avant d'engager un homme, de s'assurer de sa condition physique et de sa conduite et de son caractère antérieurs, n'acceptant ainsi que des hommes tout à fait convenables au service. Tous les hommes engagés doivent savoir lire et écrire.

955. Les engagements et les rengagements dans une unité des forces permanentes sont pour le service en général.

956. On ne doit pas engager de surnuméraires, ni leur accorder la solde ou les indemnités, en attendant qu'une vacance se produise. L'effectif des hommes engagés ne doit jamais être dépassé sans autorisation des autorités, à Ottawa.

957. En adressant des demandes de rengagement en faveur d'hommes libérés antérieurement à l'ordre général 69, du 3 novembre 1893, les commandants d'unités permanentes doivent prendre aux archives les états de services de ces hommes et les joindre aux demandes.

958. Un homme, qui n'est pas sujet britannique de naissance et qui désire s'engager dans les troupes permanentes, doit avant d'être assermenté fournir des preuves, au moyen d'un certificat, qui est joint au serment d'allégeance, qu'il est devenu sujet britannique par naturalisation. Cet homme ne peut être assermenté sans fournir ce document. Le fait de prêter le serment d'allégeance, n'est pas suffisant pour satisfaire aux clauses de la loi de naturalisation.

959. Les sous-officiers et les soldats, qui se rengagent pour une période réglementaire de services, continueront à servir sous leur serment d'allégeance du début, auquel une déclaration de l'homme engagé est jointe (modèle de la milice B n° 64). Ils sont en outre requis de signer les contrôles de service de leur corps et de prêter le serment exigé par l'Acte de la Milice et les règlements établis pour la mise en vigueur de cet acte.

Serments d'allégeance.

960. Le serment est établi en double sur modèle fourni par le ministère de la Milice et de la Défense, et partout où un homme est engagé ou rengagé dans un des corps de forces permanentes, le commandant de ce corps lui fait prêter serment. La date, à laquelle l'homme signe la déclaration et prête le serment exigé, sera considérée comme la date réelle où il a été assermenté.

961. Le grade et le commandement de l'officier, qui fait prêter serment, sont inscrits à la suite de sa signature sur le certificat, à la première page du serment.

962. Les commandants des régiments de ville ou incorporés font eux-mêmes prêter serment aux engagés ; dans les autres cas, ce sont les commandants d'escadron, de batterie ou de compagnie.

Mutations.

963. Les mutations des hommes, sur leur demande personnelle, peuvent se faire, si elles sont autorisées, d'un escadron à un autre dans les Dragons royaux canadiens, ou d'une unité à une autre, dans l'Artillerie royale canadienne, ou d'une compagnie à une autre dans le Régiment royal canadien, pourvu que les dépenses encourues ne dépassent pas la somme de dix dollars.

964. Quand on fait une mutation, on se sert du modèle de la Milice B 4, dûment certifié par le commandant du corps auquel l'homme appartient, qui l'envoie au commandant de l'unité où l'homme est transféré. En remplissant le modèle B 4, les deux entrées s'y rattachant portent la même date, à moins que la recrue n'ait été engagée à un endroit et assermentée à un autre. Les remarques vis-à-vis du mot "décédé", sur la seconde page du modèle, ne sont faites que si l'homme est décédé au corps.

Permissions.

965. Les commandants des écoles militaires ne doivent pas accorder de permissions aux officiers de leur corps, pendant un cours, excepté du samedi au lundi matin, et cela assez rarement.

966. Quand il n'y pas de cours, ils peuvent accorder trois jours de permission seulement aux officiers de leur corps, à leur discrétion, pourvu qu'il n'y ait qu'un seul officier d'absent à la fois.

967. Les commandants peuvent eux-mêmes s'absenter pendant trois jours, quand cela leur est nécessaire, mais comme leur présence à l'école est, pour ainsi dire, indispensable, il est à espérer qu'ils n'abusent pas de cette prérogative, pendant la durée d'un cours, excepté dans des circonstances tout à fait exceptionnelles. Ils ne doivent jamais permettre à leur commandant en second de s'absenter en même temps qu'eux-mêmes.

Congés.

968. Les commandants des écoles militaires peuvent accorder des congés d'après les règles inscrites aux Règlements du Roi, avec les modifications suivantes:—

1. Le nombre d'hommes à qui on peut accorder des congés ne doit dépasser 10 pour 100 de l'effectif total de leur corps.

2. Les congés, qui ne doivent pas dépasser 21 jours, sont accordés aux dragons en juillet ou en août, et aux autres corps en juillet, août ou décembre.

3. On doit prendre des dispositions pour que les congés n'entravent par le service de l'instruction du tir, des exercices annuels des camps et des inspections.

4. Les demandes de congés pour des causes toutes spéciales sont adressées aux autorités à Ottawa, pour y être examinées.

5. Des congés, ne dépassant pas six semaines, peuvent être accordés aux sous-officiers et aux hommes des troupes permanentes de la Colombie-Anglaise et du Manitoba, pour aller visiter leur famille dans les provinces situées à l'est du Manitoba.

969. Il est permis aux sous-officiers brevetés de porter des vêtements bourgeois, dans les mêmes conditions que les officiers. La permission de s'habiller en civil peut être accordée aux sous-officiers et aux hommes de bonne conduite, quand ils vont en permission ou en congé, pourvu qu'ils portent l'uniforme dans le trajet, aller et retour, de leur garnison. Cette autorisation est inscrite sur le titre de congé ou de permission, avec les initiales de l'officier, qui l'accorde. On ne tolère pas d'habits civils dans les casernes.

Courtes permissions (Passes).

970. On peut, d'après les règles ci-dessous, accorder des permissions aux hommes de bonne conduite, pour leur permettre de visiter des amis ou de rester dehors après les heures réglementaires.

On ne doit pas accorder de ces permissions pour plus de six jours; au delà de cette période un congé est nécessaire.

Les permissions permanentes sont signées par le commandant du corps. Toutes les autres courtes permissions sont accordées et signées par les commandants de compagnies, etc.

Libération.

971. Une recrue peut acheter sa libération n'importe quand après trois mois de service, sur paiement de $30, pourvu que son corps ne soit pas en service actif, ou prévenu qu'il le sera sous peu.

972. La libération par rachat n'est autorisée que par les autorités à Ottawa, pour des raisons spéciales, excepté dans les cas de libération ordinaire à la fin de l'engagement.

973. Quand un sous-officier ou un homme désire être libéré, d'après les prescriptions ci-dessus, avant la fin de son engagement, sa demande doit être accompagnée d'un certificat du commandant de son corps, spécifiant qu'il a déposé entre les mains de ce chef une somme représentant $2 par mois pour le temps qu'il lui reste à faire. Cette somme doit être placée au crédit du Receveur général.

974. Le commandant adresse tous les mois aux autorités à Ottawa un état séparé, modèle B 7, indiquant le numéro matricule, le grade et le nom des hommes qui ont été ainsi libérés pendant le mois, avec la date de leur libération, le temps qu'il leur restait à faire, et les sommes perçues de ce chef. Les crédits sur les états de solde du corps doivent balancer les recettes totales du mois, provenant de ces libérations.

975. Les hommes libérés à la fin de leur engagement ou de leur rengagement peuvent recevoir les frais de transport de retour à l'endroit où ils se sont engagés, tel qu'indiqué sur leur serment d'allégeance, ou bien encore à leur résidence ailleurs, si les frais n'en sont pas plus élevés. Ces dispositions s'appliquent aussi aux hommes libérés à la suite de faiblesse physique contractée pendant leur service, sans qu'il y ait de leur faute.

976. Quand un soldat est inscrit sur les contrôles des hommes mariés, on peut accorder à sa famille les frais de transport de retour à l'endroit où il s'est engagé ou marié, ou ailleurs, si les frais n'en sont pas plus élevés. Et cela dans le cas de son décès, de sa libération, de son emprisonnement pour une période de six mois et plus, ou bien, si sa femme se meurt ou devient aliénée.

977. Quand on accorde les frais de transport, tel qu'indiqué aux articles 975 et 976, ces frais doivent rencontrer toutes les dépenses définitives du déplacement.

978. Les hommes libérés par rachat ou engagés à l'endroit où leur corps est en garnison, n'ont droit à aucun frais de transport.

Mentions inscrites sur les certificats de libération.

979. En mentionnant la conduite et le caractère d'un homme sur son certificat de libération, les expressions suivantes sont exclusivement employées, les termes "dernièrement" et "autrefois" étant employés pour indiquer la période de son service:—

Conduite—

- (1) Exemplaire.
- (2) Très bonne.
- (3) Bonne.
- (4) Bonne "dernièrement".
- (5) Passable.
- (6) Bonne "autrefois".
- (7) Mauvaise "dernièrement".
- (8) Médiocre.
- (9) Mauvaise.
- (10) Très mauvaise.

980. Un certificat de conduite "exemplaire" n'est accordé qu'au soldat qui n'a aucune inscription au registre des punitions, après ses deux premières années de service. Un avertissement n'est pas inscrit au registre, excepté pour ivresse. Même si l'homme remplit toutes les conditions ci-dessus, le commandant ne lui accorde un certificat de conduit "exemplaire" que s'il le juge à propos.

981. Quand une recrue est libérée avant d'avoir accompli un mois de service, et reçoit un certificat de bonne conduite, les mots "pendant ses.....jours de service" doivent être ajoutés après le mot "bonne" dans le "procès-verbal de libération" et sur le "certificat de bonne conduite".

982. Dans les cas particuliers, où sont employées les mentions "médiocre" et "mauvaise", les raisons qui ont motivé ces expressions doivent être données succinctement dans le "procès-verbal de libération", le caractère de l'homme comme soldat étant, autant que possible, séparé de son caractère comme homme. Par exemple: (a) conduite, "médiocre"; s'est rendu coupable d'absences fréquentes, mais il est vif, prêt à tout faire et travailleur vigoureux; (b) conduite "médiocre"; a un penchant à boire, mais c'est un soldat très respectueux envers ses supérieurs; (c) conduite "mauvaise"; s'est rendu coupable de désertion, mais il s'est montré brave sur le champ de bataille. Toute combinaison de faits réels, ainsi favorables au soldat, doit aussi être inscrite sur son certificat de caractère.

983. Toute mention susceptible d'aider un homme à se procurer un emploi dans la vie civile doit aussi être faite au "procès-verbal de libération" et sur son "certificat de caractère (excepté quand un homme est libéré avec les notes "mauvaise" et "très mauvaise" conduite) immédiatement au-dessous de ses notes, comme suit:—

"Passable, bon, très bon (indiquer son métier ou sa profession)."

"Tout à fait digne de confiance."

"Rangé et sobre, etc."

"Sa femme (donner ici le nom et le surnom en toute lettre) est passable, bonne, très bonne (comme blanchisseuse, couturière, etc.)"; mais aucune mention ne doit être mise sur le "certificat de caractère", si aucune de ces qualités ne peut être attribuée aux intéressés.

Solde.

984. Il doit être bien compris que les officiers des troupes et des états-majors permanents qui remplissent temporairement des fonctions donnant droit à une solde supérieure à la leur, ne doivent toucher que la solde de leur emploi permanent et, en sus, la différence seulement de cette solde et de celle de leurs fonctions temporaires.

985. La solde des différents corps est fixée comme suit:—

* Les sergents instructeurs et les sergents d'exercices, après 3 ans de grade sont promus au grade de sergent quartier-maitre instructeur avec la solde ci-dessus.

Le plus ancien sergent instructeur, ou celui désigné au choix dans les corps suivants :—

- Les Dragons royaux canadiens.
- Les carabiniers montés royaux canadiens (à Winnipeg).
- L'artillerie de campagne royale canadienne.
- L'artillerie de forteresse royale canadienne.
- Le corps du génie royal canadien.
- Le régiment royal canadien.

après au moins six ans de grade sont promus sergent-major instructeur, sous-officiers breveté, avec solde de $2.00 par jour.

986. Les officiers détachés pour le service dans les troupes permanentes, reçoivent la solde du grade temporaire qu'ils possèdent dans ces groupes, sans tenir compte de leur grade dans la milice. La durée de service dans la milice ne leur compte pas pour avoir droit à l'augmentation de solde attribuée aux grades correspondants dans les forces permanentes, après une certaine période de service tel qu'arrêtée à l'article 985.

987. Les officiers détachés pour instruction dans les troupes permanentes, reçoivent la solde de leur grade dans la milice, s'ils sont détachés dans un camp d'exercices, et cela pendant la durée de leur présence dans ce camp.

Augmentation de solde, solde de commandement et des officiers inspecteurs.

988. Tous les officiers inscrits aux contrôles des effectifs réglementaires des corps, ont droit à la solde spécifiée à l'article 985.

989. Les officiers qui remplissent les fonctions d'adjudant, ont droit à 50 cents par jour de solde supplémentaire.

990. Quand un élève du Collège militaire royal du Canada est nommé officier dans les troupes permanentes, il a droit de compter ses services comme cadet au R.M.C. à dater de l'époque où il a atteint ses 18 ans.

991. Pendant toute la carrière de l'officier, les calculs de temps, basés des degrés d'aptitude requis avant sa nomination, dans le but d'obtenir une augmentation de solde dans le grade de subalterne, après que l'officier a rejoint son corps, ne sont faits qu'une seule fois.

992. Quand les lieutenants-colonels réels des troupes permanentes sont appelés par ordres généraux à remplir les fonctions de commandant de district, ils ont droit à une solde supplémentaire de $1 par jour.

993. Un inspecteur de cavalerie, deux d'artillerie et deux d'infanterie reçoivent la solde d'inspecteur, ceux de cavalerie et d'artillerie, 75 cents par jour, et ceux d'infanterie, 50 cents par jour. Mais, quand un inspecteur d'artillerie est, en outre, commandant d'une école militaire, il reçoit $1.25 par jour, pour les deux services combinés.

994. Les commandants des écoles militaires reçoivent une solde de commandant de 75 cents par jour.

995. Un officier qui touche la solde de commandement, n'y perd pas ses droits pendant ses absences du service dans les conditions suivantes:—

(1) En permission ne dépassant pas un mois.

(2) En service, excepté dans le cas où il est appelé à exercer ailleurs un commandement supérieur, mieux rétribué.

(3) Pour maladie, s'il est présent dans son district ou à son corps.

996. Quand un commandant d'école s'absente pour toute autre cause que celles spécifiées plus haut, il perd ses droits à la solde de commandement du jour de son départ jusqu'à la date de son retour. Cette solde est accordée, pendant l'absence du commandant, à l'officier présent le plus ancien en grade.

997. On doit indiquer, sur les états de solde mensuels, vis-à-vis de leurs noms, les dates de la période pour laquelle ces officiers ont droit à la solde de commandement.

Solde spéciale et de travail des sous-officiers et des hommes.

998. Les sous-officiers et les hommes qui remplissent les fonctions de sergents-payeurs, de sergents, de prévôts, de commis à la salle du rapport, de sergents-trompettes ou tambours, reçoivent 10 cents par jour de solde supplémentaire. Les ouvriers charrons en roues, les ouvriers en colliers, les charpentiers et les forgerons ont droit à 20 cents par journée de sept heures, et les maréchaux-ferrants, 10 cents pour chaque jour qu'ils travaillent.

999. Dragons royaux canadiens:—

Un instructeur d'équitation, 10 cents par jour.

Un instructeur écuyer dompteur, 10 cents par jour.

Un instructeur trompette, 10 cents par jour.

Carabiniers montés royaux canadiens:—

Deux écuyers dompteurs, 10 cents par jour.

Corps de l'intendance et du train des équipages:—

Boulangers, 50 cents par jour.

Bouchers, 20 cents par jour.

1000. Un pionnier, préposé aux soins des buanderies et des latrines, et un peintre ou un plombier, chargé des réparations nécessaires en peinture et en plomberie, reçoivent, dans chaque garnison permanente, la solde de travail de 20 cents par jour pour chaque jour qu'ils travaillent.

1001. Le commandant de la station fixe le nombre d'heures que doivent durer chaque jour les travaux de réparations, et l'officier faisant les fonctions de quartier-maître certifie le nombre de journées de travail exécutées pendant le mois et pour lequel on doit payer une solde supplémentaire.

1002. Les artificiers de l'Artillerie royale canadienne reçoivent la solde de travail, comme suit:—

	Cents par jour.
Cannonier artificier.. . . .	25
Bombardier artificier.. . . .	25
Caporal artificier.. . . .	25
Sergent artificier.. . . .	25
Sergent d'état-major artificier.. . . .	25

Solde de bonne conduite.

1003. Les sous-bombardiers, les sous-caporaux et les hommes au-dessous de ces grades ont droit à une solde de bonne conduite au taux de deux cents par jour pour la première année, trois cents pour la deuxième, et quatre cents pour la troisième année de service, à être payée au moment de leur libération. S'ils rengagent pour trois ans, ils ont droit à cinq cents pour la première année, six cents pour la deuxième année, et sept cents pour la troisième année de leur rengagement, payable comme ci-dessus.

Sept cents par jour est le maximum de solde de bonne conduite à accorder à ceux qui contractent d'autres rengagements.

1004. Cependant, cette solde de bonne conduite n'est accordée qu'à ceux qui ont fait un service sans interruption à leur corps depuis leur engagement.

1005. Un soldat perd ses droits à trois mois de solde de bonne conduite chaque fois que son nom est inscrit pour une faute au registre des punitions.

1006. A l'avenir, la solde de bonne conduite peut être accordée, sujette aux prescriptions ci-dessus, pour des périodes de service interrompu, accomplies avant la fin d'un engagement ou d'un rengagement, à des hommes qui ont été libérés par rachat ou comme impropres au service.

1007. Les hommes libérés à la fin de leur engagement, par rachat ou autrement, et qui rengagent ensuite dans d'autres sections des troupes permanentes, ont droit de compter leurs services antérieures pour l'obtention de la solde de bonne conduite, dans les conditions suivantes:—

(1) Il doit déclarer qu'il a servi antérieurement; (2) qu'à l'époque de sa libération, il était en possession de deux insignes de bonne conduite; (3) et qu'il se rengage dans l'année qui suit sa libération de son ancien corps.

Etats de solde.

1008. Un état nominatif et détaillé de tous les sous-officiers et des hommes qui ont des retenues de solde portées contre eux par l'Etat, est établi mensuellement et certifié par le commandant de l'escadron, de la batterie ou de la compagnie et joint comme pièce à l'appui de l'état de solde.

1010. Le commandant ne doit certifier aucun état de solde contenant une augmentation, une solde supplémentaire ou une indemnité, sans citer, dans la colonne des remarques, le numéro et la date du document officiel qui autorise ces variations de solde. Si les ordres et les règlements de la Milice ne contiennent pas l'autorisation nécessaire, une permission spéciale de le faire doit être obtenue des autorités à Ottawa, avant que le commandant donne son certificat. Il est strictement défendu aux officiers-payeurs de distribuer des augmentations de solde ou des indemnités sans avoir à l'appui les documents officiels qui les autorisent.

SOLDE ET DOCUMENTS DES HOMMES EN ABSENCE ILLEGALE.

INDEMNITES.

Indemnités de logement.

1012. Les indemnités suivantes, sujettes à la discrétion des autorités à Ottawa, dans chaque cas, sont accordées aux officiers qui ont droit au logement (quand il n'y a pas de logements disponibles) pour leur permettre de se procurer des résidences, mais elles ne sont pas accordées aux officiers qui reçoivent déjà une solde complexe comprenant la location de logements:—

Lieutenant-colonel de régiment, $1.25 par jour.

Major de régiment, 93½ cents par jour.

Capitaine de régiment, 75 cents par jour.

Lieutenant de régiment, 62½ cents par jour.

1014. Les demandes d'indemnité de logement doivent être appuyées d'un certificat spécifiant que l'officier intéressé s'est procuré un logement, parce qu'il ne pouvait en avoir dans aucun bâtiment appartenant à l'Etat ou loué par celui-ci.

1015. La dépense de l'approvisionnement initial d'éclairage au moyen de lampes à pétrole ayant été supportée par l'Etat, toutes les dépenses subséquentes sont à la charge du corps intéressé.

1016. Quand on emploie le gaz dans le mess ou les chambres des officiers, aux frais des officiers, le montant annuel de pétrole réglementairement accordé dans ce but peut leur être remboursé au comptant, sur certificat du commandant.

1017. Tous les sous-officiers brevetés, les sous-officiers et les hommes qui sont inscrits sur les contrôles des hommes mariés de leur corps, mais à qui l'Etat ne peut fournir de logement, on droit à l'indemnité suivante:—

Sous-officiers brevetés, 40 cents par jour.

Sergents d'état-major et sergents, 30 cents par jour.

Soldats, 25 cents par jour.

Indemnité accordée à ceux qui présentent des recrues.

1018. Il est accordé une indemnité de $1 pour chaque recrue finalement acceptée comme propre au service. Cette indemnité est payée aux sous-officiers et aux hommes des troupes permanentes qui présentent des recrues. Un reçu en double, à l'appui de cette dépense, est adressé aux autorités à Ottawa par le commandant du corps.

Indemnités pour les camps d'exercices annuels.

Instructeurs de première classe, 50 cents par jour.

Instructeurs de deuxième classe, 40 cents par jour.

Instructeurs de troisième classe, 30 cents par jour.

Instructeurs de quatrième classe, 20 cents par jour.

Instructeurs de cinquième classe, 10 cents par jour.

Dons du gouvernement.

1020. Une indemnité annuelle de $200 est accordée aux mess des officiers; $20 à la bibliothèque et à la salle de lecture des hommes; et aussi une certaine somme, fixée de temps à autre, est accordée pour les réparations au matériel d'artillerie, au forgeron maréchal-ferrant, etc., etc.

1021. Les corps permanents à qui l'Etat a fourni des instruments de musique gratuits, n'ont pas droit à l'indemnité de musique.

Indemnité pour entretenir l'équipement d'hiver et pour l'ajustage de l'uniforme.

1022. Une indemnité de trois dollars par année est accordée aux sous-officiers et aux hommes, au commencement de leur deuxième année de service et pour chaque année qui suit, pour entretenir leur tenue d'hiver, qui comprend:—des bottes d'hiver, un foulard, une coiffure d'hiver et des mouffles.

1023. Une indemnité de $1.50 pour ajustage d'habillement est accordée chaque année aux sous-officiers et aux hommes, excepté aux sergents et aux sergents d'état-major, qui reçoivent des indemnités en deniers en remplacement d'uniforme.

Indemnité de voyage pour rejoindre le corps ou pour mutation.

1024. Les officiers qui sont nommés à un emploi dans un corps permanent, reçoivent des frais de transport et de vivres pour le trajet de leurs foyers, au Canada, à leur nouveau corps, pourvu que la distance dépasse 200 milles, ou de l'endroit où ils se trouvent à l'époque de leur nomination, si le coût n'en est pas plus élevé. Le voyage commencé ne doit pas être interrompu sans raison valable. Aucune indemnité n'est accordée pour une distance de moins de 200 milles.

1025. L'officier marié a droit au transport et aux vivres pour sa femme et ses enfants, pourvu qu'ils voyagent avec lui et que la distance parcourue dépasse 200 milles.

1026. Les officiers n'ont droit au transport gratuit de leur bagage ou de leur ameublement que pour la quantité ou le poids que la compagnie accorde gratuitement à chaque passager. Les domestiques n'ont droit ni au transport, ni aux vivres.

1027. Les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes qui sont l'objet de mutations d'une garnison, ou d'un corps à un autre, ont droit au transport et aux vivres, et, s'ils sont mariés et inscrits aux contrôles des militaires mariés, leurs femmes et leurs enfants y ont droit également.

Note.—Ces poids sont exclusifs de l'équipement personnel du soldat (y compris sa capote, ses couvertures, son sac, etc.), qui est transporté gratuitement avec lui.

Matériel du quartier-maître, son poids réel.

Matériel d'hôpital, son poids réel.

Coffres d'armes (y compris les sacs d'escouades, d'équipement et les coffres de matériel régimentaire et de papeterie), un poids de 1,500 livres est accordé à une batterie ou à une compagnie de 60 hommes.

Ajouter 336 livres pour chaque fraction de 10 hommes au-dessus de 60.

Le mess des officiers a droit à 1,000 livres, et celui des sous-officiers, à 336 livres.

1030. Les officiers des troupes permanentes qui sont temporairement détachés dans des écoles d'une arme autre que la leur, n'ont pas droit d'amener leur domestique avec eux.

1031. Quand un sous-officier breveté ou un sergent instructeur des troupes permanentes est spécialement désigné pour un service quelconque dans un autre endroit, il a droit au transport de première classe, et, si le voyage se fait le nuit, il a aussi droit à un lit dans une voiture-dortoir.

1032. Une indemnité de 25 cents par jour et pour chacun est accordée pour quelques instructeurs supplémentaires, quand ils sont absolument nécessaires, dans les cours encombrés des écoles royales.

1033. Comme on ne distribue pas de rations aux instructeurs détachés de leur corps pour faire le service dans les écoles, ils ont droit à une indemnité de vivres de $1 par jour, et cette indemnité est portée sur les états de solde de leur corps. Quand ils sont détachés pour le service dans un corps de la milice active qui reçoit une indemnité pour l'instruction de l'exercice, ce corps doit assurer leur subsistance.

Indemnités de rations.

Rations.

1035. L'officier, le sous-officier et le soldat reçoivent gratuitement la ration journalière suivante :—

- 1 livre de pain.
- 1 livre de viande.
- 3 onces de bacon.
- 1 livre de pommes de terre.
- 2 onces de farine ou de haricots.
- 3 onces de confitures ou 3 onces de pommes sèches.
- 2 onces de beurre ou 2 onces de fromage.
- 1 once de pois concassés.

- $\frac{1}{2}$ once de sel.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ once de café.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ once de thé.
- 1-36 once de poivre.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ once de légumes comprimés.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ once d'oignons.

y compris le logement en caserne et les quantités ordinaires de chauffage et d'éclairage.

1036. Quand les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes, inscrits aux contrôles des militaires mariés des forces permanentes, sont détachés pour le service, leur famille garde leur logement et touche leurs rations, leur chauffage et éclairage, pendant l'absence du chef de famille.

Chauffage et éclairage dans les casernes, distribution et taux des rations des forces permanentes.

1037. Personne, individuellement ou en corps, ne doit faire de bénéfices sur l'achat ou la vente des articles d'éclairage et de chauffage.

1038. Les rations non perçues, et celles perçues qui n'ont pas été employées, appartiennent à l'État; par conséquent, rien ne peut être vendu que par ordre du ministère de la Milice et de la Défense, et les sommes ainsi obtenues doivent être versées chez le Receveur général.

1039. Aucun reçu de chauffage et d'éclairage ne peut être signé en faveur du fournisseur, que si ces articles sont dûment acceptés et emmagasinés.

1042. A la fin du mois, des états mensuels, indiquant la quantité distribuée d'éclairage et chauffage, sont établis sur modèle B 23, et aussi un état des reçus et des distributions, sur modèle 6 de la section de comptabilité, et ils sont ensuite adressés au ministère par le commandant du corps.

COMMIS MILITAIRES D'ETAT-MAJOR.

1045. Il est permis d'employer des sous-officiers des troupes permanentes comme commis d'état-major aux quartiers-généraux, à Ottawa, ou dans les districts.

1046. Quand un sous-officier est choisi pour remplir ces fonctions, il fait d'abord un stage d'épreuve de trois mois, avec la solde de son grade pendant cette période. S'il est détaché de sa garnison, il touche, en outre, une indemnité de $1 par jour, en remplacement de logement, de rations, de chauffage et d'éclairage.

1047. A la fin de son stage, il est nommé sergent commis d'état-major, si son travail a été trouvé convenable. Il touche, comme tel, $1.10 par jour, quand il fait son service dans sa garnison et qu'il habite les casernes. Dans le cas contraire, il reçoit la solde consolidée de $2.10 par jour, en remplacement de toute autre solde ou indemnité, pour faire face à toutes ses dépenses.

1048. Après trois ans de service comme sergent commis d'état-major, il est promu au grade de sergent de couleurs commis d'état-major, s'il est proposé par son chef, avec avis favorable, et il reçoit de ce chef $1.35 par jour, quand il fait son service dans sa garnison et qu'il habite les casernes. Dans le cas contraire, il touche la solde consolidée de $2.35 par jour, en remplacement de toute autre solde ou indemnité, pour faire face à toutes ses dépenses.

1049. Après trois ans de service comme sergent de couleurs commis d'état-major, il est promu au grade de sergent quartier-maître commis d'état-major, s'il est proposé par son chef, avec avis favorable, et il reçoit de ce chef $1.60 par jour, quand il fait son service dans sa garnison et qu'il habite les casernes. Dans le cas contraire, il touche la solde consolidée de $2.60 par jour, en remplacement de toute autre solde ou indemnité, pour faire face à toutes ses dépenses.

1050. On choisit parmi le corps entier des commis d'état-major un sergent-major commis d'état-major, qui reçoit la solde de $3 par jour, en remplacement de toute autre solde ou indemnité.

1051. Les commis d'état-major qui passent un examen en sténographie comme celui subi par les employés du service civil, sont susceptibles de recevoir une augmentation de solde de 10 cents par jour.

1052. Un commis d'état-major qui fait le service dans sa garnison, peut, avec l'autorisation du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, recevoir la solde consolidée de son grade, en remplacement de logement, de rations, de chauffage et d'éclairage.

1053. Les commis d'état-major sont susceptibles d'être déplacés d'une garnison à une autre, selon les besoins du service.

1054. Les sous-officiers employés comme commis d'état-major, sont inscrits comme surnuméraires de leur grade sur les contrôles de leur corps, et ils sont promus à leur tour, quand une vacance se présente, mais ils restent toujours surnuméraires à leur corps. Quand ils sont renvoyés à leur corps, pour des raisons n'entraînant pas leur cassation, ils reprennent leur grade et sont maintenus comme surnuméraires, jusqu'à ce qu'une vacance se présente. Un sergent-major commis d'état-major, étant sous-officier breveté, n'est pas soumis aux prescriptions du présent article.

1056. Les commis d'état-major de district peuvent, cependant, être placés sous le contrôle immédiat du commandant du district ou de l'officier d'état-major, sous les ordres duquel ils servent.

AMENDES, ETC.

1057. Les commandants d'escadron, de batterie ou de compagnie tiennent compte de toutes les amendes pour ivresse; ils en transmettent le montant total au président du comité de la bibliothèque de leur corps, qui se sert de ces sommes pour améliorer la bibliothèque des sous-officiers et des hommes.

Taux des amendes.

1058. En calculant le montant des amendes pour ivresse, on suit les règles suivantes:—

1. Aucune amende à infliger pour la première et la seconde offense d'un homme pendant son temps de service.

2. Pour la troisième offense et chacune des suivantes:—

(a) Si la faute a été commise dans les trois mois qui suivent l'offense précédente, $1.83.

(b) Après trois mois et pas plus de six mois, $1.22.

(c) Après six mois et pas plus de neuf mois, 60 cents.

(d) Après neuf mois: pas d'amende.

3. Quand un soldat est susceptible de payer une amende et qu'il y a contre lui quatre causes d'ivresse dans l'année qui vient de s'écouler, la somme de 60 cents est ajoutée aux amendes spécifiées dans la règle 2 ci-dessus.

4. Une absence illégale, marquée "D", est comprise comme un faute d'ivresse, à compter à la suite de futures offenses de même espèce, si le coupable a déjà deux causes d'ivresse contre lui durant son service, mais on ne peut punir l'homme d'une amende pour une absence illégale.

6. Quand un soldat est absent de son service pour cause d'emprisonnement, ou sans permission, ces périodes d'absence ne doivent pas être comptées dans le calcul de temps depuis la dernière faute pour l'établissement du montant d'une amende à lui être infligée.

Note.—La condamnation à une amende de moins de $1.22 n'entraîne pas avec elle une inscription au registre des punitions.

TERME DES ETATS DE SERVICE DES HOMMES.

1059. Tous les emprisonnements, les promotions, les cassations et les pertes par cour martiale doivent être enregistrés régulièrement sur modèle de la Milice B 4, afin de tenir un historique complet des états de services de chaque homme.

1060. On détache la feuille de sa souche, quand le soldat est libéré ou change de corps. Dans le premier cas, elle est transmise à l'adjudant général, et, dans l'autre, elle est adressée au commandant du nouveau corps où l'homme est transféré. Dans les deux cas, elle est accompagnée des documents suivants:—

Serment d'allégeance.

Feuille du registre régimentaire des punitions.

Feuille du registre des punitions de l'escadron, de la batterie ou de la compagnie.

Feuille de cour martiale et copies certifiées des condamnations par les cours civiles, s'il y a lieu.

Feuille de l'historique de santé de l'homme.

Certificat du dernier paiement de la solde.

COMPTES DES DESERTEURS.

1063. Quand un sous-officier ou un homme est rayé des contrôles du corps comme déserteur, son compte est arrêté à la date de sa désertion; son habillement est versé en magasin comme effets déjà portés (effets n° 2), et ses autres effets vendus aux enchères. Le montant de cette vente est placé à son crédit et sur l'état de solde mensuel, on montre s'il est en débit ou en crédit avec l'Etat.

1064. S'il y a un débit dû à un trop perçu de solde, ce montant, ainsi trop perçu, doit être remboursé par le commandant du corps en étant inscrit au débit de l'état de solde mensuel.

1065. Quand un déserteur rejoint son corps, on lui retient sa solde pour payer les effets perdus à la suite de sa désertion, mais on lui distribue des effets d'habillement n° 2 pendant sa détention, ainsi que tous les articles indispensables. S'il n'est pas chassé du service, il reçoit les effets réglementaires d'habillement gratuits, et, quand il rejoint son corps, on complète tout son équipement et son habillement. Ces effets sont à la charge de l'homme et le quartier-maître les lui distribue sur un ordre écrit du commandant du corps. Celui-ci, à la fin de chaque mois, remet au quartier-maître, contre reçu, un état des sommes qui ont été retenues à cet homme. Le quartier-maître porte ces sommes au crédit de l'homme et continue à le faire jusqu'à ce qu'il ait payé tous les effets d'équipement et d'habillement qui lui ont été distribués.

1066. Quand un déserteur rejoint son corps, on lui rembourse, s'il y a lieu, les sommes retenues sur sa solde par l'Etat à l'époque de sa désertion.

ARRESTATION ET ESCORTE DES DESERTEURS.

1067. Les commandants de districts et des écoles royales militaires sont autorisés à accorder des frais de transport aux sous-officiers et aux hommes qui arrêtent et escortent des déserteurs. Chaque fois que pareille chose arrive, il en est rendu compte à l'adjudant général, immédiatement après l'accomplissement de ce service.

1068. Quand un pensionnaire du gouvernement impérial déserte pendant qu'il appartient à un corps permanent de la milice, il est susceptible de perdre sa pension. Une telle désertion est considérée comme un cas de mauvaise conduite grave dans les règlements impériaux de la solde, et la question sera ainsi étudiée en détails, à Ottawa, et le dossier transmis ensuite aux autorités, en Angleterre.

1069. Une récompense de dix dollars est accordée à ceux qui arrêtent un sous-officier ou un homme des troupes permanentes, ou un sous-officier attaché à ces troupes, qui aura été déclaré déserteur par une cour d'enquête, ou qui, étant arrêté en absence illégale, est plus tard condamné par cour martiale comme déserteur ou comme ayant été coupable de tentative de désertion.

VENTE DES EFFETS DES HOMMES RAYES DES CONTROLES.

DEFENSE FORMELLE AUX SOUS-OFFICIERS DES TROUPES PERMANENTES DE TRAFIQUER AVEC LES HOMMES.

1071. Ces pratiques sont la source d'irrégularités et d'abus sérieux. Il est donc strictement défendu aux sous-officiers de trafiquer en quoi que ce soit.

1072. Les commandants de corps doivent donc examiner avec le plus grand soin les détails des sommes portées contre la solde des hommes, et voir à ce que ces sommes soient limitées à celles autorisées par les règlements ou par le ministre de la Milice et de la Défense.

1073. Un état mensuel, daté du dernier jour du mois et indiquant la moyenne des sommes retenues aux hommes est adressé au comptable, à Ottawa. Cet état montre les retenues suivantes:—

- (1) Retenues régimentaires.
- (2) Retenues par le trésor public.

HOPITAUX MILITAIRES ET CIVILS.

1074. Tableau des personnes ayant droit à la diète des hôpitaux, et des retenues qui leur sont faites:—

Personnes ayant droit à l'admission.	Dans quelles circonstances.	Taux journalier des retenues.
(a) Tout le monde dans les troupes permanen.	Blessures reçues au feu ou maladie contractée dans le service avec une armée en campagne.	Aucune.
(b) Officiers.....	Sur l'avis d'une commission de santé et du médecin des troupes permanentes.	$1.00.
(c) Sous-officiers et hommes à l'effectif des troupes permanentes.	Pour autres causes que celles indiquées en (a) et (d).	* 15 cents.
(d) Sous-officiers et hommes à l'effectif des troupes permanentes.	Pour alcoolisme.	Solde entière.
(e) Officiers, sous-officiers et hommes à l'effectif des troupes permanentes. Tel qu'indiqué en (a) (b) (c) et (d).

* NOTE :—Y compris 2 cents pour le blanchissage.

RATIONS D'HOPITAL, DIETE, ETC.

1075. La diète d'hôpital, telle que prescrite par le médecin, est préparée dans les cuisines de l'hôpital et distribuée au prix indiqué sur la feuille de diète, arrêtée à la suite d'une entente intervenue entre les autorités de l'hôpital et le commandant.

1076. L'approvisionnement de médicaments nécessaire à l'hôpital est touché par le médecin chez les fournisseurs attitrés, sur demande approuvée, et cela d'avance pour une période ne dépassant pas six mois.

1077. On se procure les extras portés sur la feuille de diète, à la cantine régimentaire ou chez le fournisseur local, et le paiement en est fait tous les mois sur compte certifié par le médecin et le commandant.

1078. Les médicaments et les soins du médecin sont gratuits pour les femmes et les familles de tous les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes qui sont autorisés à occuper des logements de l'Etat—excepté les soins d'une sage-femme.

INSTRUCTIONS GENERALES, SUBSISTANCE DES DETENUS.

1079. Quand un homme est puni de prison par son commandant ou par une sentence de cour martiale, on lui supprime ses rations du jour inclus de sa condamnation, et il n'y a droit de nouveau que le jour même de sa libération de prison.

1080. Tous les hommes condamnés par une cour martiale à une peine de plus de quarante-deux jours, sont envoyés à la prison la plus rapprochée de leur garnison.

1081. Les peines de quarante-deux jours ou moindres sont subies dans les cellules du corps.

1082. Les vivres des détenus sont achetés à la cantine régimentaire par le sergent faisant fonctions de prévôt, qui en tient un compte exact sur un registre à cet effet, lequel registre est balancé toutes les semaines et certifié par l'adjudant. La valeur de ces vivres est payée au prévôt, et le montant total des dépenses de chaque prisonnier est porté sur l'état de solde mensuel du corps, avec deux cents en plus par jour pour le blanchissage.

1083. Quand des hommes de la milice active sont détenus dans une prison locale pour une offense civile, on accorde 25 cents par jour, par prisonnier, en remplacement de solde et de rations.

REPARTITION DU CASERNEMENT DANS LES TROUPES PERMANENTES.

1084. Afin de faciliter la répartition du casernement entre les officiers d'un corps organisé pour fin d'instruction, aussi bien que pour ceux qui sont détachés pour suivre des cours, il est prescrit de peindre sur les bois au-dessus des portes des chambres du casernement les initiales des grades ou de l'usage auxquels ces pièces sont destinées, tel que suit :—C.O.Q., initiales voulant dire : logement du commandant; maj. Q., cap. Q., logement de major ou de capitaine; O.Q., logement des officiers; K., cuisine; H., hôpital, etc. Les initiales sont données ici en anglais, parce qu'elles sont toujours inscrites en cette langue dans les casernes.

1085. Tous les officiers doivent demeurer aux casernes quand il y a de la place, et la permission de résider en ville n'est accordée qu'en des circonstances exceptionnelles. Les demandes de permission de ce genre sont accordées par les autorités d'Ottawa par l'entremise du commandant.

1088. Ces logements sont inspectés de la même manière, quand on les quitte, et tous les dommages constatés, à part l'usage ordinaire, sont évalués et portés au compte de l'officier qui les occupait.

1089. Des états régimentaires de tour de rôle des aspirants à des logements dans les casernes sont tenus aux bureaux de l'adjudant général. Les logements sont alloués dans l'ordre des noms portés sur ces états.

1090. Le nombre d'hommes à loger dans une chambre dépend de la grandeur de cette chambre. 600 pieds cubes d'air doivent être calculés pour chaque homme, et 400 pieds dans des baraques en bois, si elles sont bien aérées.

1091. Les sous-officiers détachés pour suivre un cours, doivent recevoir le même genre de logement que les sous-officiers des troupes permanentes, partout où cela est possible.

AMEUBLEMENT ET LITERIE—TROUPES PERMANENTES.

Officiers et sous-officiers détachés pour suivre un cours.

1092. Il y a, dans chaque école, la literie et l'ameublement suffisants pour être fournis aux officiers et sousofficiers qui y viennent suivre un cours, et ces articles ne sont mis en leur possession que pendant la durée de leur cours.

1093. Un officier appartenant à l'effectif d'un corps permanent, où il y a une école militaire, n'a pas droit à une distribution supplémentaire d'ameublement, de lits, de literie, etc., appartenant à l'Etat, ni pour son usage personnel, ni pour sa famille; et il en est de même pour les familles des sous-officiers ou des hommes.

Literie.

1094. Les sous-officiers et les hommes de troupes permanentes, ou les sous-officiers, qui y sont détachés pour suivre un cours, ont droit dans les casernes à une literie complète, comprenant un matelas et un traversin, deux draps, deux couvertures et un couvre-pieds, ou trois couvertures, quand cela est nécessaire.

1095. Ces effets sont distribués aux différents corps par les magasins militaires. Le quartier-maître en prend charge, sous les ordres du commandant, veille à leur entretien et les distribue à la troupe, selon les besoins du service.

BLANCHISSAGE.

1096. On doit changer les draps tous les mois, les matelas et les traversins tous les quatre-vingt-dix jours, les couvre-pieds et les couvertures tous les six mois, sur demande du commandant, sur modèle C 35. Le blanchissage est aux frais de l'Etat.

1097. On verse au magasin les articles échangés contre d'autres de la même espèce. Le blanchissage se fait sous la direction du commandant par des entrepreneurs, dont la soumission a été approuvée par les autorités à Ottawa.

1099. Quand les matelas et les traversins sont échangés, le commandant donne l'ordre de distribuer vingt-quatre livres de paille fraîche pour chaque lit.

1100. S'il se présente un cas de maladie contagieuse, on remplace la literie affectée, après qu'elle a été fumigée. La demande de fumigation, sur modèle C 35, est faite au commandant par le médecin, qui spécifie la nature de la maladie.

REGISTRES, PAPETERIE, TIMBRES.

1101. En sus des registres énumérés dans les règlements du Roi, à être tenus dans les dépôts de régiments ou dans les unités des troupes permanentes de la milice active, et en sus des manuels d'instruction donnés gratuitement aux sous-officiers de ces troupes, le médecin de l'hôpital de la garnison doit tenir les registres suivants:—

- (1) Registre des visiteurs.
- (2) Registre d'entrée et de sortie des patients, modèle B.
- (3) Registre des certificats du médecin, modèle C.
- (4) Rapport journalier des malades en double, à classer.
- (5) Registre journalier de traitement, indiquant les prescriptions, la diète, etc., ordonnées à chaque patient, et un état des extras.

Le sergent-prévôt tient les registres suivants:—

- (1) Un registre des visiteurs, dans lequel sont inscrites toutes les remarques des officiers de visite;
- (2) Un registre des punitions à la prison;
- (3) Un registre des détenus, donnant l'historique détaillé de chaque prisonnier;
- (4) Un registre de mess.

HOPITAUX MILITAIRES DE GARNISON.

1102. Il y a un hôpital militaire au chef-lieu de chaque corps permanent, et, s'il est établi ailleurs à cause d'un corps qui est en service actif, il est dirigé, dans les deux cas, d'après les présents règlements.

1103. Les sous-officiers et les hommes de la milice active qui sont admis dans un hôpital de garnison, sont, sous tous les rapports, traités selon les règlements de l'institution et exactement sur un même pied d'égalité avec les sous-officiers et les hommes des troupes permanentes.

1104. L'hôpital est sous la direction d'un médecin détaché du corps de la santé de la milice active permanente, sous les ordres du commandant du corps permanent; et, dans le cas d'un régiment de la milice active, sous les ordres du commandant de ce corps.

1105. L'officier du jour visite l'hôpital tous les jours, en dehors des heures de visite du médecin, et il rend compte au commandant de toutes les irrégularités qu'il aurait pu observer.

1106. Le médecin a la direction de l'hôpital et est responsable de sa bonne tenue. Il veille à ce que l'approvisionnement de médicaments, de matériel d'hôpital, etc., soit toujours en quantité suffisante et de bonne qualité, et que les dispositions soient toujours bien prises pour assurer l'exécution des prescriptions de diète qu'il ordonne.

1107. Le médecin rend compte de temps en temps au commandant, quand il le juge à propos, des questions affectant la santé des troupes et de l'état sanitaire des casernements occupés par les hommes. Ces rapports sont immédiatement transmis au directeur général du service de santé, avec les remarques que le commandant juge à propos d'y ajouter.

1109. Les officiers n'ont droit aux soins du médecin que dans les conditions suivantes:—1° quand l'officier est dans une garnison, où il y a un médecin militaire attitré ou un médecin civil légalement autorisé à donner ses soins aux troupes; 2° quand l'officier touche sa solde entière, qu'il réside à une distance de pas plus d'un mille de l'hôpital, ou, s'il n'y a pas d'hôpital, à une distance de pas plus d'un mille d'un point indiqué par le directeur général du service de santé.

1110. Les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes, portés sur les contrôles des militaires mariés, sont libres de faire traiter leur famille par le médecin de leur corps ou de leur garnison, ou par un médecin civil. Dans ce dernier cas, c'est à leurs frais et dépens, et ils n'ont droit à aucuns médicaments, pansements, etc., provenant des magasins des hôpitaux.

1111. Quand le seul médecin militaire de la garnison est retenu chez lui par la maladie, pour une période de plus de dix jours, on peut demander aux autorités à Ottawa de le remplacer par un autre médecin, qui reçoit la solde entière, pendant le reste de la durée de la maladie du médecin titulaire.

1112. Quand un médecin civil donne ses soins aux familles d'officiers, de sous-officiers et d'hommes, atteints de maladies contagieuses, les chefs de ces familles doivent obtenir de leur médecin, sur ces cas de contagion, un rapport, qu'ils transmettent à leur commandant, afin que le médecin du corps prenne de suite ses dispositions pour protéger les troupes et les familles en caserne de la contagion de ces maladies.

1113. Il doit être bien compris qu'un médecin militaire détaché pour le service dans une garnison ou dans un corps quelconque, est sous les ordres du commandant de la garnison ou du corps auquel il est attaché.

1114. Le médecin, directeur d'un hôpital situé au chef-lieu d'un corps permanent, est assisté, dans l'administration intérieure de son hôpital, par un chef de salle, ayant le grade de sergent-major régimentaire, un sous-chef, avec le grade de sergent, et par trois infirmiers-brancardiers, détachés du corps de santé de la milice active permanente. Le chef et le sous-chef de salle sont responsables vis-à-vis du médecin de la manière que les infirmiers remplissent leurs devoirs dans les distributions, la cuisson des aliments, la préparation de la diète, les soins à donner aux malades, les exercices, etc., que les diètes prescrites sont suivies avec régularité, que l'hôpital et ses dépendances sont tenus très propres, et que tous les ordres et règlements sont strictement exécutés par tout le monde.

1115. Quand un sous-officier ou un homme entre à l'hôpital, ses armes et son équipement sont gardés à son escadron, à sa batterie ou à sa compagnie, excepté en campagne; alors, ils accompagnent l'homme. Ils sont de suite examinés, un inventaire en est fait, et ils sont placés dans le magasin de l'hôpital.

1116. Personne ne doit introduire de spiritueux, de tabac, d'aliments, de fruits ou de friandises dans un hôpital, ou donner n'importe quoi à un malade, sans la permission du médecin.

1117. Quand les sous-officiers ou les hommes sont en traitement à l'hôpital, ils ne doivent recevoir aucune solde ou avoir en leur possession ni argent ou autres valeurs.

1118. Le médecin directeur d'un hôpital rend compte immédiatement au commandant de toute infraction à la discipline, etc., commise par les patients, par les infirmiers, etc. Le commandant punit de suite les infirmiers et attend la sortie de l'hôpital des malades avant d'examiner leurs cas. Les fautes commises par les malades dans les hôpitaux sont considérées comme étant exceptionnellement graves.

1119. Quand un patient devient dangereusement malade et qu'il y a crainte d'une fin imminente, le médecin en prévient le commandant, qui avertit ses amis et sa famille, afin que le malade puisse faire son testament et demander auprès de lui un ministre de sa religion, s'il le désire.

1120. Le médecin, quand cela est possible, doit toujours être présent quand un sous-officier ou un homme malade fait son testament et signer le document en déclarant que le militaire était dans un état d'esprit assez lucide pour établir son testament.

1121. Le médecin examine tous les sous-officiers et les hommes qui se présentent à la visite des malades et envoie à l'hôpital ceux qu'il reconnaît comme étant trop souffrants pour faire le service ordinaire d'un soldat.

1122. Il est défendu au sous-officier ou à l'homme, marié ou non marié, de rester dans les casernes, en traitement comme convalescent ou autrement, à moins d'une permission spéciale du commandant, qui ne l'accorde que sur la recommandation du médecin.

1123. Un "état des malades", modèle C 93, est établi tous les jours de tous les sous-officiers ou hommes malades et contresigné par le médecin, avant d'être soumis au commandant. On apporte une grande attention aux malingres.

1124. Les médecins ne sont pas requis d'être présents aux parades, excepté aux inspections du corps, aux revues pour la mise en route, aux saluts et en d'autres circonstances où les services du médecin pourraient être nécessaires, et cela à la discrétion du commandant. Cependant, un médecin, détaché pour faire le service au chef-lieu des corps permanents d'artillerie, est requis d'être présents aux exercices de bouches à feu de leur corps et aussi de toute batterie de la milice active, faisant son tir annuel à la station, et qui n'ont pas de médecins.

CORPS DU GENIE ROYAL CANADIEN.

Avancement.

Les officiers, possédant les aptitudes exigées par les règlements, sont promus comme suit:—

Un lieutenant, au grade de capitaine, après 10 ans* de service comme lieutenant.

Un capitaine, au grade de major, après 8 ans* de service dans le grade de capitaine.

1126. Tous les officiers sont susceptibles de recevoir un avancement rapide, pour des raisons exceptionnelles.

Classes, sous-officiers et hommes,

1127. Les sous-officiers et les hommes sont divisés en trois classes: première classe, deuxième classe et troisième classe.

SOLDE DU GENIE.

1128. En sus de la solde attribuée aux troupes permanentes à l'article 985, il est accordé une solde supplémentaire au génie, au taux suivant:—

Lieutenant.	1 00
Sous-officiers et hommes de première classe.	0 50
Sous-officiers et hommes de deuxième classe	0 35
Sous-officiers et hommes de troisième classe	0 25

Logements et rations.

1129. Les officiers, les sous-officiers et les hommes touchent les rations et reçoivent des logements, ou des indemnités en remplacement de rations et de logements, dans les mêmes conditions que les autres troupes permanentes.

* Service dans le corps du génie royal canadien.

OFFICIERS DU GENIE ATTACHES.

COMMANDEMENTS D'ARTILLERIE.

1131. Les forts, les batteries, les casernes et les logements de l'Artillerie royale canadienne et des écoles royales d'artillerie, avec les troupes qui y tiennent garnison, compris dans les défenses de Québec, P.Q., et de Kingston, Ont., sont regardés comme des commandements de forteresse.

1132. Le commandement en est dévolu au plus ancien officier présent des troupes d'artillerie, respectivement en garnison à Québec et à Kingston.

1133. Ces ordonnances et règlements annulent tous les ordonnances et les règlements antérieurs et seront mis en exécution le premier jour de novembre 1904.

4. Le commandement en chef de la milice reste et est attribué au Roi, qui l'exerce et administre personnellement ou par l'intermédiaire du Gouverneur général agissant comme son représentant.

MINISTERE DE LA MILICE.

5. Il y a un ministre de la Milice et de la Défense, auquel sont attribués la charge et la responsabilité de l'administration des affaires du ressort de la milice, ainsi que des fortifications, de l'artillerie, des munitions, armes, arsenaux, salles ou magasins ou ateliers d'armes, approvisionnements, habillement, équipement et matériel de guerre appartenant au Canada, y compris l'initiative en toutes choses entraînant quelque dépense.

(2) Le Gouverneur en conseil peut rendre, au besoin, les décrets nécessaires au sujet des fonctions que le ministre est appelé à remplir.

6. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut nommer, pour l'expédition des affaires du ministère, un sous-ministre et les autres officiers ou employés nécessaires, lesquels restent en exercice jusqu'à révocation.

7. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut nommer un conseil de la milice pour conseiller le Ministre dans toutes affaires se rapportant à la milice que ce dernier lui soumet. La composition, la procédure et les pouvoirs du conseil sont tels que prescrits.

OUVRAGES DE DEFENSE.

8. Le Ministre est chargé de la surveillance et direction (de même que de l'entretien et réparation) de tous les bâtiments militaires, et aussi de la construction, de l'entretien et de la réparation des forts et fortifications et autres ouvrages de défense en Canada.

9. Tout ouvrage en quelque partie que ce soit du Canada, que le commandant des troupes régulières de Sa Majesté au Canada certifie être nécessaire à la défense du Canada, est réputé ouvrage public dans le sens de l'Acte des Expropriations ; et, pour les fins de cet ouvrage, l'expression "Ministre" dans le dit acte comprend le premier secrétaire d'Etat de Sa Majesté au ministère de la Guerre.

10. Dans toute circonstance critique l'officier commandant la milice dans la localité, ou tout officier régulièrement autorisé par lui, peut, sous le régime des règlements, entrer dans tout édifice ou bâtiment ou pénétrer sur tout terrain et les occuper avec des troupes ou d'autres personnes, pour des fins de défense, et peut creuser des tranchées et élever des ouvrages de campagne sur tout tel terrain, et fortifier tout édifice ou bâtiment, et peut, pour les fins susdites, détruire tout tel bâtiment ou dépeupler et dévaster tout tel terrain, et détruire les vivres, récoltes, fourrages, approvisionnements et toutes autres choses, et abattre tous bestiaux, ou peut prendre ou faire prendre ces vivres, récoltes, moissons, fourrages, approvisionnements ou autres choses, et peut conduire ou faire conduire tous animaux vivants à quelque lieu de sûreté, et peut aussi mettre en réquisition les chevaux, mulets ou mules, bœufs ou autres animaux voulus pour des fins militaires.

(2.) Toute personne lésée par l'exercice de l'un quelconque des droits conférés par le présent article est indemnisée à même le fonds du revenu consolidé du Canada.

OBLIGATION DU SERVICE MILITAIRE.

11. Tous les habitants mâles du Canada, âgés de dix-huit ans et plus et de moins de soixante ans, non exemptés ou frappés d'incapacité par la loi, et sujets britanniques, peuvent être appelés à servir dans la milice ; dans le cas d'une levée en masse, le Gouverneur général peut appeler au service toute la population mâle du Canada en état de porter les armes.

(2.) Rien de contenu au présent article n'empêche un habitant mâle du Canada, âgé de moins de dix-huit ans, de s'enrôler comme clairon, trompette ou tambour.

12. Seules les personnes suivantes sont exemptées de servir dans la milice, savoir :

- Les membres du conseil privé du Roi pour le Canada ;
- Les juges de toutes les cours de justice ;
- Les membres des conseils exécutifs provinciaux ;
- Les sous-ministres des gouvernements fédéral et provinciaux ;

- Le clergé et les ministres de toutes confessions et sectes religieuses ;

- Les télégraphistes en activité d'emploi ;

- Les fonctionnaires et commis régulièrement employés à la perception du revenu ;

- Les directeurs et officiers de toutes les prisons et de tous les asiles publics d'aliénés ;

- Les membres de la milice navale ;

- Les membres de la police et des corps de pompiers employés en permanence dans les cités, villes et villages constitués en corporation ;

- Les professeurs des collèges et universités, et les instituteurs des ordres religieux ;

- Les personnes rendues impropres au service militaire par quelque infirmité physique ou mentale ;

- Le fils unique d'une veuve, s'il est son seul soutien ;

- Les pilotes et apprentis-pilotes durant la saison de la navigation ;

Les gens auxquels, à raison des doctrines de leur religion, il répugne de porter les armes ou de faire eux-mêmes du service militaire,—dans les conditions établies.

(2.) Les officiers en demi-solde ou en retraite des troupes réglées ne sont pas tenus de servir dans les corps de milice avec un grade inférieur à leur rang dans les dites troupes.

(3.) Nul n'a droit à l'exemption, s'il n'a, au moins un mois avant de réclamer cette exemption, déposé entre les mains de l'officier commandant dans le ressort duquel il demeure, sa déclaration, attestée par serment devant quelque juge de paix, des faits sur lesquels il base sa réclamation.

13. Si quelqu'un prétend être exempt du service militaire pour quelque motif que ce soit, la preuve de cette exemption lui incombe dans tous les cas.

14. L'exemption n'empêche de servir dans la milice nulle personne qui désire le faire et qui n'y est pas improprie pour cause d'infirmité physique ou mentale.

15. La population mâle ainsi sujette à servir dans la milice est partagée en quatre classes :

La première classe comprend les hommes âgés de dix-huit ans et plus, mais de moins de trente ans, célibataires ou veufs sans enfants ;

La deuxième classe comprend ceux âgés de trente ans et plus, mais de moins de quarante-cinq ans, célibataires ou veufs sans enfants ;

La troisième classe comprend ceux âgés de dix-huit ans et plus, mais de moins de quarante-cinq ans, mariés ou veufs avec enfants ;

La quatrième classe comprend ceux âgés de quarante-cinq ans et plus, mais de moins de soixante ans ;

Et tel est l'ordre dans lequel la population mâle est appelée au service.

DIVISION DE LA MILICE.

16. La milice du Canada est divisée en milice active et en milice de réserve.

(2.) La milice active se compose de—

(a) Corps levés au moyen de l'enrôlement volontaire ;

(b) Corps levés au moyen du tirage au sort.

(3) La milice de réserve est levée et maintenue sous le régime des règlements établis par le Gouverneur en conseil.

DUREE DU SERVICE.

17. En temps de paix la durée du service est de trois ans pour la milice active.

Pour la milice de réserve cette durée est celle prescrite.

18. Tout corps régulièrement autorisé avant la date à laquelle le présent acte entre en vigueur, et existant à cette date, y compris les officiers commissionnés de ce corps, est, pour les fins du présent acte, réputé existant et continue d'exister comme tel, sous le régime des dispositions du présent acte.

19. Nul officier ou soldat d'un corps de milice active, levé et entrete nu au moyen d'enrôlement volontaire, ne peut cesser d'en faire partie, en temps de paix, avant d'avoir donné à son officier commandant six mois d'avis de son intention de le faire.

20. Quiconque s'est volontairement enrôlé ou a été appelé à servir dans la milice, a le droit d'être libéré à l'expiration du temps de service pour lequel il s'est engagé, à moins que ce temps n'expire en temps critique, auquel cas il est tenu de servir durant une autre période n'excédant pas douze mois.

DIVISIONS MILITAIRES.

21. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut statuer qu'une partie quelconque du Canada forme un district militaire pour les fins du présent acte ; peut changer les limites de tout tel district ; peut faire grouper deux ou plus de deux districts ensemble pour les fins de commandement et d'administration, et peut partager tout district militaire en tels sous-districts et telles divisions de brigade, de régiment et de compagnie qui semblent à propos.

MILICE ACTIVE.

22. La milice active se compose des corps qui sont, en quelque temps que ce soit, désignés par le Gouverneur en conseil, et le Gouverneur en conseil peut, en tout temps, licencier tout corps ou toute partie d'un corps, s'il juge à propos de le faire.

23. Quiconque s'engage à servir dans la milice active est tenu, en s'enrôlant, de prêter et souscrire le serment suivant devant un des officiers de la milice autorisés à cette fin par un ordre général ou par règlement, ou devant un juge de paix ; et ce serment a l'effet d'un engagement.

par écrit envers le Roi, obligeant celui qui le souscrit à servir dans la milice jusqu'à ce qu'il soit légalement libéré, rayé des rôles ou destitué, ou jusqu'à ce que sa démission soit acceptée :

Je, A.B., promets sincèrement et jure (ou déclare solennellement) que je serai fidèle à Sa Majesté et lui porterai vraie allégeance.

TROUPE PERMANENTE.

24. La troupe permanente se compose de tels corps organisés en permanence, n'excédant pas deux mille hommes, enrôlés pour un service continu, qui sont, à discrétion, autorisés par le Gouverneur en conseil.

25. La troupe permanente fournit des écoles d'instruction pour la milice, avec des instructeurs; elle est aussi disponible en tout temps pour le service général.

ENROLEMENT.

26. Le Gouverneur en conseil fait, au besoin, tous les règlements nécessaires pour l'enrôlement des hommes susceptibles d'être appelés au service militaire, et des cadets et pour toute procédure s'y rattachant, ainsi que pour déterminer, sans préjudice des prescriptions du présent acte, l'ordre dans lequel doivent servir les personnes mentionnées dans les classes établies par le dit présent acte; et ces règlements ont la même vigueur et le même effet que s'ils faisaient partie du présent acte.

TIRAGE AU SORT.

27. Lorsque, en quelque temps que ce soit, il faut des hommes pour organiser ou compléter un corps, soit pour l'exercice, soit pour faire face à un événement soudain, et qu'il ne s'en présente pas assez pour compléter le contingent voulu, il est procédé au tirage au sort parmi les hommes susceptibles d'être appelés au service militaire; mais il n'est jamais tiré au sort plus qu'un fils de la même famille, demeurant dans la même maison, s'il y en a plus d'un d'inscrits sur le contrôle de la milice, à moins que le nombre des noms ainsi inscrits ne soit insuffisant pour compléter le contingent voulu d'hommes astreints au service.

28. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut, en tout temps, faire des règlements relativement à la fixation du jour où doit commencer l'enrôlement dans chacun des différents districts militaires, respectivement,—à la convocation des hommes susceptibles d'être appelés au service, ou de ceux tirés au sort pour servir dans un contingent,—au règlement définitif des prétentions de ceux qui réclament l'exemption, et à la prestation de serments devant un officier d'un corps dans le but de constater tous faits se rattachant à cette demande d'exemption,—aux visites de médecins et à la libération des hommes impropres au service,—et à toute autre chose non contraire au présent acte et qu'il sera nécessaire de faire pour l'enrôlement, le tirage au sort, l'appel à l'activité et la mise en service du nombre d'hommes dont il est besoin en quelque temps que ce soit; mais tout homme tiré au sort ou appelé à l'activité peut, en tout temps, jusqu'à ce qu'il soit de nouveau requis à son tour de servir, jouir du bénéfice de l'exemption s'il fournit un remplaçant acceptable, le ou avant le jour où il doit se présenter; mais s'il arrive, pendant une période de service, qu'un remplaçant dans la milice active devienne à son tour personnellement astreint au service, il doit en ce cas être assigné à ce service personnel, et la personne qu'il représentait au service doit alors remplir la vacance ainsi causée.

29. Tout homme de la milice active qui, pendant une période quelconque de service, atteint l'âge de trente ans ou de quarante-cinq ans, selon sa classe, est néanmoins tenu d'achever le temps pour lequel il s'est volontairement engagé ou pour lequel il a été désigné par le sort.

OFFICIER COMMANDANT LA MILICE.

30. Il peut être nommé un officier d'un grade non inférieur à celui de colonel dans la milice ou dans l'armée régulière de Sa Majesté, lequel peut, sans préjudice des règlements et sous la direction du Ministre, être chargé du commandement militaire de la milice, et cet officier aura le rang de major général dans la milice et recevra le traitement qui lui sera assigné dans la limite de six mille piastres par année.

(2.) Si l'emploi d'officier général commandant devient vacant, ou si cet officier s'absente du Canada, le Gouverneur en conseil peut désigner un officier de l'état-major du quartier général, lequel sera chargé du commandement militaire de la milice.

31. Il peut être nommé un officier d'un grade non inférieur à celui de colonel dans la milice ou dans l'armée ré-gulière de Sa Majesté, lequel peut, sans préjudice des règlements et sous la direction du Ministre, être chargé de l'inspection militaire de la milice, et cet officier touchera le traitement qui lui sera assigné dans la limite de six mille piastres par année.

32. Les fonctions et l'autorité de chacun des officiers respectivement mentionnés dans les deux articles qui précèdent seront définies par le Gouverneur en conseil.

33. Il y a au quartier général un adjudant général de milice, lequel occupe le grade de colonel dans la milice et touche un traitement de trois mille deux cents piastres par année.

34. Il y a au quartier général un quartier-maître général, lequel occupe le grade de colonel dans la milice et reçoit un traitement de trois mille deux cents piastres par année.

35. Il peut y avoir, au quartier général, un grand maître de l'artillerie, lequel aura le rang de colonel dans la milice et touchera un traitement de trois mille deux cents piastres par année.

36. Le Gouverneur général peut établir un état-major général, un état-major de quartier général et un état-major de district, et peut nommer un chef d'état-major général, et nommer aux états-majors respectifs les officiers qu'il juge nécessaires, et il définira leurs fonctions et leur autorité.

37. Dans et pour chacun des districts militaires le Gouverneur en conseil nomme un officier d'un grade non inférieur à celui de lieutenant-colonel, lequel, sous le régime des règlements, commande la milice dans son district, et il est aussi nommé, au besoin, tels autres officiers qui sont jugés nécessaires.

38. La solde et les suppléments des officiers de l'état-major général, de l'état-major de quartier général et de l'état-major de district, non prévus par le présent acte, seront fixés par le Gouverneur en conseil.

OFFICIERS.

39. Les commissions d'officiers dans la milice sont données par Sa Majesté et révocables à volonté, et pour tous les sous-officiers brevetés et sous-officiers la nomination est régie et le grade déterminé par les règlements.

40. Le Gouverneur général peut faire apposer son seing à toute commission dans la milice accordée ou délivrée sous l'empire du présent acte, en l'y faisant empreindre au moyen d'un timbre par lui approuvé et affecté à cet usage sous son autorité; et le seing ainsi apposé est, à toutes fins et intentions, aussi valide que s'il avait été de la main même du Gouverneur général; et ni l'authenticité du seing ainsi apposé au moyen du timbre, ni l'autorisation de la personne par l'intermédiaire de laquelle ce seing a été ainsi apposé à une commission, ne peuvent être révoquées en doute, excepté au nom de la Couronne; et quiconque fabrique ou contrefait le seing ainsi représenté par le timbre, ou s'en sert, le sachant fabriqué ou contrefait, est coupable d'un acte criminel et passible des peines infligées dans le cas de contrefaçon du sceau privé du Gouverneur général ou du cachet à ses armes.

41. Les officiers de la milice peuvent être nommés à des corps, être mis en disponibilité, ou mis en retraite avec ou sans grade honoraire, et peuvent être remis de la non-activité en activité de service, le tout suivant des règlements établis à discrétion; mais nul officier n'est tenu de servir dans la milice avec un grade inférieur à celui en possession duquel il a été mis à la retraite.

42. Toutes les commissions existant et les nominations déjà faites dans la milice du Canada lors de l'entrée en vigueur du présent acte sont censées avoir été délivrées et faites sous l'autorité du présent acte.

43. En temps de paix nul officier de la milice ne peut être nommé à un grade permanent plus élevé que celui de colonel, à moins que ce ne soit pour prendre le commandement de la milice; mais le grade temporaire de général de brigade peut être conféré à un officier du grade de lieutenant-colonel ou de colonel pendant qu'il occupe un commandement ou un emploi pour lequel les règlements autorisent ce grade.

44. Toutes les fois que la milice est appelée à l'activité dans des circonstances critiques, le Gouverneur en conseil peut nommer des officiers à un grade plus élevé que celui de colonel.

45. Le grade honoraire de major général peut être conféré, lors de leur mise en retraite, aux colonels qui ont occupé les plus hauts emplois d'état-major, à raison de précieux services rendus au pays.

46. Le grade d'assimilation et l'autorité des officiers dans la milice active sont tels qu'établis par les règlements.

47. A tout officier de l'armée régulière de Sa Majesté, pendant qu'il sert en Canada, il peut être donné, dans la milice, une commission temporaire de rang équivalent à son rang dans la hiérarchie militaire et portant une date antérieure à celle de sa commission impériale.

ARMES, HABILLEMENT ET EQUIPEMENT.

48. L'uniforme, les armes, l'habillement et l'équipement de la milice doivent être des modèles et dessein en tout temps prescrits et sont servis conformément aux règlements.

49. Les officiers de la milice fournissent leurs propres uniformes et équipement, à l'exception des officiers montés, auxquels la sellerie peut être servie ainsi que prévu.

50. La valeur de tous les articles qui, propriété de l'Etat, manquent ou ont été détériorés pendant qu'ils étaient en la possession d'un corps, autrement que par suite de l'usure ordinaire ou de quelque accident inévitable, peut être recouvrée du commandant de ce corps par le Ministre ou par toute autre personne par lui autorisée; et le commandant du corps peut recouvrer de l'officier, de l'homme ou des hommes qui en sont responsables, la valeur des articles, appartenant à l'Etat ou au corps, qui manquent ou ont été détériorés pendant qu'ils étaient en la possession de son corps, autrement que par suite de l'usure ordinaire ou de quelque accident inévitable.

51. Tout homme servant dans la milice active qui est sur le point de quitter le Canada doit, au préalable, remettre au capitaine ou à l'officier le plus élevé en grade de sa compagnie tous les articles en sa possession appartenant à la Couronne ou au corps dont il fait partie, et il lui en est donné, par cet officier, un récépissé dont il est porté écriture dans les livres du corps; et toute personne qui quitte le Canada avec, en sa possession, des effets d'habillement ou autres effets de l'Etat ou du corps, est coupable de détournement (embezzlement) et peut être poursuivie de conséquence à toute époque; et toute mention insérée dans les registres d'un corps portant que cette personne a ainsi reçu des effets d'habillement ou autres effets de l'Etat ou du corps mais qu'elle ne les a pas remis, établit qu'elle les a en sa possession.

52. Il est interdit à tout corps et à tout sous-officier ou homme de paraître en quelque temps que ce soit, en uniforme, avec ses armes ou son fournement, si ce n'est quand il est effectivement de service ou à la parade, à l'exercice, au tir à la cible, à des revues, grandes manœuvres ou inspections, ou par permission du commandant du corps.

EXERCICE ET INSTRUCTION.

53. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut tous les ans convoquer la milice active, ou toute partie de cette milice, à l'exercice ou instruction pratique pour une période de trente jours au plus.

PRESTATIONS EN DENIERS.

54. Les officiers, sous-officiers brevetés et sous-officiers de la troupe permanente ont droit à la solde ou paye quotidienne et aux suppléments de solde suivant des tarifs à être établis.

(2.) Le Gouverneur en conseil peut, au besoin, fixer les sommes à être payées aux simples soldats de la troupe permanente, tenant compte de la longueur du service, de la bonne conduite et de la capacité; mais la paye ordinaire ne doit pas excéder le tarif suivant, savoir:

Pour les simples soldats, par jour... 75 cents.

Pour les clairons âgés de moins de 18 ans, par jour... 40 cents.

55. En temps d'activité, ainsi que pendant la période d'exercice et instruction annuelle, et pendant tout autre service, la solde ou paye et les suppléments de solde ou indemnités des officiers et hommes de la milice active, autre que la troupe permanente, sont:

(a) Pour les officiers, sous-officiers brevetés et sous-officiers, de la quotité à être établie;

(b) Pour les simples soldats, sur le pied de 50 centins par jour, tarif qui peut être augmenté, ainsi que prescrit, jusqu'à un maximum de une piastre par jour;

(c) Un supplément de une piastre par jour, ou tout autre montant qui sera déterminé, à chaque officier et homme pour chaque cheval qu'il est obligé d'employer et de fait emploie.

56. Les paiements pour l'exercice et l'instruction de la milice ne se font que lorsqu'il a été prouvé que les règlements s'y rapportant ont été observés.

57. Lorsque des corps de la milice reçoivent l'ordre de s'assembler dans un camp d'exercice pour les fins de l'instruction militaire, ils sont censés être au service durant toute la période pour laquelle ils sont convoqués, et lorsqu'ils sont ainsi assemblés, officiers et hommes reçoivent les rations et le couvert aux frais du trésor, en outre de leur solde ou paye quotidienne.

CHAMPS DE TIR ET SALLE D'EXERCICE.

58. Il peut être établi au chef-lieu d'état-major, ou aussi près que possible du chef-lieu d'état-major de chaque division régimentaire, un champ de tir pourvu de buttes, de cibles et autres accessoires nécessaires ; et le Gouverneur en conseil peut arrêter, lorsque la chose est nécessaire pendant que la milice est occupée à tirer à la cible, la circulation sur tous chemins, n'étant pas des routes postales, qui croisent la ligne de tir ; et il peut établir, relativement à la manière en laquelle doit se faire le tir à la cible et l'enregistrement de ses résultats, et à la sécurité du public, tous autres règlements nécessaires, et imposer des peines dans les cas de dommages volontairement causés à ces buttes, cibles ou accessoires ; et tous ces champs de tir doivent être inspectés et agréés avant d'être mis en service.

59. Sa Majesté peut être tenue à dommages pour la mort de toute personne, ou pour tout mal fait à la personne ou préjudice causé à la propriété par suite de l'usage de tout tel champ de tir ou de tout champ de tir sous le contrôle du ministre de la Milice et de la Défense pour le tir à la cible exécuté conformément aux règlements édictés à cet égard par le Gouverneur en conseil ; mais il n'y a lieu à aucun dédommagement quand la mort de la personne ou le mal qui lui a été fait est dû à de la négligence de la part de la personne tuée ou blessée, ou quand cette personne était, au moment où elle a été tuée ou blessée, présente comme spectatrice au tir ou dans le but d'y prendre part, ou en quelque qualité officielle ou autre relative au tir, ou, dans le cas de dommage à la propriété, quand le préjudice est dû à de la négligence de la part du propriétaire de la chose endommagée.

61. Tous terrains maintenant possédés ou désormais acquis pour la milice par Sa Majesté, pour servir à des salles d'exercice, champs de tir, salles d'armes, ou autres usages semblables, et qu'on juge inutile de garder pour les dites fins, peuvent être vendus ou aliénés, par ordre du Gouverneur en conseil ; et si quelque partie du coût de ces terrains, ou d'un bâtiment y construit, a été payée par la municipalité dans les limites de laquelle le terrain est situé, une part raisonnable—à être déterminée par le Gouverneur en conseil—du produit de la vente peut être remise à cette municipalité, ou être employée dans son territoire à d'autres objets militaires d'une nature permanente.

62. Toute personne n'étant pas, dans le temps, un officier ou homme de la milice, ou membre d'une société ou d'un club de tir formé ou reconnu en conformité des règlements, qui, sans le consentement du préposé à la garde d'un champ de tir, ou de quelque personne à ce autorisée par les règlements, se sert, pour tirer à la cible, d'un champ de tir inspecté et agréé, est passible d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt-cinq piastres.

SOCIÉTÉS ET CLUBS DE TIR DU FUSIL.

63. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut faire des règlements pour la gouverne des sociétés et clubs de tir existants et de ceux qui seront formés à l'avenir : pour prescrire la constitution, le but et les devoirs de ces sociétés et clubs, et la conduite de leurs affaires et de leurs tirs, et pour régir la distribution de fusils et de cartouches aux gens désireux de s'exercer au tir, qu'ils soient ou non membres de la milice.

64. En temps critique les membres des sociétés et clubs de tir du fusil deviennent membres de la milice et sont sous le commandement de l'officier de district commandant ; et tant que dure le temps critique, et jusqu'à ce qu'ils soient légalement libérés, tous les membres de ces sociétés et clubs restent membres de la milice, et sont assujettis à l'exercice, à l'instruction et à la discipline au même degré que ses autres membres.

ORGANISATIONS SCOLAIRES, CORPS DE CADETS.

65. Le Ministre peut—

(a) permettre que les garçons âgés de plus de douze ans, qui vont à l'école, soient organisés en corps de cadets-écoliers ;

(b) permettre que les jeunes gens âgés de plus de quatorze ans, et de moins de dix-huit ans, soient organisés en corps de cadets-anciens ;

(c) permettre que les corps de cadets-anciens, ou toute partie de ces corps, soient adjoints à une partie quelconque de la milice active pour les fins d'exercice et d'instruction.

66. Tous les corps de cadets sont soumis à l'autorité et sont sous les ordres de l'officier de district commandant.

67. Les corps de cadets doivent être exercés et instruits ainsi que prescrit, et ils peuvent être pourvus d'armes, de cartouches et d'effets d'équipement aux conditions prévues.

68. Les corps de cadets ne sont tenus de servir dans la milice en aucune circonstance critique, sauf seulement dans le cas d'une levée en masse.

APPEL DE LA MILICE SOUS LES DRAPEAUX.

69. La milice ou toute partie et tout officier ou homme de la milice peuvent être convoqués pour toute fin militaire autre que l'exercice ou l'instruction, au temps et de la manière prévus par les règlements.

SERVICE ACTIF.

70. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut mettre la milice, ou toute partie de la milice, en service actif partout dans le Canada et en dehors du Canada, pour la défense de ce dernier, en quelque temps que ce soit où il paraît à propos de le faire à raison de circonstances critiques.

71. Lorsque le Gouverneur en conseil mettra la milice, ou quelque partie de la milice, en activité de service, si le parlement n'est pas alors en session par suite d'un ajournement ou d'une prorogation à une date ne devant pas arriver avant dix jours, il sera lancé une proclamation convoquant les Chambres dans le délai de quinze jours, et le parlement, en conséquence, se réunira et siégera le jour fixé par cette proclamation, et continuera à siéger et à agir comme s'il avait été ajourné ou prorogé au jour en dernier lieu mentionné.

72. En temps de guerre, lorsque la milice est appelée sous les drapeaux pour servir de concert avec les troupes régulières de Sa Majesté, Sa Majesté peut en donner le commandement à un officier général supérieur de son armée régulière.

73. En temps de guerre nul n'est tenu de servir en campagne d'une manière continue pendant plus d'une année ; mais tout homme qui s'engage volontairement à servir pour la guerre, ou pour toute période de plus d'une année, est tenu de remplir son engagement ; le Gouverneur en conseil peut, néanmoins, dans le cas de nécessité inéluctable (nécessité dont le Gouverneur en conseil est le seul juge), obliger tout milicien à continuer de servir au delà de son année de service en campagne, pendant une période d'au plus six mois.

(2.) Le présent article ne s'applique pas à la troupe permanente.

74. L'Army Act en vigueur dans le Royaume-Uni, les King's Regulations et toutes autres lois applicables aux troupes de Sa Majesté en Canada et compatibles avec le présent acte ou avec les règlements faits sous son autorité, ont la même vigueur et le même effet que s'ils avaient été adoptés par le parlement du Canada pour la gouverne de la milice, et tout officier et homme de la milice y est soumis à compter du jour où il a été appelé au service actif, et aussi pendant la période d'exercice ou instruction annuelle prévue au présent acte, et aussi en tout autre temps quand il est au service militaire ou en uniforme du corps auquel il appartient sur ou dans tout champ de tir ou tout atelier ou salle d'armes, ou autre lieu où sont gardés des armes, canons, munitions ou autre matériel de guerre, ou tout hangar ou salle d'exercice, ou autre bâtiment ou lieu servant à des fins militaires, ou pendant tout exercice ou toute revue du corps auquel ils appartient, auquel ou à laquelle il prend part dans les rangs, ou pendant qu'il se rend à l'endroit où doit se faire l'exercice ou la revue ou qu'il en revient, et aussi lorsqu'il assiste comme spectateur, qu'il soit ou non en uniforme, à toute exercice ou revue du corps auquel il appartient.

(2.) Les officiers et hommes de la troupe permanente et les membres de l'état-major permanent de la milice sont en tout temps soumis à la loi militaire.

75. Tout officier ou homme accusé d'une contravention commise pendant qu'il sert dans la milice peut être jugé par un conseil de guerre, et, s'il en est trouvé coupable, puni de cette contravention dans le délai de six mois après sa libération ou après que le corps auquel il appartient ou appartenait a été relevé du service actif, nonobstant qu'il ait été ainsi congédié de la milice ou que le corps auquel il appartenait ait été ainsi relevé du service actif ; et tout officier ou homme de la milice peut être jugé pour le crime de désertion en quelque temps que ce soit, sans égard à la longueur de temps qui s'est écoulée depuis sa désertion.

76. Tout milicien appelé au service actif doit se présenter aux temps et lieu indiqués par son officier commandant, avec les armes, le fourniment, les munitions et l'équipement qu'il a reçus, et les vivres que cet officier prescrit.

77. Tout milicien appelé au service actif qui, sans permission, s'absente du corps auquel il appartient, pendant plus de sept jours, peut être jugé par un conseil de guerre comme déserteur.

78. Lorsqu'un officier ou un soldat est tué au service actif, ou meurt de blessures reçues ou de maladie contractée au service actif, à l'exercice ou instruction, ou pendant qu'il est de service, il est pourvu au soulagement de sa veuve et de sa famille à même le trésor public, suivant l'échelle prévue.

79. La commission de santé fait un rapport sur tous les cas d'incapacité définitive résultant de blessures reçues ou de maladies contractées au service actif, à l'exercice ou instruction, ou en service, lequel rapport est suivi d'indemnisation en conformité des règlements établis par le Gouverneur en conseil ; et tout médecin praticien qui signe un faux certificat en pareil cas est passible d'une amende de quatre cents piastres.

LAIDE A L'AUTORITE CIVILE.

80. La milice active, ou tout corps de cette milice, peut être appelé à l'activité, avec ses armes et munitions, pour prêter main-forte aux autorités civiles, lorsqu'une émeute ou une violation de la paix publique de nature à nécessiter ce service se produit ou, de l'avis des autorités civiles ci-dessous mentionnées, est appréhendée comme vraisemblablement imminente, et que, dans l'un ou l'autre cas, il est hors de leur pouvoir de la réprimer ou de l'empêcher ou d'y faire face, que cette émeute ou violation de la paix publique se produise, ou soit ainsi appréhendée, en dedans ou en dehors des limites de la municipalité où le dit corps a été levé ou organisé.

81. L'officier de district commandant dans quelque localité que ce soit, s'il est présent dans la localité et capable d'agir, ou, s'il n'est pas ainsi présent ou est incapable d'agir par maladie ou autre cause, l'officier le plus élevé en grade de la milice active dans une localité quelconque, appelle cette milice ou ce qu'il en juge nécessaire, pour empêcher ou réprimer toute telle émeute ou violation de la paix appréhendée ou déjà commencée, lorsqu'il en est requis par écrit par les autorités civiles ci-dessous mentionnées ; toutefois, si la troupe permanente est disponible, à l'avis de l'officier auquel la demande est faite, il doit être employé un nombre suffisant d'hommes de cette troupe avant que l'on ait recours à d'autres corps de milice.

82. Les autorités civiles par lesquelles cette réquisition peut être faite sont :

(a) Si la localité où cette émeute ou violation de la paix se produit ou est appréhendée est organisée en municipalité, le maire ou préfet ou autre chef ou chef intérimaire de la municipalité, avec deux juges de paix, ou, si ce maire, préfet ou autre chef ou chef intérimaire refuse ou est incapable d'agir, le juge de la cour de comté ou de district ou l'un des juges de la cour de comté ou de district, ayant juridiction dans la localité, agissant seul, ou, s'il n'y a pas de tel juge, tout juge d'une cour supérieure y ayant juridiction ;

(2.) Lorsque par application du premier paragraphe du présent article un juge est désigné comme l'autorité civile par laquelle une réquisition peut être faite, et qu'il n'y a pas de tel juge, ou que le juge ou tous les juges qui auraient pu agir sont absents ou incapables d'agir, tout juge ou tout magistrat pouvant faire seul tout ce que le Code criminel de 1892 autorise deux ou plus de deux juges de paix à faire, et ayant juridiction à l'endroit où cette émeute ou violation de la paix se produit ou est appréhendée, peut, agissant avec deux juges de paix, faire la réquisition ; et si, à tel endroit, il ne se trouve ou ne réside un tel juge ou un tel magistrat capable d'agir, trois juges de paix ayant juridiction à cet endroit pourront faire la réquisition.

(3.) Lorsque la réquisition est faite par un juge, tout énoncé de fait y contenu est définitif et lie toutes les parties intéressées.

(4.) Lorsque la réquisition est faite par un juge ou un magistrat ayant les pouvoirs de deux juges de paix agissant avec deux juges de paix, ou par trois juges de paix, aucun énoncé de fait y contenu ne peut être contesté par l'officier auquel la réquisition est faite.

83. La réquisition prévue à l'article qui précède peut être dans la forme suivante, ou dans une forme analogue, et la formule peut varier suivant le cas:—

84. Toute telle réquisition par écrit doit énoncer le fait qu'une émeute ou une violation de la paix publique s'est produite ou est appréhendée, et qu'il est nécessaire que la milice active prête main-forte aux autorités civiles.

85. Tout officier et homme de cette milice active ou de cette partie de la milice active, obéira, en toute occasion semblable, aux ordres de son officier supérieur ; et les officiers et hommes, lorsqu'ils sont ainsi appelés, sont, sans autre nomination, et sans prestation d'aucun serment d'office, constables spéciaux et censé agir en cette qualité tant qu'ils sont ainsi en état d'activité ; mais ils agissent seulement comme corps militaire et ne sont individuellement tenus d'obéir qu'aux ordres de leur officier supérieur de milice.

86. Lorsque de la milice active est ainsi appelée à prêter main-forte aux autorités civiles, la municipalité dans laquelle ses services sont requis lui paiera pour le temps de son service, pour les officiers, la solde qui leur est accordée en activité et pour chaque homme une piastre par jour, plus une piastre et cinquante centins par jour pour chaque cheval effectivement et nécessairement employé par eux, ainsi qu'un supplément d'une piastre pour chaque officier et de cinquante cents pour chaque homme, par jour, au lieu de vivre, et de cinquante centins par jour, au lieu de fourrage, pour chaque cheval ; et la municipalité lui paiera aussi en sus ses frais de transport et lui procurera des logements convenables, ainsi que des écuries pour ses chevaux ; et la dite solde et les dites indemnités de subsistance et de fourrage et les frais de transport, comme aussi le coût ou la valeur du logement des hommes et des chevaux, à moins que la municipalité ne le fournisse elle-même, peuvent être recouverts de cette dernière par Sa Majesté dans toute cour de juridiction compétante.

87. La solde et les indemnités de la milice ainsi appelée, avec les frais de transport raisonnables, sont, en attendant qu'elles soient payées par la municipalité, avancées d'abord à même le fonds du revenu consolidé du Canada, sur autorisation du Gouverneur en conseil ; mais cette avance ne change rien aux obligations de la municipalité, et cette solde, avec les indemnités et les frais de transport, peut être immédiatement recouvrée comme dette due à la Couronne par la municipalité.

LOGEMENT DE LA MILICE.

88. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut faire des règlements sur le logement des troupes chez l'habitant ou ailleurs et leur cantonnement, et il peut imposer des amendes, n'excédant pas cinquante piastres, pour toute infraction à ces règlements.

89. Rien de contenu dans le présent acte ou les règlements n'aura l'effet d'autoriser le logement de la milice, ni d'aucune partie de la milice, dans une maison occupée uniquement par des femmes, ni d'obliger les occupants d'une telle maison à recevoir la milice ou quelque partie que ce soit de la milice, ni de la pourvoir de logement ou de lui faire place dans la maison.

TRANSPORT.

90. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut faire des règlements à l'effet de requérir quiconque est propriétaire ou saisi d'un chemin de fer, tramway, bateau, barge, chaland ou bâtiment à vapeur ou autre, ou d'un wagon, chariot, voiture ou animal de bât, ou tout employé d'une telle personne, de transporter d'un endroit à un autre, toute partie de la milice, avec ses chevaux, canons, munitions, fourrage, bagages et approvisionnements qu'il peut être nécessaire de porter ou de transporter; et cette personne ou cet employé doit, sur ce, fournir, dans un temps raisonnable avant le jour où il doit être obtempéré à cet ordre, les locomotives, voitures, wagons, fardiers et matériel roulant, bateau, barge, chaland, bâtiment à vapeur ou autre, ou les animaux de bât nécessaires, avec les personnes et le matériel qu'il faut pour leur mise en service.

91. Toute personne légalement requise, sous l'autorité du présent acte ou des règlements, de fournir un wagon de chemin de fer, une locomotive, un bateau, une barge, un chaland, un bâtiment à vapeur ou autre, un chariot, une voiture, ou un animal de bât, pour le transport ou l'usage d'une partie quelconque de la milice, qui néglige ou refuse de le faire, est passible d'une amende n'excédant pas cinq cents piastres, et, à défaut de paiement, d'emprisonnement pour une période n'excédant pas un an, avec ou sans travaux forcés, ou des deux peines à la fois, à la discrétion du tribunal.

92. Les tarifs de louage ou de rémunération pour le transport de la milice, ou d'une partie quelconque de la milice, avec ses chevaux, canons, munitions, fourrage, bagages et approvisionnements, sont fixés par le Gouverneur en conseil.

93. Lorsque le Gouverneur en conseil proclame qu'il est survenu une circonstance critique où il est à propos pour le service public que le gouvernement ait le contrôle des chemins de fer en Canada, ou de l'un quelconque de ces chemins de fer, le Ministre peut, au moyen d'un mandat revêtu de sa signature, autoriser toute personne ou toutes personnes y dénommées à prendre possession, au nom et de la part de Sa Majesté, de tout chemin de fer en Canada et de son matériel, ou de toute partie de ce chemin de fer ou matériel, ou à prendre possession de tout matériel sans prendre possession du chemin de fer lui-même, et à en faire usage pour le service de Sa Majesté dans le temps et de la manière que prescrit le Ministre; et les directeurs, officiers, employés et serviteurs de ce chemin de fer obéiront aux ordres du Ministre en ce qui concerne l'usage du chemin de fer ou du matériel ainsi que plus haut mentionné pour le service de Sa Majesté.

(2.) Tout tel mandat lancé par le Ministre demeure en vigueur aussi longtemps qu'à son avis dure le temps critique.

94. A toute personne à laquelle a été enlevée la possession de son chemin de fer ou matériel de chemin de fer sous l'autorité du présent acte il doit être payé, sur des deniers à être procurés par le parlement, pour toute perte ou préjudice à elle causé par l'exercice des pouvoirs ainsi conférés au Ministre par le précédent article, le plein dédommagement sur lequel le dit Ministre et la dite personne tombent d'accord, ou, au cas de désaccord, celui qui est déterminé sur renvoi devant la cour de l'Echiquier du Canada.

95. Lorsqu'il est pris possession d'un chemin de fer ou d'un matériel au nom ou de la part de Sa Majesté sous l'autorité du présent acte, tous contrats et engagements entre la personne à laquelle a été enlevée la possession de son chemin de fer et les directeurs, officiers, employés et serviteurs de cette personne, ou entre cette personne et toute autre personne, relativement à l'exploitation ou à l'entretien du dit chemin de fer, ou relativement à la fourniture ou à l'exploitation du matériel de ce chemin de fer, qui auraient pu être mis à exécution par ou contre la dite personne si cette prise de possession n'avait pas eu lieu, peuvent être mis à exécution par ou contre le gouvernement du Canada tant que dure cette possession.

COMMISSIONS D'ENQUÊTE ET CONSEILS DE GUERRE.

96. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut convoquer des commissions d'enquête et nommer les officiers de milice dont seront composées ces commissions, aux fins de faire enquête et rapport sur toute chose se rattachant à l'administration ou à la discipline de la milice et à la conduite de tout officier ou homme de la milice; et il peut en tout temps convoquer des conseils de guerre et déléguer le pouvoir de convoquer ces conseils et de nommer les officiers dont ils se composeront, aux fins de juger tout officier ou soldat accusé de quelque infraction que ce soit au présent acte, et il peut aussi déléguer le pouvoir d'approuver, ratifier, les sentences de tout tel conseil ou remettre les peines qu'elles infligent.

97. Les règlements relatifs à la composition des commissions d'enquête et des conseils de guerre de la milice et aux modes de procédure qui y seront suivis, ainsi qu'aux pouvoirs de ces commissions et conseils, seront les mêmes que les règlements alors en vigueur relativement à la composition, à la procédure et aux pouvoirs des commissions d'enquête et conseils de guerre dans l'armée régulière de Sa Majesté, pourvu qu'ils ne soient pas incompatibles avec le présent acte ou les règlements faits sous son autorité.

98. La rémunération des personnes dont la présence est nécessaire à ces commissions ou conseils peut être fixée par le Gouverneur en conseil.

99. Toute personne dont le témoignage est nécessaire devant un conseil de guerre peut être assignée à comparaître ou en recevoir l'ordre.

100. Si une personne non enrôlée dans la milice est assignée à comparaître comme témoin devant un conseil de guerre, et si, après qu'il lui a été payé ou offert une somme raisonnable pour couvrir ses dépenses, elle ne comparait pas, ou si, une fois présente comme témoin, elle—

(a) refuse de prêter serment ou d'affirmer quand l'exige le conseil; ou—

(b) refuse de produire un document qu'elle a en son pouvoir ou sous son contrôle et que le conseil lui ordonne légalement de produire; ou—

(c) refuse de répondre à une question à laquelle le conseil exige légalement qu'elle réponde; ou—

(d) se rend coupable de résistance, désobéissance ou injure au conseil de guerre en interrompant ou troublant ses séances,—

Le président du conseil doit faire du défaut de comparaître, du refus ou de la résistance, désobéissance ou injure de cette personne, un rapport sous son seing à un juge d'une cour de justice, dans la localité, ayant le pouvoir de punir les personnes coupables de semblables contraventions dans cette cour; et la dite cour peut, sur ce, s'en enquérir, et, si cette personne en est trouvée coupable, la punir de la même manière qu'elle pourrait l'être au cours d'une instance devant la dite cour pour ce défaut de comparaître, ce refus ou cette résistance, désobéissance ou injure.

101. Nulle sentence d'un conseil de guerre général ne peut être mise à exécution qu'après avoir été ratifiée par le Gouverneur en conseil.

CONTRAVENTIONS ET PEINES.

102. Tout officier qui, sciemment, réclame une solde, sous prétexte d'exercices accomplis dans les rangs du corps auquel il est attaché, au nom d'un homme appartenant à un autre corps de la milice, ou réclame de l'argent pour des officiers ou des hommes non présents, ou sciemment comprend dans une situation de revue ou autre état de situation, le nom d'un homme qui n'est pas régulièrement enrôlé, et tout homme qui réclame ou touche la solde, sous prétexte d'exercices accomplis dans les rangs d'un autre corps que le sien propre ou dans plus d'un corps pendant les exercices annuels d'une année, est coupable d'un acte criminel poursuivable par voie de mise en accusation.

103. Tout officier ou homme qui obtient sous de faux prétextes, ou illégalement retient ou garde en sa possession, quelque partie de la solde ou des deniers appartenant à un autre officier ou homme, est coupable d'un acte criminel poursuivable par voie de mise en accusation.

104. Tout officier ou homme qui, sciemment, signe une fausse situation de revue, un faux contrôle nominatif ou état de solde, ou un faux état de situation quelconque, est coupable d'un acte criminel poursuivable par voie de mise en accusation.

105. Toute personne à laquelle un officier faisant un contrôle de milice demande des renseignements pour pouvoir se conformer aux dispositions du présent acte, qui refuse de donner ces renseignements ou en donne de faux, est passible d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt piastres pour chaque renseignement exigé de lui et faussement donné, et d'une pareille amende pour chaque nom de personne refusé, caché ou faussement déclaré; et toute personne qui refuse de donner son propre nom et des renseignements pertinents, lorsqu'il lui en est demandé ainsi qu'il est dit plus haut, ou qui donne un faux nom ou de faux renseignements, est passible d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt piastres.

106. Tout officier et tout homme de la milice qui refuse ou néglige de faire un enrôlement ou tirage au sort, ou de faire ou transmettre, ainsi que prescrit par le présent acte, un rôle ou état quelconque ou une copie de rôle ou état, exigé par le présent acte ou par les règlements, est passible; si c'est un officier, d'une amende n'excédant pas cinquante piastres, et si c'est un simple soldat, d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt-cinq piastres pour chaque telle infraction.

107. Tout homme désigné par le sort pour servir dans la milice et qui refuse ou néglige de prêter le serment ou de faire la déclaration ci-dessus prescrits, lorsqu'il en est mis en demeure par un juge de paix ou par un officier à ce régulièrement autorisé, est, sur conviction par voie sommaire devant deux juges de paix, passible d'un emprisonnement n'excédant pas six mois; et pour toute négligence ou tout refus subséquent de prêter ce serment, il est, sur conviction par voie sommaire, passible d'un autre emprisonnement n'excédant pas douze mois.

108. Tout officier ou homme de la milice et toute autre personne quelconque qui se fait faussement passer pour un autre à une parade de la milice ou en toute autre occasion, pour quelqu'une des fins du présent acte, est coupable d'un acte criminel et passible d'une amende n'excédant pas cent piastres.

109. Tout officier ou homme de la milice qui refuse ou néglige d'aider à son officier commandant à faire un rôle, liste, contrôle ou état quelconque, ou qui refuse ou néglige de lui procurer ou de lui aider à se procurer les renseignements dont il a besoin pour faire ou corriger un rôle, liste, contrôle ou état quelconque est passible, si c'est un officier, d'une amende n'excédant pas cinquante piastres, et, si c'est un homme de la milice, d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt-cinq piastres, pour chaque infraction.

110. Quiconque refuse ou néglige de donner un avis ou des renseignements nécessaires pour faire ou corriger le contrôle d'une compagnie, et qu'il est par le présent acte tenu de donner à l'officier commandant cette compagnie ou à tout officier ou sous-officier de cette compagnie qui en fait la demande à une heure et en un lieu convenables, est passible d'une amende de dix piastres pour chaque telle infraction.

111. Tout officier et homme de la milice qui, sans excuse légitime, néglige ou refuse d'assister à quelque parade, exercice ou instruction, au lieu et à l'heure fixés pour ce faire, ou qui refuse ou néglige d'obéir à quelque ordre légitime donné lors de quelque parade, exercice ou instruction, ou y relatif, est passible, si c'est un officier, d'une amende de dix piastres, et, si c'est un homme de la milice, d'une amende de cinq piastres, pour chaque telle contravention; et chaque jour d'absence est censé constituer une infraction distincte.

112. Quiconque entrave ou gêne quelque partie que ce soit de la milice à l'exercice, ou franchit les limites fixées par l'officier qu'il appartient pour cet exercice, est passible d'une amende de cinq piastres pour chaque infraction, et peut être arrêté et détenu par toute personne agissant sur l'ordre de l'officier commandant, jusqu'à ce que l'exercice soit fini pour la journée.

113. Tout officier et homme de la milice qui désobéit à un ordre légitime de son officier supérieur, ou qui, étant au service, se rend coupable d'insolence ou d'inconduite envers cet officier, est passible, si c'est un officier, d'une amende de vingt-cinq piastres, et, si c'est un homme, d'une amende de dix piastres, pour chaque telle infraction.

114. Tout homme qui manque de tenir en bon état les armes ou le fournement à lui délivrés ou confiés, ou qui paraît à l'exercice, à la parade ou en toute autre occasion, avec ses armes ou son fournement en mauvais état ou hors de service ou défectueux sous quelque rapport, est passible d'une amende de quatre piastres pour chaque telle infraction.

115. Quiconque cède, vend ou enlève illégalement des armes, fournements ou autres effets appartenant à la Couronne ou au corps, ou refuse de les remettre lorsqu'il lui sont légalement demandés, ou les garde en sa possession, excepté pour une raison légitime, dont la preuve lui incombe, est passible d'une amende de vingt piastres pour chaque telle infraction ; mais rien dans le présent article n'empêche que ce délinquant soit mis en accusation (indicted) et puni pour toute infraction plus grave, si les faits constituent une telle infraction plus grave ; et ce délinquant peut être arrêté par ordre du juge de paix devant lequel la plainte est portée, sur la foi d'une déclaration sous serment portant qu'il y a lieu de croire que le délinquant est sur le point de quitter le Canada en emportant avec lui de tels armes, fourniments ou effets.

116. Tout officier et homme de la milice qui, lorsque le corps auquel il appartient est légalement appelé à prêter main-forte à l'autorité civile, refuse ou néglige de répondre à cet appel ou d'obéir à un ordre légitime de son officier supérieur, est passible pour chaque telle infraction, d'une amende n'excédant pas cent piastres si c'est un officier, et vingt piastres si c'est un homme de la milice.

117. Quiconque oppose de la résistance à la convocation d'un homme enrôlé ou désigné par le sort en conformité des règlements, ou à quelque formalité prescrite pour procéder à l'enrôlement au moyen du tirage au sort ; ou pousse ou aide quelqu'un à résister à quelque convocation ou formalité ainsi qu'il est dit ci-dessus, ou à l'accomplissement de quelque service s'y rapportant ; ou conseille à un homme enrôlé ou astreint au service militaire à ne pas se trouver au rendez-vous, ou lui aide à y manquer ; ou dissuade un homme enrôlé ou astreint au service militaire d'accomplir un devoir que la loi ou les règlements lui imposent ; ou fait quelque chose au détriment d'un homme enrôlé ou astreint au service militaire parce qu'il a accompli un tel devoir ; ou met obstacle à l'exercice ou instruction d'un corps ou d'une partie quelconque d'un corps ; ou entrave un corps ou une partie quelconque d'un corps en marche ou ailleurs, est passible d'une amende n'excédant pas cent piastres.

118. Quiconque enfreint sciemment quelque disposition du présent acte est, lorsqu'il n'est imposé aucune autre peine pour cette infraction, passible d'une amende n'excédant pas vingt piastres pour chaque telle infraction ; mais rien dans le présent article n'empêche que le délinquant soit mis en accusation (indicted) et puni pour une infraction plus grave si les faits constituent une telle plus grave infraction.

PROCEDURE.

119. Sauf dans les cas autrement prévus, toute amende encourue sous le régime du présent acte est recouvrable, avec les frais, sur conviction par voie sommaire d'après le témoignage d'une personne digne de foi, sur plainte portée ou dénonciation faite devant un juge de paix ; et, si l'amende n'est pas payée immédiatement après la conviction, le juge de paix qui a prononcé la condamnation peut faire incarcérer dans la prison commune de la division territoriale dans laquelle le dit juge de paix siège alors, ou dans quelque maison de détention y située, pour un terme d'au plus quarante jours si l'amende n'excède pas vingt piastres, et pour un terme d'au plus soixante jours si elle excède cette somme, la personne ainsi déclarée coupable et manquant de payer l'amende et les frais.

120. Nulle poursuite ne peut être intentée contre un officier de la milice, pour l'application d'une peine prévue par le présente acte ou par un règlement, sauf sur la plainte de l'officier commandant alors la milice.

121. Toute somme d'argent qu'une personne ou corporation est, en vertu du présent acte, obligée de payer ou rembourser à la Couronne, ou qui représente les dégradations causées aux armes ou autres biens de la Couronne servant à des fins militaires, est une dette due à la Couronne et peut être recouvrée comme telle.

122. Toute action et poursuite contre un officier ou une personne quelconque, pour quelque chose faite en contre-vention au présent acte ou à un règlement établi sous son empire, doit être intentée et jugée dans le district judiciaire où a été commis l'acte au sujet duquel la plainte est portée ; mais elle n'est plus recevable après l'expiration de six mois à compter de l'infraction, sauf pour les cas ci-dessus prévus ; et à toute telle action le défendeur peut opposer une dénégation générale et mettre en preuve le présent acte et fournir des preuves spéciales sur la matière, lors de l'instruction de la cause ; et nul demandeur ne peut obtenir jugement dans une telle action si une offre de dédommagement suffisante a été faite avant que l'action ait été intentée, ou si une somme suffisante a été consignée au greffe de la cour par le défendeur après que l'action a été intentée ; mais dans ce dernier cas les frais de l'action jusqu'au moment de cette consignation de deniers en cour peuvent, à la discrétion du tribunal, être adjugés au demandeur.

123. Nulle action ou poursuite ne peut être intentée contre quelque officier ou personne que ce soit, pour des choses apparemment accomplies sous l'autorité du présent acte, avant le laps d'un mois après qu'avis par écrit de cette action ou poursuite lui a été signifié en personne ou laissé à son domicile ordinaire—lequel avis doit énoncer la cause de l'action et nommer le tribunal devant lequel elle sera intentée, et mention doit aussi être faite du nom et du domicile du demandeur et de son avocat au verso de cet avis.

EXECUTION DES MANDATS ET DES SENTENCES.

124. Le gouverneur, geôlier ou directeur de toute geôle ou prison, ou préfet de tout pénitencier en Canada, doit recevoir et détenir, suivant l'exigence de tout mandat revêtu du seing d'un officier de district commandant, ou de toute personne autorisée par les règlements à lancer un mandat, la personne mentionnée dans ce mandat et livrée entre ses mains, et doit enfermer ce prévenu jusqu'à ce qu'il soit acquitté ou élargi par l'opération de la loi ; et tout tel gouverneur, geôlier, directeur ou préfet doit prendre connaissance de tout mandat paraissant être revêtu de la signature d'un tel officier.

125. Tout officier ou homme de la milice condamné à l'emprisonnement peut, si le Gouverneur en conseil l'enjoint par règlement ou autrement, être incarcéré dans tout local spécialement destiné à cette fin, au lieu de l'être dans une geôle, une prison ou un pénitencier.

REGLEMENTS.

126. Le Gouverneur en conseil peut faire les règlements pour la mise à effet du présent acte, pour l'organisation, la discipline, la suffisance et la bonne administration de la milice, et en termes généraux pour tout ce que la défense du Canada exige de faire.

127. Ces règlements seront publiés dans la Gazette du Canada, après quoi ils auront même force de loi que s'ils faisaient partie du présent acte.

128. Les règlements seront soumis aux deux Chambres du parlement dans les dix jours qui suivront leur publication dans la Gazette du Canada, si le parlement est alors en session ; et si le parlement n'est pas alors en session, dans les dix jours qui suivront la rentrée des Chambres.

DISPOSITIONS GENERALES.

129. Pour les fins de procédures judiciaires, tous deniers souscrits par ou pour un corps quelconque, ou autrement affectés à son usage, ainsi que les armes, les munitions, l'habillement, l'équipement, les instruments de musique ou autres choses, appartenant à un corps ou dont un corps se sert, sont censés être la propriété de Sa Majesté ; et aucun don, aucune vente ou autre aliénation ou tentative d'aliénation, d'une telle chose par qui que ce soit ne peut avoir l'effet d'en transférer la propriété sans le consentement de Sa Majesté.

130. Il n'est pas nécessaire qu'un ordre ou avis donné par application du présent acte soit par écrit, à moins que le dit présent acte n'exige formellement qu'il le soit, pourvu qu'il soit communiqué personnellement à celui qui doit y obéir ou s'y conformer, soit directement par l'officier ou la personne faisant ou donnant cet ordre ou avis, soit par quelque autre personne agissant sur ses instructions.

131. Tous ordres généraux adressés à la milice sont censés être suffisamment notifiés à ceux qu'ils concernent par leur publication dans la Gazette du Canada, et tout exemplaire de cette gazette censé les contenir fait foi de ces ordres.

132. Tout ordre décerné par le commandant d'un corps de la milice, autre que la troupe permanente, est censé être suffisamment notifié à tous ceux qu'il concerne s'il a été inséré dans un journal publié dans la division réglementaire où se trouve ce corps, ou, dans le cas où il n'y existe pas de journal, si copie de l'ordre a été affichée dans chaque bureau de poste ou dans quelque autre édifice public, dans chaque division de compagnie à laquelle s'applique l'ordre en question.

134. Tout cautionnement donné à la Couronne et consenti par-devant un juge ou un juge de paix ou un officier de la milice autorisé à le recevoir, par une personne quelconque, sous l'autorité du présent acte ou conformément à un ordre général lancé ou à un règlement fait sous son empire, en garantie du paiement d'une somme d'argent ou de l'exécution d'un devoir ou d'un acte par le présent requis ou autorisé est valide et peut être mis en vigueur en conséquence.

135. Toutes sommes d'argent nécessaires pour couvrir les dépenses autorisées par le présent acte peuvent être puisées au fonds du revenu consolidé sur mandat adressé par le Gouverneur général au ministre des Finances et Receveur général; mais sauf par application de l'article 10 ou de l'article 87 nulle somme ne peut être ainsi payée à moins qu'elle ne fasse partie de quelque crédit voté par le parlement; et un état détaillé des deniers ainsi dépensés doit être soumis au parlement dans le cours de la session suivante.

ABROGATION D'ACTES.

136. Les actes suivants du parlement du Canada sont abrogés en ce qu'ils concernent les troupes de terre de la milice active ou de réserve savoir:—Le chapitre 41 des Statuts revisés intitulé: "Acte concernant la Milice et la Défense du Canada"; le chapitre 19 des statuts de 1898, intitulé: "Acte modifiant de nouveau l'Acte de la Milice"; et le chapitre 18 des statuts de 1900, intitulé: "Acte modifiant l'Acte de la Milice".

DESPATCHES, Etc.

Circular.

DOWNING STREET,
31st August, 1905.

SIR,—I have the honour to communicate to you with a view to the attention of traders in the Colony being drawn to the matter, the following representations made by His Majesty's Consul in Buenos Aires in a dispatch to the Foreign Office, respecting the registration of Trade Marks in the Argentine Republic.

Mr. Consul Ross suggests from what has come under his notice, that the importance of registration in the Republic of marks well known and therefore valuable, is not understood or appreciated by British merchants either in the United Kingdom or in the Colonies. He states that, according to the Argentine law, it is permissible for anyone to register in the Republic a trade mark for one class or for any number of different classes of goods, provided that mark has not already been registered in that country; that the cost of registration including agents' fees is about £10 and the time necessary to obtain registration about six weeks and that registration gives protection for ten years.

Attention is called to the serious disadvantage which may result from non-registration. A person not necessarily being the real owner of a particular trade mark, but having registered that mark in the Argentine, can lay an embargo on any goods he may find bearing that mark, although such goods may have been made by the original owner of the mark and have been legitimately introduced into the country. An instance is given of the case of a Canadian firm which has been selling for some years under a certain mark and now finds that it may not import its own goods into the Argentine Republic under that mark because it has been registered by a firm of importers in Buenos Aires; and so far as the Consul can learn there is no remedy except for the original owners to buy up the local registered owner of the mark, unless the manufacturer is prepared to invent and push another trade mark.

Registration in the Argentine Republic can be effected by an agent acting under a power of attorney in the form enclosed, which should be certified to by an Argentine consul; and His Majesty's Consul at Buenos Aires has declared his willingness to furnish the name of a reliable patent agent in that city.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,

ALFRED LYTTTELTON.

(7) Failure to commence active operations within one year and to work the claim within two years after the commencement of the term of the lease or to pay the ground rent or royalty, as before provided, shall subject the lessee to the forfeiture of the lease and to resumption of the land by the Crown.

ON a Report, dated 3rd August, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that section 16 of the Regulations governing the granting of yearly licenses and permits to cut timber on Dominion Lands in Manitoba and the North-west Territories provides that owners of steamboats plying on waters within the boundaries of Manitoba, the North-west Territories and the Railway Belt in British Columbia may be granted permits to cut wood for consumption on their boats without competition.

The Minister recommends that during the seasons of 1905 and 1906 the owners of steamboats on the Athabaska and McKenzie Rivers be permitted to acquire permits without payment of the dues prescribed by the Regulations and that any dues that have been paid by them in the past be remitted.

The Minister further recommends that permits be issued for the cutting of timber on the Athabaska and Peace Rivers in the District of Athabaska, without public competition being invited therefor and upon payment of dues at the rate of $1.50 per thousand B.M. AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Thursday, the 27th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council dated the 28th November, 1903, provision was made that the patent for a mining location in the Yukon Territory shall reserve to the Crown forever the same royalty upon the products of the location as is provided, or may hereafter be provided, in the case of placer mining claims, such royalty to be paid in the manner provided in the regulations governing placer mining ;

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 21st of May, 1902, provision is made that on all gold sought to be shipped from the Yukon Territory there shall be levied and collected a royalty of two and one-half per cent of its value, such royalty to be paid in currency to the Comptroller of the Yukon Territory or to some person duly authorized by him in that behalf, and the gold for the purpose of estimating such royalty shall be valued at $15.00 per ounce ;

And whereas it is considered expedient that the royalty collected, under the provisions of the regulations, on gold extracted by quartz mining operations, be abolished,—

Therefore, the Governor General in Council is pleased, in virtue of clause 47 of The Dominion Lands Act, as enacted by section 5 of chapter 15 of 55-56 Victoria, and of section 8 of The Yukon Territory Act, as amended by section 3 of chapter 34 of 2 Edward VII, to order and it is hereby ordered that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to abolish the collection of royalty on gold produced from any quartz claim or group of quartz claims in the Yukon Territory in respect to which expenditure of money has been made to the amount of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, within five years after the date of the Order in Council authorizing such abolition of the collection of royalty or within five years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent for such claim, or, in case of a group of claims, within five years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent first issued for one of the claims included in such group, in developing mining and milling ore from such claim or group of claims or in otherwise treating such ore so as to obtain the gold therefrom and in respect to which claim or group of claims a suitable plant, the cost of which shall be included in estimating the amount of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars above mentioned, has been installed and put in actual operation within such five years for milling or otherwise so treating such ore, and provided that such plant is capable of milling or otherwise so treating not less than five tons of such ore per day for every claim in respect to which such plant is installed.

The Governor in Council, is further pleased to order that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to make such regulations as may seem necessary,—

(1) to provide for the issue by the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to him of the facts, in every proper case,

(a) of a certificate that certain claims specified in such certificate are entitled to be included in any such group, and

(b) of a certificate that such expenditure has been made within such years and such plant installed and put in operation, and that such plant is capable of milling or otherwise treating as aforesaid such quantities of ore as aforesaid, and

(2) to enable the officers of the Crown engaged in the collection of royalty to distinguish such gold from that produced from placer mining operations.

The Governor in Council is further pleased to order as follows :—

(1) No gold mined from any quartz claim in respect to which such certificates have been issued shall thereafter for a period of ten years be liable to pay any royalty or export tax provided that the regulations to be made as aforesaid have been fully complied with.

(2) Any attempt to defraud the Crown, by mixing placer mining gold with gold produced from quartz mining operations, shall be punished by confiscation of both the quartz and placer mining gold so mixed or sought to be mixed.

And whereas by an Order in Council dated 12th of September, 1898, provision was made that there shall be paid to the Government on the gross output of copper mined in the Yukon Territory a royalty to be fixed by the Minister of the Interior, not exceeding five per cent on such gross output, and it has been represented that the reasons advanced for the abolition of the royalty on gold produced from quartz mining apply with equal force to copper mined in the Territory, and that the abolition of such tax in the case of copper would probably result in the establishment of a smelter within the Territory.

Therefore the Governor General in Council is pleased to order as follows :—

(1) That the provisions of the Order in Council of the 12th of September, 1898, imposing a royalty on the gross output of copper mining locations in the Yukon, be amended so as to exempt from payment of royalty any copper claim or group of copper claims in respect to which expenditure of money has been made to the amount of not less than fifty thousand dollars within ten years after the date of the Order in Council authorizing such exemption, or within ten years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent for such claims or, in case of a group of claims, within ten years after the date of issue hereafter of a patent first issued for one of the claims included in such group, in developing and mining copper ore from such claim or group of claims and in reducing the copper and other metals in such ore into mattes and in respect to which claim or group of claims a suitable smelter or other plant, the cost of which shall be included in estimating the amount of not less than fifty thousand dollars above mentioned, has been installed and put in operation within such ten years for mining and so reducing such ore and provided that such smelter or other plant is capable of reducing into such mattes not less than ten tons of such ore per day for every claim in respect to which such smelter or other plant is installed, and that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to make regulations to provide for the issue by the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to him of the facts, in every case, of a certificate (a) that certain claims specified in such certificate are entitled to be included in any such group, and of a certificate (b) that such expenditure has been made within such years and such smelter or other plant has been installed and put in operation and that such smelter or other plant is capable of reducing as aforesaid such quantities as aforesaid.

(2) That no copper, gold, silver or other metal obtained from copper ore, mined from any copper claim in respect to which such certificates have been issued, shall be liable to pay any royalty or export tax provided any regulations made in regard to the mode of proof requiring to establish that such copper, gold, silver and other metals have been obtained from copper ore mined as aforesaid, are fully complied with.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Friday, 21st day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 29th May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating as follows with regard to the application of Mr. J. B. Ferguson, of Vancouver, and his associates, now the Western Oil and Coal Company, hereinafter referred to as the company, for a grant to that company or to Mr. William Aldridge or his legal representatives of the north-west quarter of section 29 in Township 1, Range 30, west of 4th Meridian, and of the other lands hereafter described under the regulations approved by the Governor in Council respecting prospecting for petroleum in Dominion Lands and for the sale of such lands :—

1. That petroleum has been discovered in paying quantities by Mr. Aldridge and by the company in the north-west quarter of Section 29 in Township 1 and Range 30, west of the 4th Meridian, the first discovery having been made by Mr. Aldridge in that quarter section in 1899.

2. That although such quarter section is School Lands the company, with the full knowledge and consent of the late Minister of the Interior (the Honourable Mr. Sifton) and his Deputy (Mr. Smart) and of other officers of the Department of the Interior, having entered into an agreement (of which a copy was received in the Department of the Interior on the 8th September, 1904) with M. Aldridge for the purchasing of his interests in such quarter section and in other lands which he might be granted or be entitled to be granted under the regulations before referred to, has expended, according to solemn declarations on file in such Department, $28,000.00 and over, between the year 1903 and the present date, in placing the machinery upon the quarter section before mentioned and in the operations necessary for the proper opening up of Mr. Aldridge's and the company's discoveries.

3. That under the Regulations before referred to an applicant who has discovered petroleum in paying quantities is entitled to a grant, as provided in such regulations, of the surface rights of 1,920 acres and of all the petroleum therein but not of any other minerals.

4. That if the machinery which is now upon such lands belonged to Mr. Aldridge he would now be entitled to a grant of the surface rights of 1,920 acres of land including the said north-west quarter of Section 29 and of the petroleum therein, and that if the company had filed in the Department of the Interior an absolute and unconditional assignment executed in favour of the company by Mr. Aldridge of his interests in such lands, in accordance with his agreement with the company, the company would be entitled to such grant.

5. That as one of the provisions of the regulations before referred to is that the grant of 1,920 acres provided for by such regulations must be contiguous, one of the parcels of land which would be therefore included in such area of 1,920 acres would be the whole of fractional Section 11 in Township 1 and Range 1, west of the 5th Meridian; but that as it is also School Lands the adjoining fractional Section 2 in the same township and range has been substituted for such fractional Section 11, although it—fractional Section 2—is not contiguous to the other lands selected.

6. That before the said Section 29 can be patented to Mr. Aldridge or to the company the provisions of a Bill, or to the like effect, must be enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

7. That all the lands in question were of no commercial value until the operations of the company made them of value and that it therefore appears to the Minister of the Interior to be but just and equitable that the price of such lands and of the other lands hereafter described, making in all the total area of 1920 acres, should be the prices fixed by the regulations before referred to.

The Minister, therefore, recommends that the following parcels of land which (including the North-west quarter of Section 29 before mentioned) have been selected by the company to make the total grant of 1920 acres provided for under the regulations hereinbefore referred to, and which have been already reserved in the books of the Department of the Interior for such purpose, be reserved until an Act has been passed by the Parliament of Canada containing the provisions in a Bill, or provisions to like effect, and that letters patent for such lands be then issued by the Minister of the Interior upon the terms and prices provided by and specified in the regulations before referred to in favour of Mr. William Aldridge or his legal representatives : the north-west quarter and the south-west quarter of Section 29, the north-east quarter and the fractional south-west quarter of Section 19, all in Township 1, and Range 30, west of the 4th Meridian and the north half of Section 13, the south-east quarter of Section 23, the east half of Section 14, and all of fractional Section 2, all in Township 1 and Range 1, west of the 5th Meridian.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

Excepting and reserving thereout the surveyed public road one chain in width crossing the said land and containing an area of fifty-

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Thursday, the 27th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

THE Governor General in Council is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered that the Regulations for the issue of leases of Dominion Lands for grazing purposes, approved by Order in Council dated 15th February, 1905, shall be, and the same are hereby rescinded.

The Governor General in Council is further pleased to make the following Regulations for the issue of leases of Dominion Lands in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the same are hereby made and adopted accordingly :—

1. The issue of leases shall be confined to lands within the following described territory :—

Comprising that portion of the Province of Alberta which lies to the south of the north boundary of Townships numbered 28.

Comprising that portion of the Province of Saskatchewan described as follows, viz.:—Commencing at the intersection of the north boundary of Township 28 with the fourth meridian, thence easterly following the north boundary of Townships numbered 28 to the west boundary of the South Saskatchewan River, thence southerly along the said west boundary of the South Saskatchewan River to a point opposite Aiktow Creek, thence across the said South Saskatchewan River to the mouth of the said Aiktow Creek, thence up the southerly side of Aiktow Creek and across the divide between said creek and the Qu'Appelle River to the head of the said Qu'Appelle River, thence down the southerly side of the Qu'Appelle River to its intersection with the third meridian, thence southerly along the said third meridian to the north boundary of Township 12, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 12 to the west boundary of Range 24, thence southerly along the said west boundary of Range 24 to the north boundary of Township 8, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 8 to the west boundary of Range 18, thence southerly along the said west boundary of Range 18, to the north boundary of Township 4, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 4, to the west boundary of Range 15, thence southerly along the west boundary of Range 15 to the international boundary, thence westerly along the international boundary to the fourth meridian, thence northerly along the fourth meridian to the point of commencement.

2. The term of a lease shall be for a period not exceeding twenty-one years and no lease shall cover a greater area than 100,000 acres.

3. Should the Governor in Council at any time during the term of the lease think it to be in the public interest to withdraw the lands therein described, or any portion thereof, or to cancel the lease for any reason, the Minister of the Interior may, on giving the lessee two years' notice, withdraw such lands or cancel the lease.

4. The lessee shall pay an annual rental at the rate of two cents for every acre covered by his lease, and shall within each of the three years from the date of the lease, place upon the tract of land leased not less than one-third of the whole number of the stock which is required to be placed upon the said tract, namely, one head of cattle or five head of sheep for every twenty acres of land covered by the lease, and shall, during the rest of its term, maintain cattle thereon in that proportion. The lessee will be required to furnish a return to the Department of the Interior on the 1st of July in each year showing the number of head of stock on the leasehold owned by the lessee. Should the number of stock on the leasehold, after the expiration of the period in which the lessee is required under these Regulations to have the requisite number of stock placed thereon, be less than the number mentioned in this clause, the lessee shall be liable on receiving three months' notice to have withdrawn from his leasehold an area of twenty acres for each head of stock less than the number which the Regulations provide he shall place on the leasehold.

5. Before a lease is issued it will be necessary for the applicant to either homestead land or purchase 160 acres within the tract applied for at the rate of $3.00 per acre as a home farm and corral, and the lessee will be required to place his buildings thereon within one year from the date of the lease.

6. If any of the lands leased produces hay, the lessee is not entitled to use, sell or barter the same, but the lessee may, upon applying to the Agent of Dominion Lands in whose district the land is situated, obtain in accordance with the Regulations in that behalf, the first permit free of dues, to cut so much of the hay as the lessee actually requires for the use of his own stock, provided the rental of the leasehold has been paid. The Agent may then issue permits to other applicants and the permittees will be entitled to enter upon the leasehold to cut and remove the quantity of hay specified in their permits, subject, however, to such conditions as the Minister of the Interior may think proper for the protection of the lessee.

7. Leases can only be acquired by owners of stock, and if the leasehold has been secured by misrepresentation as to the ownership of stock, or other material facts, the lease may be summarily cancelled.

8. Before an application can be considered it will be necessary for the applicant to post up notices of his applications in at least four conspicuous places on the lands applied for, and also in the nearest post office for thirty days, and make a statutory declaration of having done so. Leases may be granted for an area of land at the rate of sixty acres for each head of stock, or five sheep, of which the applicant is the owner at the time he makes his application, and a statutory declaration must be furnished as to the number of stock and the owner thereof. A report shall also be obtained by the Department of the Interior from the Inspector of Ranches that upon inspection of the land applied for he found it unfit for agricultural purposes. He shall also report as to whether, and to what extent, the land is occupied, and, if so, by whom and what improvements, if any, there are upon it; the names of the owners of stock grazing within six miles of the land applied for; the number of stock owned by each, and the location of the owners' headquarters. That in case of dispute as to the land to be leased to each owner of stock, the decision of the Minister of the Interior shall be final.

9. The frontage of a leasehold on a lake, river or creek shall not exceed one mile for every four miles in depth.

10. The lessee will not be entitled to break or crop any portion of the leasehold.

11. No person shall be allowed to place sheep on Dominion Lands except in such tracts as have already been or may at any future time be specially set apart for that purpose by the Minister of the Interior.

12. Failure to fulfil any of the conditions of his lease shall subject the lessee to forfeiture thereof.

13. The lease shall be in such form as may be determined by the Minister of the Interior, in accordance with these Regulations.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

Saturday, the 22nd day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report dated 31st May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that a number of applications have from time to time been made to the Department of the Interior for permission to remove stone or rock from School Lands, but as there is no provision in the Regulations under which permits could be issued for this purpose, and some revenue derived for the School Lands Fund, it has been considered advisable to refuse all applications of this kind.

The Minister further states that it has however, been represented to him that it would be in the interests of the School Endowment Fund, and also in that of the public, to issue permits authorizing the removal of field stone or boulders from School Lands subject to the payment of a certain office fee and certain dues, the permit to be on the lines of the one issued for cutting hay on School Lands and Dominion Lands,—that is to say, to cover a certain number of loads of stone applied for, and to be returnable at the end of the period for which it was issued, with the affidavit of the permittee endorsed thereon as to the quantity of field stone or boulders taken from the land.

The Minister therefore recommends that authority be granted for the issue of permits to remove field stone or boulders from School Lands, subject to the following conditions,—the permit to be issued for a period of such number of months as the Minister may determine, and to be subject to an office fee of twenty-five cents, and also to dues at a rate to be determined by the Minister, to be returnable at the expiration of that period with the affidavit of the permittee endorsed thereon as to the quantity of stone or rock taken from the land.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 31st May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that applications are made to the Department of the Interior from time to time for permits to explore for Petroleum on School Lands, and, while there is provision in the Regulations for the issue of permits for that purpose on Dominion Lands, there is no provision for such permits with respect to School Lands.

That the conditions of the permit to explore for Petroleum on Dominion Lands would not be applicable to School Lands for the reason that should Petroleum be found in paying quantities the purchaser is given the option, under the Dominion Lands Permit, to purchase the land at a certain rate while the Dominion Lands Act expressly provides that School Lands shall be sold at public auction only.

The Minister is of opinion, however, that it would be in the interest of the public, as well as in that of the School Lands Endowment Fund, to grant permits to explore for petroleum on School Lands for a certain period, giving the permittee the option, should he find petroleum in paying quantities, of leasing the land for a term of years, subject to a certain rental, and to the payment of a royalty to the School Lands Fund on the output of oil.

The Minister, therefore, recommends that authority be given for the issue of permits to explore for Petro-eum on School Lands, subject to the following terms and conditions :—

The permit to be subject to the payment of an office fee of twenty-five cents and also to the payment of a ground rent of $5.00 for each section, or part thereof, for the period covered by the permit. The permit to be issued for a period of six months, but to be renewable at the expiration of that time at the option of the Minister of the Interior.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 15th July, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that applications are received from time to time by the Department of the Interior to acquire School Lands for the purpose of boring for Petroleum thereon, and as the Dominion Lands Act provides that School Lands shall only be sold by public auction, and as the regulations do not provide for the issue of leases for the purpose mentioned it has been necessary to refuse all such applications.

The Minister further states that representations, however, have been made that it would be in the interest both of the School Lands Endowment Fund and of the public to issue leases of School Lands for this purpose as a revenue would be derived therefrom for the School Lands Fund and at the same time the Petroleum industry would be encouraged.

The Minister therefore recommends that he be authorized to issue leases of School Lands for the purpose of boring for Petroleum, the lease to be issued for a term of ten years and to be subject to a rental of thirty cents per acre, payable yearly in advance, and also to a royalty of five per cent on the oil sold, the lessee to furnish sworn statements to the Department of the Interior at such time, and in such form as the Minister of the Interior may prescribe, as to the quantity of oil sold.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

That in clause 1 the fee for a free miner's certificate be reduced from $7.50 to $5.00; that all free miner's certificates shall expire on the 30th day of June in each year, and may be renewed at any time during the month of July, upon payment of a fee of $5.00; that an extra fee of $5.00 shall be charged for renewing a certificate within the month of August, and $15.00 if renewed within the month of September; that when a certificate is issued in favour of an individual the fee shall be $1.75 for each four months, or a fraction thereof, to the 30th of June, 1906, and the fee for a certificate for a joint stock company to the same date shall be proportioned in the same manner, namely, for a company with a capital of $100,000 or less, the fee shall be $16.75 for each four months or a fraction thereof, and for a company with a capital of over $100,000 the fee shall be $33.50 for four months or a fraction thereof; and that when a free miner's certificate expires on a Sunday or a statutory holiday, it may be renewed on the following day and ante-dated to the day it became due.

(2) That in clause 8 the words "except upon Government reservation for townsites" be omitted, and that the words "except within the boundaries of a city, town or village as defined by an Ordinance of the Yukon Council," be substituted therefor.

(3) That clause 10 be amended by increasing the length of a claim from 250 feet to 500 feet.

(4) That clause 11 be amended by increasing the length of a river claim from 250 feet to 500 feet.

(5) That clauses 12 and 13 be amended by calling the claims therein described as "all other claims," and increasing the length to 500 feet, and the depth thereof to 1,000 feet.

(6) That clause 16 be struck out as no claims are now reserved for the Crown.

(7) That clause 18 be amended by leaving out the words "creek, river or hill claims," and substituting the words "creek, gulch, river or other claims;" that the size of the claim to one discoverer be increased from 1,000 feet to 1,500 feet, and to a party of two discoverers, two claims of 1,000 feet each, the grant of each claim to issue to their joint names; and that the words "no royalty," be omitted.

(8) That clause 21 be amended by changing the words, "A claim shall be recorded with the Mining Recorder," to the words, "an application for a claim shall be filed with the Mining Recorder."

(9) That clause 26 be amended by providing that during the absence of the Mining Recorder the application for an entry for a claim may be received by any person the Mining Recorder may appoint, but the grant must be issued by the Mining Recorder.

(11) That clause 41 be amended by providing that the free miner shall, within fourteen days after the date of the claim becomes due for renewal, satisfy the Mining Recorder that the work on the claim has been done; that the affidavit of the free miner be accepted without being corroborated by two witnesses; and that provision be made that if it is subsequently proved that the miner has made a false affidavit as to the work done on the claim, his title thereto shall be forfeited. Further that the provision that if royalty has been paid on the gold mined from a claim, the affidavit of the free miner will be sufficient proof that the work has been done, be omitted.

(12) That the second paragraph of section 41, which provided that if a claim is not recorded within three months subsequent to the date up to which it was recorded, be amended by adding a provision that an additional three months will be given to record a claim, but that a fee of $20.00 shall be charged instead of $10.00.

(13) That clause (d) of section 41 be amended by adding a provision to renew all claims grouped under this section on the same day to be fixed by the Mining Recorder, and that the application to group the claims shall be signed by all parties concerned or by their duly authorized agents.

(14) That clause (g) of section 41 be amended by changing the words "Gold Commissioner" wherever they appear, to the words "Mining Recorder."

(15) That section 43 be omitted as there are now no Crown Claims on Dominion Creek.

(16) That section 45 be omitted as there are now no whole or fractional mining claims reserved to the Crown.

(17) That Form "H," the form of application for a placer mine, be amended by the adding of the words "that I am entitled to receive an entry in accordance with section 36 of the Regulations."

(18) That the schedule of fees be amended by changing the words "Abstract of Title, $2.00 and upwards," to "Abstract of Title, $2.00 for the first entry, and 50 cents for each additional entry;" and that the words "registration of other documents, $2.00 and upwards," be changed to the words "registration of other documents, $2.00."

Circulaire.

DOWNING STREET,

31 août 1905.

MONSIEUR,—J'ai l'honneur de vous communiquer, dans le but d'attirer l'attention des négociants dans la colonie sur l'affaire, les représentations suivantes faites par le consul de Sa Majesté à Buenos-Ayres dans une dépêche au Foreign Office concernant l'enregistrement de marques de commerce dans la République Argentine.

M. le consul Ross suggère, d'après ce qui est venu à sa connaissance, que l'importance de l'enregistrement dans la République de marques bien connues et conséquemment de valeur, n'est pas comprise ou appréciée par les marchands britanniques soit dans le Royaume-Uni ou dans les colonies. Il dit, que la loi argentine permet à tout chacun d'enregistrer dans la République une marque de commerce pour une catégorie ou pour tout nombre de différentes catégories de marchandises, pourvu que cette marque n'ait pas déjà été enregistrée dans ce pays-là, que le coût d'enregistrement y compris des émoluments des agents est d'environ £10 et le temps nécessaire pour obtenir l'enregistrement est d'environ six semaines, et que l'enregistrement donne protection pour dix ans.

On attire l'attention au sérieux désavantage qui peut résulter du défaut d'enregistrement. Une personne qui n'est pas nécessairement le véritable propriétaire d'une marque particulière, mais qui a enregistré cette marque dans la République Argentine, peut mettre un embargo sur tous effets qui porteront cette marque, bien que ces effets puissent avoir été faits par le propriétaire primitif de la marque et introduits légitimement dans le pays. On cite le cas d'une maison canadienne qui a vendu pendant des années une marque spéciale, et constate aujourd'hui qu'elle ne peut importer ses propres effets dans la République Argentine sous cette marque parce qu'elle a été enregistrée par une maison d'importateurs de Buenos-Ayres; et en tant que le consul est informé les propriétaires primitifs n'ont d'autres recours que celui d'acheter le propriétaire local enregistré de la marque, à moins que le manufacturier n'invente et mette sur le marché une autre marque de commerce.

L'enregistrement dans la République Argentine peut s'effectuer par un agent agissant en vertu d'un fondé de pouvoir dans la forme ci-jointe, laquelle doit être certifiée par un consul de la République Argentine; et le consul de Sa Majesté à Buenos-Ayres s'est prononcé prêt à fournir le nom d'un agent de brevets compétent dans cet endroit-là.

J'ai l'honneur d'être,

Monsieur,

Votre très obéissant serviteur,

ALFRED LYTELTON.

QUARTIER GÉNÉRAL,

OTTAWA, 1er septembre 1905.

ORDONNANCES ET RÈGLEMENTS DU ROI
POUR LA MILICE DU CANADA, 1904.

O. G. 184.

Le paragraphe 537 est modifié de nouveau comme suit :—

Etat-major de commandement, le plus ancien officier de l'intendance militaire.

Tous les officiers de la Milice Active (autres que ceux des troupes permanentes) tant qu'ils tiendront la nomination de plus ancien officier de l'intendance militaire attaché à un commandement supérieur, recevront la paie de leur grade pour les jours qu'ils sont employés, avec la somme de $1 par jour par année comme "haute paie".

O. G. 185.

Le paragraphe 934 est modifié en y ajoutant le sous-paragraphe suivant :—

“Une commission de lieutenant sur le cadre des officiers de district de l'artillerie royale canadienne peut être donnée à un quartier-maître ou à un maître d'équitation, ou à un sous-officier de l'artillerie royale canadienne, ne dépassant pas 40 ans”.

La limite d'âge ci-dessus peut être étendue dans les cas suivants :—

(a) Si la promotion est due au service en campagne.
(b) Si le choix est pour un emploi extra-régimentaire dans les troupes permanentes, n'étant pas une nomination administrative, ou si la promotion a eu lieu avant d'atteindre l'âge de 40 ans au grade de sergent-major, ou à une nomination qui confère le grade de sous-officier breveté ; dans lesquels cas la limite d'âge pourra être étendue à 42.

O. G. 186.

Le paragraphe 986 est modifié de nouveau comme suit :—

Rayez les lignes 1 et 2, page 156, et substituez ce qui suit :—

Maître canonnier 2e classe (Sous-officier breveté)...	1 50	1 75	2 00
Maître-canonnier 3e classe.	1 35	1 00	1 85

Le paragraphe suivant est autorisé :—

(a) Tout sous-officier ou homme libéré à l'expiration de la durée d'enrôlement, ou par achat ou autrement, et qui se rengage subséquemment dans toute division des troupes permanentes, aura droit de compter son service antérieur pour augmentation de paie, due pour longs services, pourvu que—

(1) Qu'il ait reconnu son service passé lors de son rengagement, et

(2) Qu'il se soit rengagé sous un an de la date de sa libération.

Si un sous-officier ou homme rentre dans les troupes permanentes après un laps de plus d'un an depuis sa libération, et fait un service exceptionnellement bon pendant au moins trois ans, il lui sera permis, sur la recommandation de son officier commandant, de compter son service antérieur pour l'augmentation de paie, pourvu qu'il reconnaisse son service antérieur lors de son rengagement.

Par. 1046.—A l'expiration de la période mentionnée au par. 1045 ils seront nommés au personnel subalterne au quartier général ou aux commandements supérieurs ou de district, comme “archivistes d'état-major stagiaires” pour une période de trois mois, avec le grade provisoire de sergent archiviste d'état-major, la paie sera, durant cette période, celle d'un sergent, et en sus, une allocation de une piastre par jour au lieu de logement, rations, combustible et éclairage.

Par. 1047.—A l'expiration du stage de service mentionné au par. 1046, si le stagiaire est trouvé satisfaisant, il sera nommé sergent archiviste d'état-major, et recevra une paie collective au taux de $2.10 par jour en solde de toute paie et allocations.

S'il ne donne pas satisfaction, il recevra son congé comme impropre aux devoirs d'un archiviste d'état-major, ou, s'il le désire, il pourra transférer son service à une autre division des troupes permanentes.

Par. 1052.—Les archivistes d'état-major formeront une section distincte des troupes permanentes sous le contrôle de l'adjudant général. Ils recevront les effets d'habillement et l'équipement sur le même pied et du même modèle que ceux établis pour un sergent d'état-major du corps d'intendance militaire canadienne.

Par. 1053.—Les archivistes d'état-major seront transférés d'une station à une autre, selon les besoins du service.

O. G. 189.

La pile est destinée à supporter le phare d'où sera montré le feu antérieur commun à deux alignements, un en haut et un en bas.

Le caissonage rectangulaire avec un angle contre le courant est immergé, mais quelques œuvres mortes émergent hors de l'eau.

Les pilotes sont avertis de ralentir leur marche autant que possible en passant cette fondation et celle récemment immergée dans le lac Saint-Pierre durant les heures de travail, vu que les pilots et les sonnettes ont déjà été endommagés par les grosses vagues produites par des vaisseaux passant à pleine vitesse ces constructions temporaires.

DEMANDES AU PARLEMENT.

RÈGLES RELATIVES AUX AVIS DE BILLS PRIVÉS.

Toutes demandes, quelles qu'elles soient, adressées au Parlement pour bills privés, devront être précédées d'un avis dans la Gazette du Canada; le dit avis devra énoncer clairement et distinctement la nature et l'objet de la demande, et devra être signé par ou au nom des postulants avec les adresses des signataires; et lorsque la demande aura pour objet un acte constitutif, le nom de la compagnie projetée devra être donné dans l'avis. Et si les travaux de quelque compagnie (constituée ou à être constituée légalement) doivent être déclarés comme étant d'utilité générale, cette intention sera spécifiquement mentionnée dans l'avis; et les postulants feront adresser une copie du dit avis, par lettre chargée, au greffier de chaque municipalité qui pourra être affectée spécialement par la construction ou l'exploitation des dits travaux, et aussi au secrétaire de la province dans laquelle les dits travaux sont ou pourront être situés; et une déclaration statutaire devra constater que cette formalité a été remplie par les postulants.

SUBSTANCE DES RÈGLES ET FORMES DE PROCÉDER DU SÉNAT CONCERNANT LES BILLS DE DIVORCE.

L'époux qui a l'intention de demander un bill de divorce doit faire connaître cette intention, ainsi que les noms de l'autre époux et la cause du divorce, par

avis inséré durant six mois avant la présentation de sa pétition pour obtenir le bill, dans la Gazette du Canada et dans deux journaux du district où il avait sa résidence habituelle à l'époque de séparation d'avec son conjoint, s'il résidait alors dans la province de Québec, la Colombie-Britannique ou les territoires du Nord-Ouest,—ou du comté ou des comtés-unis, s'il résidait dans une autre province; mais si ce nombre de journaux ne s'y trouve pas, l'avis sera publié dans le district, le comté ou les comtés-unis voisins. Elle énoncera sommairement le fait du mariage, le lieu et l'époque de sa célébration, les noms du célébrant, les griefs qui donnent lieu à la demande de redressement et la nature du redressement demandé, et en outre contiendra assurance qu'il n'y a pas eu réconciliation, collusion ni connivence. Les allégations de la pétition seront appuyées de la déclaration du pétitionnaire faite en vertu de "l'Acte de la preuve en Canada, 1893".

Huit jours avant l'ouverture du Parlement, le pétitionnaire déposera au bureau du greffier du Sénat, une copie en langue anglaise ou française du bill de divorce qui doit être présenté, et en même temps une somme suffisante pour payer la traduction et l'impression et tirage à 600 exemplaires anglais et 200 exemplaires français de ce bill.

La pétition en obtention d'un bill de divorce n'est présentée que lorsque le pétitionnaire a versé au bureau du greffier du Sénat une somme de $200.

La pétition, au moment de sa présentation, doit être accompagnée de la preuve de la publication d'avis, d'une déclaration qu'il a été signifié une copie de l'avis, et d'une copie du bill qui doit être présenté.

Circular.

DOWNING STREET,
31st August, 1905.

SIR,—I have the honour to communicate to you, with a view to the attention of traders in the Colony being drawn to the matter, the following representations made by His Majesty's Consul in Buenos Aires in a dispatch to the Foreign Office, respecting the registration of Trade Marks in the Argentine Republic.

Mr. Consul Ross suggests from what has come under his notice, that the importance of registration in the Republic of marks well known and therefore valuable, is not understood or appreciated by British merchants either in the United Kingdom or in the Colonies. He states that, according to the Argentine law, it is permissible for anyone to register in the Republic a trade mark for one class or for any number of different classes of goods, provided that mark has not already been registered in that country ; that the cost of registration including agents' fees is about £10 and the time necessary to obtain registration about six weeks and that registration gives protection for ten years.

Attention is called to the serious disadvantage which may result from non-registration. A person not necessarily being the real owner of a particular trade mark, but having registered that mark in the Argentine, can lay an embargo on any goods he may find bearing that mark, although such goods may have been made by the original owner of the mark and have been legitimately introduced into the country. An instance is given of the case of a Canadian firm which has been selling for some years under a certain mark and now finds that it may not import its own goods into the Argentine Republic under that mark because it has been registered by a firm of importers in Buenos Aires; and so far as the Consul can learn there is no remedy except for the original owners to buy up the local registered owner of the mark, unless the manufacturer is prepared to invent and push another trade mark.

Registration in the Argentine Republic can be effected by an agent acting under a power of attorney in the form enclosed, which should be certified to by an Argentine consul; and His Majesty's Consul at Buenos Aires has declared his willingness to furnish the name of a reliable patent agent in that city.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient humble servant,

ALFRED LYTTTELTON.

The Officer Administering the Government of Canada.

ORDERS IN COUNCIL.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Tuesday, the 26th day of September, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report dated 25th September, 1905, from the Minister of Railways and Canals, stating that he has had under consideration the question of increasing the maximum freight mileage tariff of the Prince Edward Island Railway and he has obtained from the General Traffic Manager of Government Railways a report dated 2nd September, 1905, on the subject.

The Minister further states that from this report, which is accompanied by a comparative statement of the tariffs at present in force on the Intercolonial and the Island Railways it appears that while there is not a great difference between the 1st Class Rates of the two roads there is a material difference in the 3rd, 4th, and 5th Class Rates. The General Traffic Manager suggests that for the sake of uniformity, and also to obtain additional revenue during the winter season, the maximum rates on the Prince Edward Island Railway should be made the same as those on the Intercolonial Railway.

He observes that if this course be adopted, it does not of necessity, follow that such rates should be charged, in view of the fact of the existence of water competition with the Island Railway, which renders it necessary at times to make special rates in order to meet it.

The Minister states that the maximum freight mileage tariff at present in force on the Intercolonial Railway is that approved by the Order in Council of the 22nd January, 1898, and the maximum freight mileage tariff on the Prince Edward Island Railway is that established by the Order in Council of the 15th October, 1898.

The Minister recommends that the maximum general freight tariff established by the said Order in Council of the 15th October, 1898, be cancelled, and that in place thereof there be established for the Island Railway the same maximum freight mileage tariff as that now in force on the Intercolonial Railway as per schedule herewith, the same to come into effect on the 16th October, 1905, up to which date the existing maximum tariff shall continue in force.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Saturday, the 29th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council dated 9th November, 1889, regulations for the disposal of Dominion Lands, with the exception of those situated in the Province of British Columbia, containing minerals other than coal, were approved, which regulations included not only quartz, but also placer mining, and these regulations have from time to time been amended as regards quartz mining on Dominion Lands, and as regards placer mining in the Yukon Territory and on the North Saskatchewan River ;

And whereas the Placer Mining Regulations, established by Order in Council, dated 9th November, 1889, however, are still in force in the Provisional District of MacKenzie, and the Gold Commissioner at Dawson has reported to the Department of the Interior that considerable prospecting is now being carried on in that District and he has recommended that the matter of the Placer Mining Regulations in force in that District be settled before an important discovery is made there,—

Therefore, the Governor General in Council, in virtue of the provisions of The Dominion Lands Act, is pleased to order and doth hereby order that the regulations governing Placer Mining in the Provisional District of MacKenzie at present in force shall be and the same are hereby rescinded, and that the regulations governing placer mining in the Yukon Territory, established by Order in Council and Ordinance, dated 13th March, 1901, as amended by subsequent Orders in Council, shall be and the same are hereby substituted therefor.

Saturday, the 29th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 16th March, 1905, from the Acting Minister of the Interior, submitting that by an Order in Council, dated 21st of September, 1897, a quantity of water equal to 2,000 cubic feet per second during the low water flow of Bow River, near Calgary, in the District of Alberta, and 6,000 cubic feet per second during the high water stage of that stream, were reserved for a period not exceeding ten years from the 21st of September, 1897, in order that any person or company, who in the meantime might undertake to construct works for the irrigation of a certain tract of land in the vicinity of Bow River, might be assured of obtaining a sufficient quantity of water to irrigate the same.

The Minister states that, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company have applied, under the provisions of The North-west Irrigation Act, to construct a canal to divert from Bow River 3,000 cubic feet per second during the low water flow of that stream ; 13,000 feet per second during the high water flow of the river, and 15,000 during its flood stage ; for the irrigation of the lands in the District of Alberta referred to in the Order in Council of the 21st of September, 1897, and authorization dated the 21st of April, 1904, under the provisions of section 15 of The Irrigation Act, has been issued for the construction of the works necessary for the diversion of water from the above source of supply.

The Minister recommends that the quantity of water reserved by Order in Council, dated 21st of September, 1897, be applied as a portion of the quantity of water which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company were permitted to divert from Bow River by authorization dated 21st of April, 1904, under The Irrigation Act above referred to.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA,

Saturday, the 29th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council, dated 8th May, 1882, the respective boundaries of the five North-west Land Registration Districts therein respectively named are fixed and described.

(3) "Assiniboia Land Registration District," being composed of all that portion of that registration district as it is now composed which will be within the boundaries of the new Province of Saskatchewan.

(4) "West Saskatchewan Land Registration District," being composed of all that portion of that registration district as it is now composed which will be within the boundaries of the new Province of Saskatchewan and also all that portion of the Provisional District of Athabaska which is east of the eastern boundary of the new Province of Alberta and west of the dividing line between the tenth and eleventh ranges west of the third meridian as the said dividing line is or may be hereafter located in accordance with the Dominion Lands System of Survey, and

Clerk of the Privy Council.

[Ref. 495,891]

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Thursday, the 27th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council dated the 28th November, 1903, provision was made that the patent for a mining location in the Yukon Territory shall reserve to the Crown forever the same royalty upon the products of the location as is provided, or may hereafter be provided, in the case of placer mining claims, such royalty to be paid in the manner provided in the regulations governing placer mining ;

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 21st of May, 1902, provision is made that on all gold sought to be shipped from the Yukon Territory there shall be levied and collected a royalty of two and one-half per cent of its value, such royalty to be paid in currency to the Comptroller of the Yukon Territory or to some person duly authorized by him in that behalf, and the gold for the purpose of estimating such royalty shall be valued at $15.00 per ounce ;

And whereas it is considered expedient that the royalty collected, under the provisions of the regulations, on gold extracted by quartz mining operations, be abolished,—

Therefore, the Governor General in Council is pleased, in virtue of clause 47 of The Dominion Lands Act, as enacted by section 5 of chapter 15 of 55-56 Victoria, and of section 8 of The Yukon Territory Act, as amended by section 3 of chapter 34 of 2 Edward VII, to order and it is hereby ordered that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to abolish the collection of royalty on gold produced from any quartz claim or group of quartz claims in the Yukon Territory in respect to which expenditure of money has been made to the amount of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars, within five years after the date of the Order in Council authorizing such abolition of the collection of royalty or within five years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent for such claim, or, in case of a group of claims, within five years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent first issued for one of the claims included in such group, in developing mining and milling ore from such claim or group of claims or in otherwise treating such ore so as to obtain the gold therefrom and in respect to which claim or group of claims a suitable plant, the cost of which shall be included in estimating the amount of not less than twenty-five thousand dollars above mentioned, has been installed and put in actual operation within such five years for milling or otherwise so treating such ore, and provided that such plant is capable of milling or otherwise so treating not less than five tons of such ore per day for every claim in respect to which such plant is installed.

The Governor in Council, is further pleased to order that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to make such regulations as may seem necessary,—

(1) to provide for the issue by the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to him of the facts, in every proper case,

(a) of a certificate that certain claims specified in such certificate are entitled to be included in any such group, and

(b) of a certificate that such expenditure has been made within such years and such plant installed and put in operation, and that such plant is capable of milling or otherwise treating as aforesaid such quantities of ore as aforesaid, and

(2) to enable the officers of the Crown engaged in the collection of royalty to distinguish such gold from that produced from placer mining operations.

The Governor in Council is further pleased to order as follows :—

(1) No gold mined from any quartz claim in respect to which such certificates have been issued shall thereafter for a period of ten years be liable to pay any royalty or export tax provided that the regulations to be made as aforesaid have been fully complied with.

(2) Any attempt to defraud the Crown, by mixing placer mining gold with gold produced from quartz mining operations, shall be punished by confiscation of both the quartz and placer mining gold so mixed or sought to be mixed.

And whereas by an Order in Council dated 12th of September, 1898, provision was made that there shall be paid to the Government on the gross output of copper mined in the Yukon Territory a royalty to be fixed by the Minister of the Interior, not exceeding five per cent on such gross output, and it has been represented that the reasons advanced for the abolition of the royalty on gold produced from quartz mining apply with equal force to copper mined in the Territory, and that the abolition of such tax in the case of copper would probably result in the establishment of a smelter within the Territory.

Therefore the Governor General in Council is pleased to order as follows :—

(1) That the provisions of the Order in Council of the 12th of September, 1898, imposing a royalty on the gross output of copper mining locations in the Yukon, be amended so as to exempt from payment of royalty any copper claim or group of copper claims in respect to which expenditure of money has been made to the amount of not less than fifty thousand dollars within ten years after the date of the Order in Council authorizing such exemption, or within ten years after the date of issue hereafter of the patent for such claims or, in case of a group of claims, within ten years after the date of issue hereafter of a patent first issued for one of the claims included in such group, in developing and mining copper ore from such claim or group of claims and in reducing the copper and other metals in such ore into mattes and in respect to which claim or group of claims a suitable smelter or other plant, the cost of which shall be included in estimating the amount of not less than fifty thousand dollars above mentioned, has been installed and put in operation within such ten years for mining and so reducing such ore and provided that such smelter or other plant is capable of reducing into such mattes not less than ten tons of such ore per day for every claim in respect to which such smelter or other plant is installed, and that the Minister of the Interior be authorized to make regulations to provide for the issue by the Commissioner of the Yukon Territory, upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to him of the facts, in every case, of a certificate (a) that certain claims specified in such certificate are entitled to be included in any such group, and of a certificate (b) that such expenditure has been made within such years and such smelter or other plant has been installed and put in operation and that such smelter or other plant is capable of reducing as aforesaid such quantities as aforesaid.

(2) That no copper, gold, silver or other metal obtained from copper ore, mined from any copper claim in respect to which such certificates have been issued, shall be liable to pay any royalty or export tax provided any regulations made in regard to the mode of proof requiring to establish that such copper, gold, silver and other metals have been obtained from copper ore mined as aforesaid, are fully complied with.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 29th May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating as follows with regard to the application of Mr. J. B. Ferguson, of Vancouver, and his associates, now the Western Oil and Coal Company, hereinafter referred to as the company, for a grant to that company or to Mr. William Aldridge or his legal representatives of the north-west quarter of section 29 in Township 1, Range 30, west of 4th Meridian, and of the other lands hereafter described under the regulations approved by the Governor in Council respecting prospecting for petroleum in Dominion Lands and for the sale of such lands :—

1. That petroleum has been discovered in paying quantities by Mr. Aldridge and by the company in the north-west quarter of Section 29 in Township 1 and Range 30, west of the 4th Meridian, the first discovery having been made by Mr. Aldridge in that quarter section in 1899.

2. That although such quarter section is School Lands the company, with the full knowledge and consent of the late Minister of the Interior (the Honourable Mr. Sifton) and his Deputy (Mr. Smart) and of other officers of the Department of the Interior, having entered into an agreement (of which a copy was received in the Department of the Interior on the 8th September, 1904) with M. Aldridge for the purchasing of his interests in such quarter section and in other lands which he might be granted or be entitled to be granted under the regulations before referred to, has expended, according to solemn declarations on file in such Department, $28,000.00 and over, between the year 1903 and the present date, in placing the machinery upon the quarter section before mentioned and in the operations necessary for the proper opening up of Mr. Aldridge's and the company's discoveries.

4. That if the machinery which is now upon such lands belonged to Mr. Aldridge he would now be entitled to a grant of the surface rights of 1,920 acres of land including the said north-west quarter of Section 29 and of the petroleum therein, and that if the company had filed in the Department of the Interior an absolute and unconditional assignment executed in favour of the company by Mr. Aldridge of his interests in such lands, in accordance with his agreement with the company, the company would be entitled to such grant.

5. That as one of the provisions of the regulations before referred to is that the grant of 1,920 acres provided for by such regulations must be contiguous, one of the parcels of land which would be therefore included in such area of 1,920 acres would be the whole of fractional Section 11 in Township 1 and Range 1, west of the 5th Meridian; but that as it is also School Lands the adjoining fractional Section 2 in the same township and range has been substituted for such fractional Section 11, although it—fractional Section 2—is not contiguous to the other lands selected.

6. That before the said Section 29 can be patented to Mr. Aldridge or to the company the provisions of a Bill, or to the like effect, must be enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

7. That all the lands in question were of no commercial value until the operations of the company made them of value and that it therefore appears to the Minister of the Interior to be but just and equitable that the price of such lands and of the other lands hereafter described, making in all the total area of 1920 acres, should be the prices fixed by the regulations before referred to.

The Minister, therefore, recommends that the following parcels of land which (including the North-west quarter of Section 29 before mentioned) have been selected by the company to make the total grant of 1920 acres provided for under the regulations hereinbefore referred to, and which have been already reserved in the books of the Department of the Interior for such purpose, be reserved until an Act has been passed by the Parliament of Canada containing the provisions in a Bill, or provisions to like effect, and that letters patent for such lands be then issued by the Minister of the Interior upon the terms and prices provided by and specified in the regulations before referred to in favour of Mr. William Aldridge or his legal representatives: the north-west quarter and the south-west quarter of Section 29, the north-east quarter and the fractional south-west quarter of Section 19, all in Township 1, and Range 30, west of the 4th Meridian and the north half of Section 13, the south-east quarter of Section 23, the east half of Section 14, and all of fractional Section 2, all in Township 1 and Range 1, west of the 5th Meridian.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Thursday, the 27th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

THE Governor General in Council is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered that the Regulations for the issue of leases of Dominion Lands for grazing purposes, approved by Order in Council dated 15th February, 1905, shall be, and the same are hereby rescinded.

The Governor General in Council is further pleased to make the following Regulations for the issue of leases of Dominion Lands in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the same are hereby made and adopted accordingly :—

1. The issue of leases shall be confined to lands within the following described territory :—

Comprising that portion of the Province of Alberta which lies to the south of the north boundary of Townships numbered 28.

Comprising that portion of the Province of Saskatchewan described as follows, viz.:—Commencing at the intersection of the north boundary of Township 28 with the fourth meridian, thence easterly following the north boundary of Townships numbered 28 to the west boundary of the South Saskatchewan River, thence southerly along the said west boundary of the South Saskatchewan River to a point opposite Aiktow Creek, thence across the said South Saskatchewan River to the mouth of the said Aiktow Creek, thence up the southerly side of Aiktow Creek and across the divide between said creek and the Qu'Appelle River to the head of the said Qu'Appelle River, thence down the southerly side of the Qu'Appelle River to its intersection with the third meridian, thence southerly along the said third meridian to the north boundary of Township 12, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 12 to the west boundary of Range 24, thence southerly along the said west boundary of Range 24 to the north boundary of Township 8, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 8 to the west boundary of Range 18, thence southerly along the said west boundary of Range 18, to the north boundary of Township 4, thence easterly along the north boundary of Townships numbered 4, to the west boundary of Range 15, thence southerly along the west boundary of Range 15 to the international boundary, thence westerly along the international boundary to the fourth meridian, thence northerly along the fourth meridian to the point of commencement.

2. The term of a lease shall be for a period not exceeding twenty-one years and no lease shall cover a greater area than 100,000 acres.

3. Should the Governor in Council at any time during the term of the lease think it to be in the public interest to withdraw the lands therein described, or any portion thereof, or to cancel the lease for any reason, the Minister of the Interior may, on giving the lessee two years' notice, withdraw such lands or cancel the lease.

4. The lessee shall pay an annual rental at the rate of two cents for every acre covered by his lease, and shall within each of the three years from the date of the lease, place upon the tract of land leased not less than one-third of the whole number of the stock which is required to be placed upon the said tract, namely, one head of cattle or five head of sheep for every twenty acres of land covered by the lease, and shall, during the rest of its term, maintain cattle thereon in that proportion. The lessee will be required to furnish a return to the Department of the Interior on the 1st of July in each year showing the number of head of stock on the leasehold owned by the lessee. Should the number of stock on the leasehold, after the expiration of the period in which the lessee is required under these Regulations to have the requisite number of stock placed thereon, be less than the number mentioned in this clause, the lessee shall be liable on receiving three months' notice to have withdrawn from his leasehold an area of twenty acres for each head of stock less than the number which the Regulations provide he shall place on the leasehold.

5. Before a lease is issued it will be necessary for the applicant to either homestead land or purchase 160 acres within the tract applied for at the rate of $3.00 per acre as a home farm and corral, and the lessee will be required to place his buildings thereon within one year from the date of the lease.

6. If any of the lands leased produces hay, the lessee is not entitled to use, sell or barter the same, but the lessee may, upon applying to the Agent of Dominion Lands in whose district the land is situated, obtain in accordance with the Regulations in that behalf, the first permit free of dues, to cut so much of the hay as the lessee actually requires for the use of his own stock, provided the rental of the leasehold has been paid. The Agent may then issue permits to other applicants and the permittees will be entitled to enter upon the leasehold to cut and remove the quantity of hay specified in their permits, subject, however, to such conditions as the Minister of the Interior may think proper for the protection of the lessee.

7. Leases can only be acquired by owners of stock, and if the leasehold has been secured by misrepresentation as to the ownership of stock, or other material facts, the lease may be summarily cancelled.

8. Before an application can be considered it will be necessary for the applicant to post up notices of his applications in at least four conspicuous places on the lands applied for, and also in the nearest post office for thirty days, and make a statutory declaration of having done so. Leases may be granted for an area of land at the rate of sixty acres for each head of stock, or five sheep, of which the applicant is the owner at the time he makes his application, and a statutory declaration must be furnished as to the number of stock and the owner thereof. A report shall also be obtained by the Department of the Interior from the Inspector of Ranches that upon inspection of the land applied for he found it unfit for agricultural purposes. He shall also report as to whether, and to what extent, the land is occupied, and, if so, by whom and what improvements, if any, there are upon it; the names of the owners of stock grazing within six miles of the land applied for; the number of stock owned by each, and the location of the owners' headquarters. That in case of dispute as to the land to be leased to each owner of stock, the decision of the Minister of the Interior shall be final.

9. The frontage of a leasehold on a lake, river or creek shall not exceed one mile for every four miles in depth.

10. The lessee will not be entitled to break or drop any portion of the leasehold.

11. No person shall be allowed to place sheep on Dominion Lands except in such tracts as have already been or may at any future time be specially set apart for that purpose by the Minister of the Interior.

12. Failure to fulfil any of the conditions of his lease shall subject the lessee to forfeiture thereof.

13. The lease shall be in such form as may be determined by the Minister of the Interior, in accordance with these Regulations.

JOHN J. MCGEE,
Clerk of the Privy Council.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Saturday, the 22nd day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report dated 31st May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that a number of applications have from time to time been made to the Department of the Interior for permission to remove stone or rock from School Lands, but as there is no provision in the Regulations under which permits could be issued for this purpose, and some revenue derived for the School Lands Fund, it has been considered advisable to refuse all applications of this kind.

The Minister further states that it has however, been represented to him that it would be in the interests of the School Endowment Fund, and also in that of the public, to issue permits authorizing the removal of field stone or boulders from School Lands subject to the payment of a certain office fee and certain dues, the permit to be on the lines of the one issued for cutting hay on School Lands and Dominion Lands,—that is to say, to cover a certain number of loads of stone applied for, and to be returnable at the end of the period for which it was issued, with the affidavit of the permittee endorsed thereon as to the quantity of field stone or boulders taken from the land.

The Minister therefore recommends that authority be granted for the issue of permits to remove field stone or boulders from School Lands, subject to the following conditions,—the permit to be issued for a period of such number of months as the Minister may determine, and to be subject to an office fee of twenty-five cents, and also to dues at a rate to be determined by the Minister, to be returnable at the expiration of that period with the affidavit of the permittee endorsed thereon as to the quantity of stone or rock taken from the land.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

Clerk of the Privy Council.

Saturday, the 22nd day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report, dated 31st May, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that applications are made to the Department of the Interior from time to time for permits to explore for Petroleum on School Lands, and, while there is provision in the Regulations for the issue of permits for that purpose on Dominion Lands, there is no provision for such permits with respect to School Lands.

That the conditions of the permit to explore for Petroleum on Dominion Lands would not be applicable to School Lands for the reason that should Petroleum be found in paying quantities the purchaser is given the option, under the Dominion Lands Permit, to purchase the land at a certain rate while the Dominion Lands Act expressly provides that School Lands shall be sold at public auction only.

The Minister is of opinion, however, that it would be in the interest of the public, as well as in that of the School Lands Endowment Fund, to grant permits to explore for petroleum on School Lands for a certain period, giving the permittee the option, should he find petroleum in paying quantities, of leasing the land for a term of years, subject to a certain rental, and to the payment of a royalty to the School Lands Fund on the output of oil.

The Minister, therefore, recommends that authority be given for the issue of permits to explore for Petroleum on School Lands, subject to the following terms and conditions :—

The permit to be subject to the payment of an office fee of twenty-five cents and also to the payment of a ground rent of $5.00 for each section, or part thereof, for the period covered by the permit. The permit to be issued for a period of six months, but to be renewable at the expiration of that time at the option of the Minister of the Interior.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL

ON a Report, dated 15th July, 1905, from the Minister of the Interior, stating that applications are received from time to time by the Department of the Interior to acquire School Lands for the purpose of boring for Petroleum thereon, and as the Dominion Lands Act provides that School Lands shall only be sold by public auction, and as the regulations do not provide for the issue of leases for the purpose mentioned it has been necessary to refuse all such applications.

The Minister further states that representations, however, have been made that it would be in the interest both of the School Lands Endowment Fund and of the public to issue leases of School Lands for this purpose as a revenue would be derived therefrom for the School Lands Fund and at the same time the Petroleum industry would be encouraged.

The Minister therefore recommends that he be authorized to issue leases of School Lands for the purpose of boring for Petroleum, the lease to be issued for a term of ten years and to be subject to a rental of thirty cents per acre, payable yearly in advance, and also to a royalty of five per cent on the oil sold, the lessee to furnish sworn statements to the Department of the Interior at such time, and in such form as the Minister of the Interior may prescribe, as to the quantity of oil sold.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

WHEREAS representations have been made to the Department of the Interior that the South-west quarter of Section 28, Township 11, Range 5, west of the 4th Meridian, was valuable for stock-watering purposes ;

An whereas it has been reported that this land is situated at the crossing of a creek on a much used trail ; that the ranchers for a considerable distance north and south in driving stock along the road are in the habit of camping at this point to water their stock and to allow them to graze ; and that, under the circumstances, the Minister of the Interior regards the request made that this land be reserved a reasonable one,—

Therefore the Governor General in Council is pleased to order that the South-west quarter of Section 28, Township 11, Range 5, west of the 4th Meridian, shall be and the same is hereby reserved for stock-watering purposes.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

No. 83 of 1905.

(Atlantic Notice No. 53.)

All bearings, unless otherwise noted, are magnetic and are given from seaward, miles are nautical miles, heights are above high water, and all depths are at mean low water.

QUEBEC.

(199) RIVER ST. LAWRENCE—LAKE ST. PETER—
LOUISEVILLE RANGE—FOUNDATION FOR FRONT LIGHTHOUSE PLACED.

A cribwork foundation for a lighthouse under erection by the Government of Canada was, on the 24th August, 1905, sunk in 30 feet at low water in Louiseville bend 75 feet northerly from the position now occupied by lightship No. 2.

Lat. N. 46° 11' 26"
Long. W. 72 54 22 -

The middle of the pier is 2000 feet No. 84½° E. from the middle of the upper back pier, and 2000 feet S. 58½° W. from the middle of the lower back pier. The following sextant angles fix its position :—

Ile aux Raisins high light.....	0°
Middle of upper back pier.....	45	16'
Louiseville chimney.....	94	2
Yamachiche church.....	44	45
La Baie church.....	83	2
St. Francis chimney.....	56	39
Ile aux Raisins high light.....	36	16

The pier is intended to support the lighthouse from which the front light common to two ranges, one above and one below it, will be shown.

The rectangular cribwork with pointed upstream end is under water, but some false works shows above water.

Pilots are instructed to check their vessels down to dead slow in passing this foundation and those lately sunk in Lake St. Peter during working hours, as damage has already been done to piles and pile drivers from excessive wash produced by passing those temporary structures at full speed.

Circulaire.

DOWNING STREET,

31 août 1905.

MONSIEUR,—J'ai l'honneur de vous communiquer, dans le but d'attirer l'attention des négociants dans la colonie sur l'affaire, les représentations suivantes faites par le consul de Sa Majesté à Buenos-Ayres dans une dépêche au Foreign Office concernant l'enregistrement de marques de commerce dans la République Argentine.

M. le consul Ross suggère, d'après ce qui est venu à sa connaissance, que l'importance de l'enregistrement dans la République de marques bien connues et conséquemment de valeur, n'est pas comprise ou appréciée par les marchands britanniques soit dans le Royaume-Uni ou dans les colonies. Il dit, que la loi argentine permet à tout chacun d'enregistrer dans la République une marque de commerce pour une catégorie ou pour tout nombre de différentes catégories de marchandises, pourvu que cette marque n'ait pas déjà été enregistrée dans ce pays-là, que le coût d'enregistrement y compris des émoluments des agents est d'environ £10 et le temps nécessaire pour obtenir l'enregistrement est d'environ six semaines, et que l'enregistrement donne protection pour dix ans.

On attire l'attention au sérieux désavantage qui peut résulter du défaut d'enregistrement. Une personne qui n'est pas nécessairement le véritable propriétaire d'une marque particulière, mais qui a enregistré cette marque dans la République Argentine, peut mettre un embargo sur tous effets qui porteront cette marque, bien que ces effets puissent avoir été faits par le propriétaire primitif de la marque et introduits légitimement dans le pays. On cite le cas d'une maison canadienne qui a vendu pendant des années une marque spéciale, et constate aujourd'hui qu'elle ne peut importer ses propres effets dans la République Argentine sous cette marque parce qu'elle a été enregistrée par une maison d'importateurs de Buenos-Ayres; et en tant que le consul est informé les propriétaires primitifs n'ont d'autres recours que celui d'acheter le propriétaire local enregistré de la marque, à moins que le manufacturier n'invente et mette sur le marché une autre marque de commerce.

L'enregistrement dans la République Argentine peut s'effectuer par un agent agissant en vertu d'un fondé de pouvoir dans la forme ci-jointe, laquelle doit être certifiée par un consul de la République Argentine; et le consul de Sa Majesté à Buenos-Ayres s'est prononcé prêt à fournir le nom d'un agent de brevets compétent dans cet endroit-là.

J'ai l'honneur d'être,

Monsieur,

Votre très obéissant serviteur,

ALFRED LYTTELTON.

Le claim sera dans chaque cas disposé conformément aux prescriptions des règlements concernant les mines quartzeuses sur les terres fédérales.

(5) Que les limites au-dessous de ces concessions minières seront définies par les lignes ou plans verticaux des limites tirées à la surface.

(6) Que le requérant pour le bail fera arpenter le claim demandé à ses propres frais par un arpenteur fédéral, en conformité des instructions de l'Arpenteur général des terres fédérales, et l'original des notes et plan de cet arpentage, signés et attestés comme exacts par l'arpenteur sous serment, sera déposé au ministère avant que le bail soit délivré.

(8) Si les opérations ne sont pas commencées dans un an et le claim exploité sous deux ans après le commencement du terme du bail, et si la rente ou le droit régalien n'est pas payé tel que prescrit plus haut, le bail sera annulé et le terrain retournera à la Couronne.

La pile est destinée à supporter le phare d'où sera montré le feu antérieur commun à deux alignements, un en haut et un en bas.

Le caissonage rectangulaire avec un angle contre le courant est immergé, mais quelques œuvres mortes émergent hors de l'eau.

Les pilotes sont avertis de ralentir leur marche autant que possible en passant cette fondation et celle récemment immergée dans le lac Saint-Pierre durant les heures de travail, vu que les pilotes et les sonnettes ont déjà été endommagés par les grosses vagues produites par des vaisseaux passant à pleine vitesse ces constructions temporaires.

DEMANDES AU PARLEMENT.

RÈGLES RELATIVES AUX AVIS DE BILLS PRIVÉS.

Toutes demandes, quelles qu'elles soient, adressées au Parlement pour bills privés, devront être précédées d'un avis dans la Gazette du Canada; le dit avis devra énoncer clairement et distinctement la nature et l'objet de la demande, et devra être signé par ou au nom des postulants avec les adresses des signataires; et lorsque la demande aura pour objet un acte constitutif, le nom de la compagnie projetée devra être donné dans l'avis. Et si les travaux de quelque compagnie (constituée ou à être constituée légalement) doivent être déclarés comme étant d'utilité générale, cette intention sera spécifiquement mentionnée dans l'avis; et les postulants feront adresser une copie du dit avis, par lettre chargée, au greffier de chaque municipalité qui pourra être affectée spécialement par la construction ou l'exploitation des dits travaux, et aussi au secrétaire de la province dans laquelle les dits travaux sont ou pourront être situés; et une déclaration statutaire devra constater que cette formalité a été remplie par les postulants.

ON a Report, dated 16th March, 1905, from the Acting Minister of the Interior, submitting that by an Order in Council, dated 21st of September, 1897, a quantity of water equal to 2,000 cubic feet per second during the low water flow of Bow River, near Calgary, in the District of Alberta, and 6,000 cubic feet per second during the high water stage of that stream, were reserved for a period not exceeding ten years from the 21st of September, 1897, in order that any person or company, who in the meantime might undertake to construct works for the irrigation of a certain tract of land in the vicinity of Bow River, might be assured of obtaining a sufficient quantity of water to irrigate the same.

The Minister states that, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company have applied, under the provisions of The North-west Irrigation Act, to construct a canal to divert from Bow River 3,000 cubic feet per second during the low water flow of that stream ; 13,000 feet per second during the high water flow of the river, and 15,000 during its flood stage ; for the irrigation of the lands in the District of Alberta referred to in the Order in Council of the 21st of September, 1897, and authorization dated the 21st of April, 1904, under the provisions of section 15 of The Irrigation Act, has been issued for the construction of the works necessary for the diversion of water from the above source of supply.

The Minister recommends that the quantity of water reserved by Order in Council, dated 21st of September, 1897, be applied as a portion of the quantity of water which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company were permitted to divert from Bow River by authorization dated 21st of April, 1904, under The Irrigation Act above referred to.

14-3 JOHN J. McGEE,
Clerk of the Privy Council.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Tuesday, the 26th day of September, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

ON a Report dated 25th September, 1905, from the Minister of Railways and Canals, stating that he has had under consideration the question of increasing the maximum freight mileage tariff of the Prince Edward Island Railway and he has obtained from the General Traffic Manager of Government Railways a report dated 2nd September, 1905, on the subject.

The Minister further states that from this report, which is accompanied by a comparative statement of the tariffs at present in force on the Intercolonial and the Island Railways it appears that while there is not a great difference between the 1st Class Rates of the two roads there is a material difference in the 3rd, 4th, and 5th Class Rates. The General Traffic Manager suggests that for the sake of uniformity, and also to obtain additional revenue during the winter season, the maximum rates on the Prince Edward Island Railway should be made the same as those on the Intercolonial Railway.

He observes that if this course be adopted, it does not of necessity, follow that such rates should be charged, in view of the fact of the existence of water competition with the Island Railway, which renders it necessary at times to make special rates in order to meet it.

The Minister states that the maximum freight mileage tariff at present in force on the Intercolonial Railway is that approved by the Order in Council of the 22nd January, 1898, and the maximum freight mileage tariff on the Prince Edward Island Railway is that established by the Order in Council of the 15th October, 1898.

The Minister recommends that the maximum general freight tariff established by the said Order in Council of the 15th October, 1889, be cancelled, and that in place thereof there be established for the Island Railway the same maximum freight mileage tariff as that now in force on the Intercolonial Railway as per schedule herewith, the same to come into effect on the 16th October, 1905, up to which date the existing maximum tariff shall continue in force.

The Committee submit the same for approval.

THE BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS
FOR CANADA.Meeting at Ottawa.

Tuesday, the 25th day of July, A.D. 1905.

PRESENT :

A. C. KILLAM, K.C.,

IT IS ORDERED,

1. That, so long as the companies owning or operating railway lines in Ontario find it convenient and expedient to continue the prevailing system of computing their rates to the Canadian and United States Atlantic seaboard, on freight traffic for export, on the basis of percentages of the coexistent rates from Chicago to New York, or until otherwise ordered by the Board, the said companies shall, for the station groupings and percentages previously adopted, and now in use, substitute the following station groupings, and the following maximum percentages of the Chicago to New York rates, namely :—

Group No.

2. That when, as now, the rates to Montreal on export freight traffic from Chicago, Detroit, Port Huron and intervening points are lower than the rates in effect on the same traffic, at the same time, from the same points, to New York, then at least the same difference shall exist between the export rates from Ontario points to Montreal and the rates in effect on the same traffic, at the same time, from the same points, to New York, the rates to Montreal to be the lower; and the ordinary summer class and commodity rates to Montreal (city) shall not be exceeded on export traffic, on which the said rates shall be subject to section 252,

THE BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS FOR CANADA.

Meeting at Ottawa.

Monday, the 4th day of September, A.D. 1905.

PRESENT :

A. C. KILLAM, K.C.,
Chief Commissioner.

HON. M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,
Deputy Chief Commissioner.

JAMES MILLS, M.A., LL.D.,
Commissioner.

IN THE MATTER OF the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, hereinafter called the "Railway Companies," that the order of the Board in the matter of the complaint of the Dominion Millers' Association, dated the 25th day of July, A.D. 1905, be held in abeyance pending an opportunity to the railway companies to present to the Board the position in which they will be placed by the enforcement of the rate basis ordered.

Whereas by the said order, dated the 25th day of July, A.D. 1905, it was provided, inter alia, that certain station groupings and percentages of the Chicago to New York rates should be substituted for those previously adopted on freight traffic for export from Ontario to the Canadian and United States Atlantic seaboard,—

And whereas at the hearing had in this matter on the 29th day of August, A.D. 1905, it was represented to the Board, on behalf of the railway companies, that the said order would work a hardship and injustice to them in respect of traffic to New York and ports south thereof, and the Board was urged to approve, in lieu of the station groupings and percentages provided in said order, a new list of station groupings and percentages which they considered should govern the rates to the said port of New York and ports south thereof, the said new list being from certain groups more favorable to the railways than that embodied in the order of the Board dated 25th July, 1905, but more favorable to the public than the basis of rates heretofore charged.

Upon the report of the Chief Traffic Officer of the Board recommending the acceptance of the said new list of stations and percentages in substitution of those provided for in said order of 25th July, 1905,—

IT IS ORDERED,

That the said order of the Board, dated 25th July, A.D. 1905, be, and the same is hereby, amended by substituting, in lieu of the station groupings and percentages embodied therein, the following station groupings and percentages of the Chicago to New York rates to New York, with the customary differentials to Philadelphia and Baltimore :—

Group No.

1. Niagara Falls to Paris, Brantford, Jarvis and Niagara Peninsula..... 70%
2. East of Hamilton to Toronto, inclusive thence west along main line Grand Trunk Ry. to Berlin, and Waterloo and points south thereof not included in Group 1..... 73%
3. East of Toronto to Port Hope and Peterboro, inclusive, thence west along line Grand Trunk to Lindsay, through Manilla and Blackwater Jct. to Scarboro and Whitby and stations within that group; also north of Waterloo, Guelph, Georgetown and Brampton, including line of C. P. R. Brampton to Elora; also north of Toronto to King and Kleinburg; also north of Port Hope to Peterboro and intermediate stations. 75%
4. East of Port Hope and Peterboro to Kingston and Sharbot Lake, inclusive, and intermediate territory; Madoc Branch; west of Kleinburg to Grand Valley and Shelburne, both inclusive; also intermediate points north of Inglewood and Cataract; north of Inglewood to Alliston and Allandale, north to King to Barrie; north of Stouffville to Jackson's Point; north of Blackwater Jct. to Lorneville Jct., and west of Lindsay to Lorneville Jct., north of Lindsay to Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon; north of Peterboro to Lakefield..... 78%
5. North of Alliston to Collingwood; north of Barrie to Atherly Jct., Midland, Penetang, Collingwood; north Fenelon Falls to Haliburton; north Lorneville Jct. to Cobocoon; west of Lorneville Jct. to Orillia... 82%
6. West of Collingwood to Meaford..... 85%

The percentages from stations not included in the list given above to be the same as set forth in the order of the Board, dated 25th July, A.D. 1905.

CANON.

"That it is desirable that the laws regulating and relating to the holding, sale and transfer of freehold pews in all churches of the communion of the Church of England in the Province of Ontario should be altered and amended in the manner hereinafter mentioned, and that for such purpose the Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Canada be and is hereby requested to take the requisite steps at this session to have the necessary alterations made in the provisions in the Church Temporalities Act relating thereto, and particularly to have the following provisions inserted therein; and hereby enacts the same:—

"1. The vestry of any church may at its annual meeting on Easter Monday, or at any extraordinary meeting, specially called for such purpose, of which meeting due notice shall have been given, pass a resolution adopting the provisions hereinafter specified, and on the passing of the said resolution the said provisions shall come into force and be binding on all parties concerned, as and from the date of the passing of such resolution, or from such later date as may be named in said resolution. No transfer shall be made of any pew in the church except to the vestry, or such other body as may represent the said church. No owner of any pew in the church shall have the power to lease or sub-let such pew or any sitting therein for a longer period than eighteen months from the date of such lease. The vestry shall be entitled at any time to expropriate any pew in the church in any of the following cases:—

"(a) When the owner of the pew has died.

"(b) When at the date of the adoption of the said resolution, a period of five years shall have elapsed, during which neither the owner nor his wife, nor any one or more of his children, shall have occupied such pew.

"(c) When a period of two successive years shall have elapsed, prior to the adoption of a resolution at any such vestry meeting, as aforesaid to expropriate any particular pew in the church, during which period neither the owner thereof, nor his wife, nor any one or more of his children, has occupied the said pew.

"(d) Where the owner has ceased to belong to the communion of the Church of England.

"2. In the event of any such expropriation by the vestry the price to be paid by the vestry shall be the amount of the original purchase money paid to the vestry for such pew, together with a bonus not exceeding 50 per cent of such original purchase money, less any sum which may be due at the time of such expropriation from the owner to the vestry for ground rent in respect of such pew."

Further take notice that after publication of this notice for three months in the Canada Gazette, as required by said statute, 29-30 Victoria, chapter 15, application will be made to the Governor General in Council to have the said Canon approved by him.

COMMISSION DES CHEMINS DE FER.

COMMISSION DES CHEMINS DE FER POUR LE CANADA.

(Assemblée à Ottawa.)

Mardi, le 25^e jour de juillet, A.D. 1905.

PRÉSENTS :

A. C. KILLAM, C.R.,

Chef de la Commission.

L'honorable M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,

Chef suppléant de la Commission.

DANS L'AFFAIRE DE LA plainte de la Dominion Milers' Association, en vertu de l'Acte des chemins de fer, 1903, à la Commission, relativement aux taux exigés par la Compagnie du Grand-Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada, et la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique pour le transport de la fleur et autres produits du grain ;

La Dominion Millers' Association, la Canadian Manufacturers' Association, la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique, et la Compagnie du Grand-Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada ayant comparu par leurs représentants respectifs ; sur le rapport de l'officier-chef du trafic de la Commission et la preuve produite—

ORDONNÉ,—

1. Que, tant que les compagnies possédant ou exploitant des lignes de voies ferrées dans Ontario trouveront avantageux et à propos de continuer le présent système de baser leurs taux de transport d'exportation jusqu'aux ports de mer du Canada et des Etats-Unis, sur les pourcentages des taux co-existants de Chicago à New-York ou jusqu'à ce que la Commission en ordonne autrement, les dites compagnies substitueront les groupements de stations suivants et les pourcentages maxima suivants des taux de Chicago à New-York, aux groupements de stations et pourcentages antérieurement adoptés et aujourd'hui en usage, savoir :—

N° du groupe.

1. De Toronto à King, Kleinburg, Waterloo, Galt, Paris, Brantford et Jarvis, et la péninsule de Niagara ;
Est de Toronto jusqu'à Lindsay, Lakefield, Madoc, Kingston et Sharbot Lake. 70%
2. Nord et ouest du groupe 1 jusqu'à Bobcaygeon, Kinnmount, Cobocok, Sutton, Orillia, Alliston, Shelburne, Grand Valley, Fergus, Elmira, St. Mary's, London, St. Thomas et Port Stanley..... 73%
3. Nord et ouest du groupe 2 jusqu'à Haliburton, Midland, Penetanguishene, Collingwood, Proton, Listowel, Mount Forest, Harriston, Goderich, et les rivières St. Clair et Détroit..... 78%
4. Nord et ouest du groupe 3 jusqu'à Gravenhurst, Meaford, Markdale, Durham, Elnawood, Dunkeld, Teeswater et Wingham..... 82%
5. Nord du groupe 4 jusqu'à Emsdale, Owen Sound, Warton, Southampton et Kincardine..... 85%
6. Nord de Emsdale jusqu'à et y compris North Bay 90%

2. Que, lorsque les taux sur le fret d'exportation depuis Chicago, Détroit, Port Huron et les points intermédiaires jusqu'à Montréal sont, comme aujourd'hui, plus bas que les taux exigés pour le même fret, dans le même temps, depuis les mêmes points, jusqu'à New-York, alors la même différence existera au moins entre les taux d'exportation depuis des endroits en Ontario jusqu'à Montréal et les taux exigés pour le même fret, dans le même temps, depuis les mêmes endroits, jusqu'à New-York, les taux jusqu'à Montréal étant les plus bas ; et les taux ordinaires pour l'été et les facilités jusqu'à la ville de Montréal ne seront pas excédés sur le fret d'exportation, pour lequel les mêmes taux seront assujétis à l'article 252, paragraphe 3 de l'Acte des chemins de fer de 1903, tel que modifié par l'article 268, paragraphe 4.

3. Que les taux depuis Toronto jusqu'à Montréal, pourront, comme maxima, être appliqués depuis des endroits à l'est jusqu'à et y compris la ligne Whitby-Manilla-Lindsay ; à l'est de laquelle ligne jusqu'à et y compris la ligne Cobourg-Hastings-Norwood, les taux seront cinq pour cent moindres que depuis Toronto ; et à l'est de la dite ligne Cobourg-Hastings-Norwood jusqu'à et y compris Belleville, Ivanhoe et Madoc dix pour cent moindres que depuis Toronto. Depuis les stations à l'est de Belleville, Ivanhoe et Madoc les taux seront gradués en descendant comme dans les tarifs actuellement en force.

4. Les frais de transfert et de havre au port d'exportation seront comme de coutume, et sans disparité entre les ports, ou entre les expéditeurs ou les localités.

5. Que l'annonce et la publication des changements de taux ne seront pas effectués au détriment des expéditeurs canadiens.

6. Que les dispositions du présent arrêté devront couvrir tout le trafic d'exportation, y compris les grains et les produits des grains.

COMMISSION DES CHEMINS DE FER POUR LE CANADA.

(Assemblée à Ottawa.)

Lundi, le 4e jour de septembre, A.D. 1905.

PRÉSENTS :

A. C. KILLAM, C.R.,

Chef de la Commission.

L'honorable M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,

Chef suppléant de la Commission.

JAMES MILLS, M.A., LL.D.,

Commissaire.

DANS L'AFFAIRE DE LA demande de la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique et de la Compagnie du Grand Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada, ci-après appelées "les compagnies de chemins de fer", que l'ordre de la Commission dans l'affaire de la plainte de la Dominion Millers Association, daté le 25e jour de juillet A.D. 1905, soit tenu en suspens en attendant que les compagnies de chemin de fer aient l'occasion de présenter à la Commission la position dans laquelle elles se trouveraient si la base des taux ordonnée était mise en force ;

Considérant que par le dit ordre, daté le 25e jour de juillet A.D. 1905, il a été établi, entre autres choses, que certains groupements de stations et de pourcentages des taux depuis Chicago à New-York seraient substitués à ceux antérieurement adoptés pour le trafic du fret d'exportation depuis Ontario jusqu'aux ports de mer du Canada et des Etats-Unis ;

Et considérant qu'à l'audition de cette affaire le 29 d'août A.D. 1905, il a été représenté à la Commission, de la part des compagnies de chemins de fer, que le dit ordre leur porterait préjudice et leur ferait une injustice en ce qui concerne le trafic à New-York et aux ports au sud de là, et la Commission a été induite à approuver, au lieu des groupements de stations et des pourcentages établis dans le dit ordre, une nouvelle liste de groupements de stations et de pourcentages qu'elle considère comme devant gouverner les taux au dit port de New-York et aux ports au sud de cet endroit, la dite nouvelle liste étant depuis certains groupes plus favorable aux chemins de fer que celle incorporée dans l'ordre de la Commission daté le 25 juillet 1905, mais plus favorable au public que la base des taux exigés jusqu'à présent.

Sur le rapport de l'officier-chef du trafic de la Commission, recommandant l'acceptation de la dite nouvelle liste de stations et de pourcentages en substitution de ceux établis par l'ordre du 25 juillet 1905,

ORDONNÉ,—

Que le dit ordre de la Commission, daté le 25 juillet A.D. 1905, soit et il est par le présent modifié par la substitution, au lieu des groupements de stations et de pourcentages y incorporés, des groupements suivants de stations et de pourcentages des taux depuis Chicago à New-York, avec les taux différentiels ordinaires à Philadelphie et Baltimore :—

N° du
groupe.

1. Niagara Falls à Paris, Brantford, Jarvis et Péninsule de Niagara..... 70%
2. Est de Hamilton à Toronto, inclusivement, de là ouest le long de la ligne-mère du Grand Tronc de chemin de fer, à Berlin et Waterloo, et points au sud de là non compris dans le groupe 1..... 73%
3. Est de Toronto à Port Hope et Peterboro', inclusivement, de là ouest le long de la ligne Grand Tronc à Lindsay, traversant Manilla et Blackwater Junction à Scarborough et Whitby et les stations dans ce groupe ; aussi nord de Waterloo, Guelph, Georgetown et Brampton, y compris la ligne Canadien du Pacifique de Brampton à Elora ; aussi, nord de Toronto à King et Kleinburg ; aussi, nord de Port Hope à Peterborough et les stations intermédiaires..... 75%
4. Est de Port Hope et Peterboro' à Kingston et Sharbot Lake, inclusivement, et le territoire intermédiaire ; embranchement de Madoc ; ouest de Kleinburg à Grand Valley et Shelburne, tous deux inclusivement ; aussi, les points intermédiaires nord d'Inglewood et Cataract ; nord d'Inglewood à Alliston et Allandale, nord de King à Barrie ; nord de Stouffville à Jackson's Point ; nord de Blackwater Junction à Lorneville Junction, et ouest de Lindsay à Lorneville Junction, nord de Lindsay à Fenelon Falls et Bobcaygeon ; nord de Peterborough à Lakefield..... 78%
5. Nord d'Alliston à Collingwood ; nord de Barrie à Atherly Junction, Midland, Penetang, Collingwood ; nord de Fenelon Falls à Haliburton ; nord de Lorneville Junction à Cobocok ; ouest de Lorneville Junction à Orillia..... 82%
6. Ouest de Collingwood à Meaford..... 85%

Les pourcentages depuis stations non comprises dans la liste donnée plus haut seront les mêmes que ceux énoncés dans l'ordre de la Commission daté le 25 de juillet A.D. 1905.

ARRÊTÉS EN CONSEIL.

[Renv. 72,232A]
HOTEL DU GOUVERNEMENT À OTTAWA.
Samedi, le 29e jour de juillet 1905.
PRÉSENT :
SON EXCELLENCE LE GOUVERNEUR GÉNÉ-RAL EN CONSEIL.

IL plaît au Gouverneur général en conseil, en vertu des dispositions l'Acte des terres fédérales, chapitre 54 des Statuts Révisés du Canada, d'autoriser le ministre de l'Intérieur à émettre des baux des terres des écoles pour y exploiter des mines quartzeuses, aux conditions suivantes :—

- (1) Que le bail sera pour un terme n'excédant pas vingt ans.
- (2) Que le locataire paiera une rente foncière pour le terrain loué de trente centins par acre, cette rente devant être payée semestriellement d'avance.
- (3) Que le locataire paiera, en sus de la rente foncière, un droit régalien de cinq pour cent sur le rendement brut du claim ou de la concession ; ce droit réga-lien sera payé aux époques que fixera le ministre de l'Intérieur.

(4) Qu'un claim de mine quartzeuse qui sera loué en vertu des règlements proposés, ne comprendra pas plus que cinquante acres, sauf lorsque la demande sera faite dans le but d'extraire du fer ou du mica, alors que le bail sera pour une étendue n'excédant pas cent soixante acres. Le claim sera dans chaque cas disposé conformément aux prescriptions des règlements concernant les mines quartzeuses sur les terres fédérales.

(5) Que les limites au-dessous de ces concessions minières seront définies par les lignes ou plans verticaux des limites tirées à la surface.

(6) Que le requérant pour le bail fera arpenter le claim demandé à ses propres frais par un arpenteur fédéral, en conformité des instructions de l'Arpenteur général des terres fédérales, et l'original des notes et plan de cet arpentage, signés et attestés comme exacts par l'arpenteur sous serment, sera déposé au ministère avant que le bail soit délivré.

(8) Si les opérations ne sont pas commencées dans un an et le claim exploité sous deux ans après le commencement du terme du bail, et si la rente ou le droit régalien n'est pas payé tel que prescrit plus haut, le bail sera annulé et le terrain retournera à la Couronne.

AT THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE AT OTTAWA.

Saturday, the 29th day of July, 1905.

PRESENT :

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL
IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS by an Order in Council dated 9th November, 1889, regulations for the disposal of Dominion Lands, with the exception of those situated in the Province of British Columbia, containing minerals other than coal, were approved, which regulations included not only quartz, but also placer mining, and these regulations have from time to time been amended as regards quartz mining on Dominion Lands, and as regards placer mining in the Yukon Territory and on the North Saskatchewan River ;

And whereas the Placer Mining Regulations, established by Order in Council, dated 9th November, 1889, however, are still in force in the Provisional District of MacKenzie, and the Gold Commissioner at Dawson has reported to the Department of the Interior that considerable prospecting is now being carried on in that District and he has recommended that the matter of the Placer Mining Regulations in force in that District be settled before an important discovery is made there,—

Therefore, the Governor General in Council, in virtue of the provisions of The Dominion Lands Act, is pleased to order and doth hereby order that the regulations governing Placer Mining in the Provisional District of MacKenzie at present in force shall be and the same are hereby rescinded, and that the regulations governing placer mining in the Yukon Territory, established by Order in Council and Ordinance, dated 13th March, 1901, as amended by subsequent Orders in Council, shall be and the same are hereby substituted therefor.

THE BOARD OF RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS FOR CANADA.

Meeting at Ottawa.

Monday, the 4th day of September, A.D. 1905.

PRESENT :

A. C. KILLAM, K.C.,
Chief Commissioner.

HON. M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,
Deputy Chief Commissioner,

JAMES MILLS, M.A., LL.D.,
Commissioner.

IN THE MATTER OF the application of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, hereinafter called the "Railway Companies," that the order of the Board in the matter of the complaint of the Dominion Millers' Association, dated the 25th day of July, A.D. 1905, be held in abeyance pending an opportunity to the railway companies to present to the Board the position in which they will be placed by the enforcement of the rate basis ordered.

Whereas by the said order, dated the 25th day of July, A.D. 1905, it was provided, inter alia, that certain station groupings and percentages of the Chicago to New York rates should be substituted for those previously adopted on freight traffic for export from Ontario to the Canadian and United States Atlantic seaboard,—

And whereas at the hearing had in this matter on the 29th day of August, A.D. 1905, it was represented to the Board, on behalf of the railway companies, that the said order would work a hardship and injustice to them in respect of traffic to New York and ports south thereof, and the Board was urged to approve, in lieu of the station groupings and percentages provided in said order, a new list of station groupings and percentages which they considered should govern the rates to the said port of New York and ports south thereof, the said new list being from certain groups more favorable to the railways than that embodied in the order of the Board dated 25th July, 1905, but more favorable to the public than the basis of rates heretofore charged.

Upon the report of the Chief Traffic Officer of the Board recommending the acceptance of the said new list of stations and percentages in substitution of those provided for in said order of 25th July, 1905,—

IT IS ORDERED,

That the said order of the Board, dated 25th July, A.D. 1905, be, and the same is hereby, amended by substituting, in lieu of the station groupings and percentages embodied therein, the following station groupings and percentages of the Chicago to New York rates to New York, with the customary differentials to Philadelphia and Baltimore :—

Group No.

1. Niagara Falls to Paris, Brantford, Jarvis and Niagara Peninsula..... 70
2. East of Hamilton to Toronto, inclusive thence west along main line Grand Trunk Ry. to Berlin, and Waterloo and points south thereof not included in Group 1..... 73%
3. East of Toronto to Port Hope and Peterboro, inclusive, thence west along line Grand Trunk to Lindsay, through Manilla and Blackwater Jet. to Scarboro and Whitby and stations within that group; also north of Waterloo, Guelph, Georgetown and Brampton, including line of C. P. R. Brampton to Elora; also north of Toronto to King and Kleinburg; also north of Port Hope to Peterboro and intermediate stations. 75%
4. East of Port Hope and Peterboro to Kingston and Sharbot Lake, inclusive, and intermediate territory; Madoc Branch; west of Kleinburg to Grand Valley and Shelburne, both inclusive; also intermediate points north of Inglewood and Cataract; north of Inglewood to Alliston and Allandale, north to King to Barrie; north of Stouffville to Jackson's Point; north of Blackwater Jet. to Lorneville Jet., and west of Lindsay to Lorneville Jet., north of Lindsay to Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon; north of Peterboro to Lakefield..... 78%
5. North of Alliston to Collingwood; north of Barrie to Atherly Jet., Midland, Penetang, Collingwood; north Fenelon Falls to Haliburton; north Lorneville Jet. to Cobocok; * west of Lorneville Jet. to Orillia... 82%
6. West of Collingwood to Meaford..... 85%

The percentages from stations not included in the list given above to be the same as set forth in the order of the Board, dated 25th July, A.D. 1905.

L'honorable M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,
Chef suppléant de la Commission.

DANS L'AFFAIRE DE LA plainte de la Dominion Millers' Association, en vertu de l'Acte des chemins de fer, 1903, à la Commission, relativement aux taux exigés par la Compagnie du Grand-Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada, et la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique pour le transport de la fleur et autres produits du grain ;

La Dominion Millers' Association, la Canadian Manufacturers' Association, la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique, et la Compagnie du Grand-

Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada ayant comparu par leurs représentants respectifs ; sur le rapport de l'officier-chef du trafic de la Commission et la preuve produite—

ORDONNÉ,—

1. Que, tant que les compagnies possédant ou exploitant des lignes de voies ferrées dans Ontario trouveront avantageux et à propos de continuer le présent système de baser leurs taux de transport d'exportation jusqu'aux ports de mer du Canada et des Etats-Unis, sur les pourcentages des taux co-existants de Chicago à New-York ou jusqu'à ce que la Commission en ordonne autrement, les dites compagnies substitueront les groupements de stations suivants et les pourcentages maxima suivants des taux de Chicago à New-York, aux groupements de stations et pourcentages antérieurement adoptés et aujourd'hui en usage, savoir :—

N° du
groupe.

COMMISSION DES CHEMINS DE FER POUR LE CANADA.

(Assemblée à Ottawa.)

Lundi, le 4e jour de septembre, A.D. 1905.

PRÉSENTS :

A. C. KILLAM, C.R.,
Chef de la Commission.
L'honorable M. E. BERNIER, LL.D.,
Chef suppléant de la Commission.
JAMES MILLS, M.A., LL.D.,
Commissaire.

DANS L'AFFAIRE DE LA demande de la Compagnie de chemin de fer Canadien du Pacifique et de la Compagnie du Grand Tronc de chemin de fer du Canada, ci-après appelées "les compagnies de chemins de fer", que l'ordre de la Commission dans l'affaire de la plainte de la Dominion Millers Association, daté le 25e jour de juillet A.D. 1905, soit tenu en suspens en attendant que les compagnies de chemin de fer aient l'occasion de présenter à la Commission la position dans laquelle elles se trouveraient si la base des taux ordonnée était mise en force ;

Considérant que par le dit ordre, daté le 25e jour de juillet A.D. 1905, il a été établi, entre autres choses, que certains groupements de stations et de pourcentages des taux depuis Chicago à New-York seraient substitués à ceux antérieurement adoptés pour le trafic du fret d'exportation depuis Ontario jusqu'aux ports de mer du Canada et des Etats-Unis ;

Et considérant qu'à l'audition de cette affaire le 29 d'août A.D. 1905, il a été représenté à la Commission, de la part des compagnies de chemins de fer, que le dit ordre leur porterait préjudice et leur ferait une injustice en ce qui concerne le trafic à New-York et aux ports au sud de là, et la Commission a été induite à approuver, au lieu des groupements de stations et des pourcentages établis dans le dit ordre, une nouvelle liste de groupements de stations et de pourcentages qu'elle considère comme devant gouverner les taux au dit port de New-York et aux ports au sud de cet endroit, la dite nouvelle liste étant depuis certains groupes plus favorable aux chemins de fer que celle incorporée dans l'ordre de la Commission daté le 25 juillet 1905, mais plus favorable au public que la base des taux exigés jusqu'à présent.

Sur le rapport de l'officier-chef du trafic de la Commission, recommandant l'acceptation de la dite nouvelle liste de stations et de pourcentages en substitution de ceux établis par l'ordre du 25 juillet 1905,

ORDONNÉ,—

Que le dit ordre de la Commission, daté le 25 juillet A.D. 1905, soit et il est par le présent modifié par la substitution, au lieu des groupements de stations et de pourcentages y incorporés, des groupements suivants de stations et de pourcentages des taux depuis Chicago à

New-York, avec les taux différentiels ordinaires à Philadelphie et Baltimore :—

N° du
groupe.

1. Niagara Falls à Paris, Brantford, Jarvis et Péninsule de Niagara 70%
2. Est de Hamilton à Toronto, inclusivement, de là ouest le long de la ligne-mère du Grand Tronc de chemin de fer, à Berlin et Waterloo, et points au sud de là non compris dans le groupe 1. 73%
3. Est de Toronto à Port Hope et Peterboro', inclusivement, de là ouest le long de la ligne Grand Tronc à Lindsay, traversant Manilla et Blackwater Junction à Scarborough et Whitby et les stations dans ce groupe ; aussi nord de Waterloo, Guêlph, Georgetown et Brampton, y compris la ligne Canadien du Pacifique de Brampton à Elora ; aussi, nord de Toronto à King et Kleinburg ; aussi, nord de Port Hope à Peterborough et les stations intermédiaires. 75%
4. Est de Port Hope et Peterboro' à Kingston et Sharbot Lake, inclusivement, et le territoire intermédiaire ; embranchement de Madoc ; ouest de Kleinburg à Grand Valley et Shelburne, tous deux inclusivement ; aussi, les points intermédiaires nord d'Inglewood et Cataract ; nord d'Inglewood à Alliston et Allandale, nord de King à Barrie ; nord de Stouffville à Jackson's Point ; nord de Blackwater Junction à Lorneville Junction, et ouest de Lindsay à Lorneville Junction, nord de Lindsay à Fenelon Falls et Bobeaygeon ; nord de Peterborough à Lakefield 78%
5. Nord d'Alliston à Collingwood ; nord de Barrie à Atherly Junction, Midland, Penetang, Collingwood ; nord de Fenelon Falls à Haliburton ; nord de Lorneville Junction à Cobocok ; ouest de Lorneville Junction à Orillia. 82%
6. Ouest de Collingwood à Meaford 85%

Les pourcentages depuis stations non comprises dans la liste donnée plus haut seront les mêmes que ceux énoncés dans l'ordre de la Commission daté le 25 de juillet A.D. 1905.

DEMANDES AU PARLEMENT.

RÈGLES RELATIVES AUX AVIS DE BILLS PRIVÉS.

Toutes demandes, quelles qu'elles soient, adressées au Parlement pour bills privés, devront être précédées d'un avis dans la Gazette du Canada; le dit avis devra énoncer clairement et distinctement la nature et l'objet de la demande, et devra être signé par ou au nom des postulants avec les adresses des signataires; et lorsque la demande aura pour objet un acte constitutif, le nom de la compagnie projetée devra être donné dans l'avis. Et si les travaux de quelque compagnie (constituée ou à être constituée légalement) doivent être déclarés comme étant d'utilité générale, cette intention sera spécifiquement mentionnée dans l'avis; et les postulants feront adresser une copie du dit avis, par lettre chargée, au greffier de chaque municipalité qui pourra être affectée spécialement par la construction ou l'exploitation des dits travaux, et aussi au secrétaire de la province dans laquelle les dits travaux sont ou pourront être situés; et une déclaration statutaire devra constater que cette formalité a été remplie par les postulants.

Outre l'avis à publier dans la Gazette du Canada susdite, un avis semblable devra aussi être publié dans quelque journal important, comme suit :—

4. Une compagnie de banque; une compagnie d'assurance; une compagnie de fidéicommis; une compagnie de prêt; ou une compagnie industrielle, sans pouvoirs exclusifs quelconques :— Dans la Gazette du Canada seulement.

B. Lorsque la demande sera aux fins d'amender un acte existant,—

3. Pour l'extension des pouvoirs d'une compagnie (lorsqu'ils n'entraîneront pas l'octroi de quelques droits exclusifs); ou pour l'augmentation ou la réduction du capital social de quelque compagnie; ou pour augmenter ou modifier ses pouvoirs pour émettre des obligations ou pour faire des emprunts, ou pour quelque amendement pouvant affecter les droits ou intérêts des actionnaires ou porteurs d'obligations ou créanciers de la compagnie :— Dans la localité où est situé le siège de la compagnie.

Après la seconde lecture et avant la prise en considération du bill par tout comité, le pétitionnaire aura aussi à payer au greffier du Sénat, ou au comptable de la Chambre des Communes (selon le cas) un honoraire de $200, plus une somme suffisante pour défrayer le coût de l'impression de l'acte dans les Statuts. L'honoraire de $200 ne sera payé que dans la Chambre où le bill a pris naissance; mais les frais de réimpression et de traduction seront payés dans la Chambre où ces frais sont encourus.

(a.) Une carte ou plan à l'échelle de pas moins d'un demi-pouce au mille, indiquant le territoire sur lequel l'on se propose de construire les travaux projetés, ainsi que les lignes de travaux analogues existants ou autorisés dans les limites du district, ou partie du district que la ligne projetée doit desservir, ou affectant le dit district en aucune manière; cette carte ou plan devra être signé par l'ingénieur ou toute autre personne qui l'aura faite;

THOMAS B. FLINT,
Greffier des Communes.

SUBSTANCE DES RÈGLES ET FORMES DE PROCÉDER DU SÉNAT CONCERNANT LES BILLS DE DIVORCE.

L'époux qui a l'intention de demander un bill de divorce doit faire connaître cette intention, ainsi que les noms de l'autre époux et la cause du divorce, par

avis inséré durant six mois avant la présentation de sa pétition pour obtenir le bill, dans la Gazette du Canada et dans deux journaux du district où il avait sa résidence habituelle à l'époque de séparation d'avec son conjoint, s'il résidait alors dans la province de Québec, la Colombie-Britannique ou les territoires du Nord-Ouest,—ou du comté ou des comtés-unis, s'il résidait dans une autre province; mais si ce nombre de journaux ne s'y trouve pas, l'avis sera publié dans le district, le comté ou les comtés-unis voisins. Dans les provinces de Québec et de Manitoba, les insertions seront faites dans un journal anglais et un journal français, s'il en existe des deux langues dans le district: autrement, elles se feront en anglais et en français au même journal.

Il doit être signifié, à la diligence de l'époux pétitionnaire, un mois au moins avant la présentation de la pétition, une copie de cet avis à l'autre époux en personne, si cela est possible.

Aucune pétition en divorce n'est reçue après l'expiration des trente premiers jours de la session.

Toute pétition en divorce devra être écrite lisiblement et porter la signature du pétitionnaire. Elle énoncera sommairement le fait du mariage, le lieu et l'époque de sa célébration, les noms du célébrant, les griefs qui donnent lieu à la demande de redressement et la nature du redressement demandé, et en outre contiendra assurance qu'il n'y a pas eu réconciliation, collusion ni connivence. Les allégations de la pétition seront appuyées de la déclaration du pétitionnaire faite en vertu de "l'Acte de la preuve en Canada, 1893".

Huit jours avant l'ouverture du Parlement, le pétitionnaire déposera au bureau du greffier du Sénat, une copie en langue anglaise ou française du bill de divorce qui doit être présenté, et en même temps une somme suffisante pour payer la traduction et l'impression et tirage à 600 exemplaires anglais et 200 exemplaires français de ce bill.

La pétition en obtention d'un bill de divorce n'est présentée que lorsque le pétitionnaire a versé au bureau du greffier du Sénat une somme de $200.

SAML. E. ST. O. CHAPLEAU, Greffier du Sénat.

avis inséré durant six mois avant la présentation de sa pétition pour obtenir le bill, dans la Gazette du Canada et dans deux journaux du district où il avait sa résidence habituelle à l'époque de séparation d'avec son conjoint, s'il résidait alors dans la province de Québec, la Colombie-Britannique ou les territoires du Nord-Ouest,—ou du comté ou des comtés-unis, s'il résidait dans une autre province; mais si ce nombre de journaux ne s'y trouve pas, l'avis sera publié dans le district, le comté ou les comtés-unis voisins. Les allégations de la pétition seront appuyées de la déclaration du pétitionnaire faite en vertu de "l'Acte de la preuve en Canada, 1893".

Huit jours avant l'ouverture du Parlement, le pétitionnaire déposera au bureau du greffier du Sénat, une copie en langue anglaise ou française du bill de divorce qui doit être présenté, et en même temps une somme suffisante pour payer la traduction et l'impression et tirage à 600 exemplaires anglais et 200 exemplaires français de ce bill.
